This board consists of four members on a per diem basis and two employees. Its cost for the coming biennium is set at $13,908 as against $14,853 for the present biennium.

In considering the work of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, as a whole, we came to the following conclusions:

With regard to the old line boards, that is, Board of Medical Examiners, Board of Dental Examiners and Board of Pharmacy, it is apparent that these boards are, in fact, operating independently at the present time and therefore do not need the supervision or the administration of the department. The only question remaining, therefore, is whether the central accounting system which the department maintains and which covers the accounting work of these three boards, among others, justifies the existence of the department. When we consider the amount of accounting done and the added fact that it could be done by the simple addition of three accountants working in the Controller's office, we must come to the conclusion that as far as the Medical, Dental and Pharmacy Boards are concerned, the operation of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards is entirely superfluous.

We come next to the second group of boards, consisting of: Board of Accountancy, Board of Architectural Examiners, Registrar of Civil Engineers, Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers, Board of Optometry and Board of Veterinary Medicine. These boards are primarily examining boards. They have no common purpose except to promote the standards in the various professions and vocations which they represent. It is rather difficult to see why these boards need any governmental supervision. A centralized accounting system for these boards is highly desirable. Thus, we believe, could be applied in at least two important things: through the controller's office as it is under the present system, possibly necessary. The conclusion must be that as far as these boards are concerned there is no necessity for the existence of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

This leaves for consideration the three new boards, that is, Board of Higher Examiners, Board of Cosmetology and the Registrar of Contractors. This committee has already recommended the abolition of these three boards as being superfluous and outside the proper range of governmental activity. The establishment of these boards would intrinsically, of course, mean the abandonment of any need of governmental action then.

The committee, therefore, sees no reason for the retention of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards and recommends that said department be abolished.

An alternative recommendation would be to reduce the department to one more than these committees, to handle a central accounting and financial affairs office and to have the Governor appoint an ex-officio department head to act as a liaison point between the various boards and the Governor's office without direct control.

REPORT NUMBER FOURTEEN

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

The University of California is an independent agency of State government, administered by a Board of Regents. The present budget allows $17,000,000. The budget for the State 80% fiscal year allows $14,000,000, or showing a reduction of 15 per cent for salary.

In addition to the State appropriation, the university will receive an estimated amount of $6,500,000 from endowments, including from donations.

Due to the fact that the university is administered by a Board of Regents, further economy in expenditures of the university must be achieved by a further reorganization, and the committee will make such general recommendations.

Ownership of real property

The university, through gifts and purchases, has acquired considerable real property throughout the State which is not used for educational purposes but farmed or leased with the hope of profiting therefrom. This property is owned by the university. As a matter of public policy, it is recommended that whenever the highest possible return and it is possible under the terms of the gift, the university should dispose of this property.

Salaries

The university employs approximately 4900 persons, with a financial year ending approximately $15,000,000. We find that 7% of the employees receive compensation from more than one position in the university, and more than one source of compensation from other sources of the government. We recommend that this practice be discontinued, and that employees receive only one salary for whatever duties may be performed.

As the major portion of the expenditures of the university is devoted to salaries, it is impossible to effect any substantial savings without either reducing personnel or reducing salaries. It is believed that the first one is impracticable by increasing teacher load, and the second by reducing the same personnel to the salary of the other State employees. In both instances the result of making reductions effective should be left to the discretion of the Board of Regents.

The following table shows the number of university officers and employees receiving salaries of $5,000 or more per year at present:

Nonresident tuition fees.

The university follows the practice of charging tuition fees to nonresident students and foreign students on the theory that such students should not be educated at the expense of the California taxpayer. In order to attract students of outstanding ability, and to bring a certain amount of prestige to the university, a practice has grown up of waiving these fees.

In 1931-1932 there were 846 nonresident graduate students registered at Berkeley. Of this number 477 were exempt from nonresident fees and 368 from all fees. It is felt that the high standing and world-wide recognition of the university as an educational center has prevented the necessity of it ever existing, of making this concession in order to attract students.

It is therefore recommended that the very liberal policy of these so called tuition scholarships be discontinued, and if the recommendation is followed the biennial saving to the taxpayer should be approximately $80,000.

Extension courses.

For many years the university has conducted extension courses, both by correspondence and field work. In 1931-1932 the university budget allowed approximately $237,000 for the support of these courses. During this period revenue from such courses produced approximately $280,000.

It is recommended that the schedule of fees, and the arrangement of courses, be so adjusted as to make this extension service self supporting. It is believed that an additional $50,000 per biennium, in revenue, could be secured without any difficulty.

Tuition fees.

Inasmuch as the ability of the public to support free education has been materially reduced while at the same time the scope of educational activities has increased materially in recent years, it is believed by many that a reasonable solution would be to charge a greater portion of the cost of collegiate education to the individuals benefited. Either the cost of higher education, whether it be in the university, teachers colleges or junior colleges, must be reduced or those receiving direct benefits must assume part of the burden. As a general policy, therefore, serious consideration should be given to the feasibility of a system of tuition fees in all State-supported collegiate institutions. The system of fees should be arranged with the view of discouraging prospective students whose interest in self betterment is not sufficiently developed to cause them to make a personal sacrifice. Moreover a plan of tuition scholarships should be designed for the purpose of assisting needy students showing unusual promise of success.

For many years, the university has charged fees of different types, some of which are actually tuition fees, as in the case of the professional schools. An incidental fee ranging from $12.50 to $25 per semester is charged all students. In the Medical School, for example, students are charged a tuition fee of $100 per semester plus a $25 incidental fee. It is believed that greater emphasis should be placed on tuition fees in other departments of the university.

It is recommended that the university consider the establishment of a schedule of tuition fees in its academic departments, amounting, it is suggested, to $25 per semester for lower division students, and $50 per semester for upper division and graduate students, including the present incidental fees. It is further recommended that a liberal system of tuition scholarships be devised for the purpose of assisting deserving students of limited means. The net income from such tuition fees would probably exceed $500,000 a biennium, allowing a liberal portion of such revenue for the payment of tuition scholarships.

Agricultural extension.

In addition to the regular extension courses given by the university, the College of Agriculture maintains an agricultural extension service. This activity constitutes a means by which the instructional and research facilities of the university can be made available to the rural population of the State. Its biennial cost approximates $1,200,000. Of this amount approximately $400,000 is provided by the Federal government, while the remaining $800,000 is appropriated by the State. In addition, the counties contribute towards the field expenses of farm advisers and home demonstration workers.

This service, especially the work of the farm advisers, possesses high economic value to the agricultural industry of the State, but limitation of public funds makes it necessary to curtail activities wherever possible. The committee appreciates the convenience of having farm advisers available for consultation and the social benefits derived from home demonstration meetings. Relatively speaking, however, it should be more important to society to retain prisoners behind the walls of San Quentin or to maintain public schools, than to sustain out of general taxation such activities as home demonstration in which women in rural areas are taught how to raise children, plant flower gardens, preserve fruits and vegetables, paint furniture and prepare well balanced meals. With tax relief the crying need, it does not seem reasonable to spend public funds to send unmarried home demonstration agents into rural areas to teach farmers' wives how to raise children or prepare meals.

General considerations.

Beyond a doubt the university could profitably spend any given amount in the field of research, for the field is almost without limit. By virtue of the very definition of research, it generally involves delving into unexplored fields with uncertain results in view. Although the committee appreciates the necessity of this activity as a part of the make-up of any center of higher learning, it urges that expenditures devoted to this purpose be reduced to a minimum. Research, it seems, should be confined to the most necessary projects and this work should be assigned only to those who are best fitted to conduct this type of work. It is reported that many faculty members engage in research because of a desire to add to their prestige and salary status rather than because of special aptitude. Examination of the catalogue of university publications [reflecting the existence of interuniversity research exchange subjects of quantitative literature], which explains the growth of interest. Included among the publications of the University Library is "Wang Guoqiang's Use of Past Tenses in Chinese," "New Sayings of Poem from Poems," "Behavior of the Learning Society," "Thoughts on Semantic Fields in Chinese," "Nonlinear Wave Equations in Calibrated Phase Space," and "The Relationship of Rhythm in the Composition of Four Sections of Waiting for Godot With Other Recurring External Conditions." And so on.

In brief, it seems that if the university examined its attention to and assumed responsibility for the State, it would be able to carry out its purpose as a State institution. The committee, aware of the duty of the university and its dependence on the public, must call on the State for the financial condition of State colleges and for the general situation.

The Veterans' Welfare Board was created in 1921. From that time to the present there has been redeemed to date $1,575,000, leaving a balance of $40,127,000. The money has been obligated and there are now $1,000,000 of bonds outstanding and purchase contracts outstanding.

In the report of the Veterans' Welfare Board, as of June 30, 1932, it is stated

The second step in the history of voluntary thinking is the creation of public policy. The State, in this case, has been extremely successful in creating a culture as well as an economic landscape.

The total amount of money delinquency on the home contracts is $344,406.16. Of the $44,000,000 in total contracts, $44,000,000 is $6.67.

The total amount of money delinquency on the home contracts is $344,406.16. Of the $44,000,000 in total contracts, $44,000,000 is $6.67.

While this percentage of domestic young adults is by far the largest, nearly half of the home countries of immigrants have a percentage of 80.0-29.9% and another 10% of the farm countries are between 75.80-84.9%. Most of these countries are some of the short period of growth followed by decline, and are considered as developing, although they are classified as more or less rich.

A further bond issue is NONCONFORMING to the law. Facing the economic crisis when the price of the State will probably be considerably increased, such a bond issue is not unreasonable.

It is doubtful if any further gains can be made in the sound. When it is considered that the average age of the horses that the breeders run is 20 years, it is evident that the industry is in a state of decline.

The fund is being efficiently and well administered, and those responsible are using every effort to discharge the trust reposed in them.

If all of the contractors now participating are paid by the government, to avoid any with the terms of the contract, there should be a substantial effort to be referred to the ex server man, who has participated under these issues before any final is made.

There has been considerable difficulty with the matter of the return of property covered by veteran's contracts. The assessors' committee of California, representatives of the various veterans' organizations, and the State Board of Equalization met in April, 1932, and agreed upon a tentative method of assessment of the economic impact of necessary protection, as follows:

For the first five-year period	50	per cent
For the second five-year period	67	per cent
For the third five-year period	85	per cent
For the fourth five-year period	85	per cent

Your committee does not know to what extent this method of assessment has been followed, but believes it to be fair, both to the veteran and to the county, and therefore recommends its universal adoption.

State Athletic Commission.

The initiative act creating this commission, for the purpose of regulating boxing and wrestling, is supported by license fees and a 5 per cent tax on gross receipts from exhibitions. The amount allowed for administration purposes is limited to $40,000 a year. The balance of the revenue is dedicated to construction at the Veterans' Home at Yountville. The commission has kept within its allowance. The principle of limiting in the act the amount that can be expended for administration would seem to be a sound governmental policy to follow, as the general practice in the so-called self-supporting agencies seems to be to create an unjustifiable administrative overhead.

Your committee's attention has been called to what would appear to be an abuse in the use of inspectors. This matter has been fully covered in the Report of the Assembly Committee to Investigate and Report upon Boxing and Wrestling in California, recently submitted to the Legislature, commencing at page 16. Your committee concurs in the recommendations contained therein, with reference to inspectors.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT NUMBER SIXTEEN.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE ON THE DEPARTMENT OF INSTITUTIONS.

To the Honorable Frank P. Merriam, President, and to the Members of the Senate of the State of California.

Upon further investigation into the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind the committee begs leave to amend our first report, which recommended the abolition of the custodial features of this home. We now recommend that the custodial features be retained, and that the budget set up for the home be reduced to a sum not in excess of $142,000. This will mean a saving of approximately $14,000 for the biennium, without taking into consideration our general salary reduction plan to be applied to all State employees.

This reduced budget will bring the annual cost per inmate to the sum of approximately $426 per inmate, which we find to be the average cost to the State and the counties of supplying aid to the needy blind.

We wish to call attention to the fact that the item set up in the Governor's budget for the support of the home, and which is listed as "Field Instruction and Rehabilitation," and carrying an appropriation of $32,100 for the biennium, has nothing whatever to do with the Industrial Home for the Blind. This division confines its activities solely to the supervising of work, and the educating of the blind throughout the State, and has no connection whatever with the home. This item should not be charged against the cost of maintaining the home.

Elimination of this item will bring the average inmate cost down to the sum of $466 per inmate, in place of the annual cost of $589 per inmate as set up in the Governor's budget. Further budget reductions will bring this cost down to $426 per patient, as mentioned above.

Hospitals.

We attach herewith a table showing the various costs of maintaining our institutions for the insane, correctional schools, prisons, and the Home for the Adult Blind. A careful study of these figures should give our officials much information as to where economies could be effected, and where salaries could be equalized. We are well aware of the fact that extenuating circumstances may enter into the picture and cause the excess load of employees in some institutions, and therefore the large cost per patient. Yet we feel that a careful checking of one institution against another will show where costs may be reduced in some institutions without injuring the efficiency of the institution.

The institutions are grouped into three classes—hospitals, correctional schools (to which has been added the Industrial Home for the Blind), and the prisons. In each grouping the figure showing the greatest amount of reduction in costs has been used to figure the comparative costs in other institutions.

A careful checking of the matter of maintenance furnished the employees of these institutions leads us to believe that no savings would be made by placing the employees upon a flat salary, and then deducting the cost of maintenance when furnished by the State. However, in the matter of superintendents, medical staff, and other officials of these institutions who are furnished with houses and servants, we think that considerable savings could be made by placing them on a flat salary and deducting the cost of any maintenance furnished, other than the dwelling in which they are housed. If the State is unable to furnish housing for these officials then they should be allowed a cash maintenance of not to exceed $30 per month, in addition to their salaries.

REPORT NUMBER SEVENTEEN.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Department of Public Works was created in 1927 and consists of the following divisions:

- Division of Highways.
- Division of Architecture.
- Division of Water Resources.
- Division of Ports.

The Division of Highways is a so-called self-supporting agency.

The Divisions of Water Resources and Architecture are supported for the most part from the general fund. The Division of Ports is a very small division and consists of a Surveyor of the Port at Eureka and a Surveyor of the Port at San Diego Harbor. The total cost of this division is $6,340 for the biennium and it is largely self-supporting.

The Division of Highways completely overshadows the other three divisions in the department in expenditures and public interest.

The divisions have nothing in common except that they all, with the Division of Ports, relate to different types of State construction and engineering services.

The logical function of the department administrative staff would seem to be that of coordinating the work of the various divisions and act as a connecting link between them and the Governor's office. However, in practice, the department seems to be mainly a sort of administrative head of the Division of Highways. Probably 95 per cent of the time of the director and his staff is devoted to highway problems. The department has an administrative personnel of ten, consisting of a director at a salary of $10,000 a year, a deputy director at a salary of $5,400 per annum and eight other employees. The cost of this administrative service as set up in the budget for the forthcoming biennium is $83,220. This is all charged against the general fund, but at least 95 per cent of the time of the director and his staff is taken up with the work of the Division of Highways, which is a special fund agency supported by gas tax and motor vehicle funds. It seems obvious that under the above conditions, the cost of this activity should be charged against highway funds rather than against the general fund. Inasmuch as the Division of Highways, the Division of Architecture and the Division of Water Resources each has its own complete organization and administrative staff and acts more or less independently and as complete units, it would seem that the cost of the general departmental administration furnished by the Director of Public Works and his staff is higher than necessary and that both the personnel and the cost of this activity could be decreased considerably.

Division of Architecture.

The Division of Architecture is the outgrowth of the State Architect's office which was created in 1907. The original function of the Division of Architecture was to design, plan and supervise the construction of all State building except highways, reclamation and flood control works and building done by the University of California and the Board of Harbor Commissioners of San Francisco. In 1929, the law was amended to allow the employment of private architects on State building projects, and in 1931 this policy was put into extended use as a means of speeding construction in connection with the relief of unemployment. The results of this policy were not entirely satisfactory, however, and it is probable that from now on the Division of Architecture will be expected to resume its original responsibility of designing and supervising the construction of State building without outside assistance.

Prior to 1925 the State Architect's office received no direct appropriation for support, but received a fee from money appropriated for specific buildings. The division still receives a fee for buildings designed and supervised for the various special funds or so-called self-supporting agencies. The lower limit for construction handled by the State Architect's office is $1,000. For construction items below that figure the departments proceed with their own building without reference to the Division of Architecture.

The committee believes that the costs of the department as set forth in the budget are, at present, entirely too high for the amount of work performed, during the forthcoming biennium. When we consider that the standard fee for architectural services in private employment is 6 per cent of the cost of construction and that out of this 6 per cent the architect is expected to carry his overhead, including office rent, and make a reasonable profit for himself, it appears to the committee that it is impossible to justify a higher percentage cost for the State Architect's office when we take into consideration the fact that the State furnishes the office space and equipment and the department does not attempt to make a profit.

We are further struck with the fact that although State construction has dropped from $8,737,160 for the present biennium to approximately $1,741,302 for the forthcoming biennium, the cost of the department has not been proportionately reduced. The number of employees in the higher salaried positions seems to be substantially the same and there is no suggestion that their compensation be reduced. The overhead of the office does not seem to have been reduced a penny,

The committee recommends, therefore, that the appropriation for the Division of Architecture be reduced from the $247,800 set forth in the budget to a sum not to exceed 6 per cent of the next construction appropriation for the following biennium. This would effect a saving of approximately $130,000.

Division of Water Resources.

Although the present Division of Water Resources was established in 1909 when several related State activities were consolidated and placed under the State Engineer, the State Engineer as the present day holder of such an office is 18 1/2 years time to time the State has expanded its work in this field and under the present is one of the major functions of State government.

The primary function of the division is to supervise and regulate the development of the water resources of the State with especial emphasis on conservation. In addition to its work in connection with conservation, the division is engaged in flood control and reclamation activities, particularly that of the Sacramento-San Joaquin Drainage District. It should be made known that the great bulk of the flood control and reclamation work done in the State under the Sacramento River Flood Control Project is done in cooperation with the Federal government and that the Federal government now foots most of the work. The Division of Water Resources has charge of certain conservation work under the primary construction law being done by the Federal government.

The Division of Water Resources has supervised the construction and operation of dams, with a view to safeguarding life and property generally.

The total appropriation for this division in the current biennium amounts to $1,180,900. This is exclusive of an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the benefit of the Sacramento River Flood Control Project.

There is no question but that the work done by this division is a most important one for, as is well known, the water problem involving many interrelated and complex problems. It should be borne in mind, however, that the flood control and reclamation work should be confined to general reclamation, conservation, flood control, etc., and not to the original scope and work in the field of agriculture which, when handled, can hardly be classed as necessary under present conditions.

Administration.

The department is considered as exceptionally well managed and the nature of its work calls for an entire proportion of high salaried men. The committee is struck with the fact, however, that the cost of administration is high and that it has not dropped appreciably from former years. The present salary scale consists of 15 and the budget for the administration is $1,000,000 which is a reduction of less than $5,000 from the previous biennium. The committee believes that there is room for a reduction of all salaries in this line of administration, members of a general salary list to be applied to all State employees.

Investigation of stream and stream channels, water rights, etc.

The division's budget contains an item of $247,800 for the cost of "Investigation of streams and stream channels, surface and ground water conditions, water rights applications, all divisions and divisions, water resources, water conservation, Sections 36 and 47 of Water Commission Act, etc." The committee has no item to be segregated as follows: Investigation of water rights, $10,000; surface water, $10,000; ground water, $10,000; Sacramento-San Joaquin water conservation, $10,000; ground water, $10,000.

Initiation of water rights.

It is admitted that some agency must be maintained to initiate water rights and that this agency must be a permanent one. The committee is struck with the fact, however, that the cost of initiation of water rights is almost necessary that there be one central office in the State which should handle the initiation of water rights and the keeping of records upon them. A fee system for this service brings in revenue of approximately $10,000 a year.

The committee feels that this activity is essential and has no recommendation to make except that we believe that a saving of approximately 25 per cent could be made in this branch under existing conditions.

Administration.

The department spends some $10,000 a year in connection with the initiation of water rights. There is no question but that this service is essential and that it is indispensably very important to the people of the State. The committee has no recommendation to make except that we believe that a saving of approximately 25 per cent could be made in this branch under existing conditions.

evidence as they desire to present to the court at their own expense, it seems only logical that if the litigants desire the services of this branch of the State in the conduct of their litigation, they should be obliged to pay for it the same as they would pay for the procuring of any other expert testimony. It is recommended, therefore, that the department work out a fee schedule which will make this adjudication service self-supporting.

Stream administration—Water master service

The item of stream administration is a special service furnished at the request of local interests. At the present time the State pays 50 per cent of the cost of this service and the local interests pay the other 50 per cent. The service covers only 280,000 acres out of a total acreage of approximately 4,000,000 in the State. As this service is purely special, the committee recommends that it should be self-supporting.

Sacramento-San Joaquin water supervisor service

The Sacramento-San Joaquin water supervisor service has been in effect since 1924. Low water conditions in that year led the various local interests affected to request that a State service be instituted to apportion the water on the Sacramento River and the extreme lower part of the San Joaquin River. There is no question that this is a special service and should be paid for by the group or localities which receive the service. In fact, the only reason given for the State entering this field was the difficulty of properly apportioning the cost between the various local interests affected. While this apportionment of water was highly beneficial and served a good purpose in 1924, the committee is not entirely satisfied that the service is essential at this time and if so, it would seem that in the past eight years there had been ample time to work out a system whereby the local interests benefited could apportion the cost among themselves. It is recommended therefore that this activity be made self-supporting.

Ground water studies.

The ground water studies made by the State are undoubtedly of value, but it can hardly be said that they are essential, particularly in times such as the present. A considerable amount of ground water study is being made by the various localities directly concerned and obviously the appropriation of $35,000 could cover only a small portion of the State. The committee recommends, therefore, that during the present financial stringency these ground water studies conducted by the department be discontinued.

Following the regrettable disaster of the St. Francis Dam, the State instituted a service covering the inspection and supervision of dams. Unquestionably, much good has resulted from this service. It must also be borne in mind, however, that most of the initial work requested by the 1929 Legislature has been completed and further that the number of new dams under construction for the forthcoming biennium will be very small. It must further be considered that the number of dams which constitute an actual hazard to persons or property is comparatively few, as most of the large dams are constructed by the power companies, who have employed the best engineering service in the construction and maintenance of their dams as a matter of good business policy on account of the public liability which they assume in building and maintaining the dams. This dam inspection service is partially self-supporting, and while the committee can see no reason why new dams, particularly the larger dams, should not be required to pay the entire cost of the State inspection, it would probably not be fair to require the smaller dams to pay the entire cost of the service. The committee believes, however, that the cost of this service can be reduced materially. The committee recommends therefore that the present fee schedule be amended so that the large new dams to be constructed should pay the entire cost of the State's inspection and that the present law be amended so as to give the State Engineer greater discretion in the matter of inspecting the smaller dams. It is believed that by the adoption of these recommendations the appropriation for dam inspection work in the general fund can be cut from $152,000 to $50,000.

The following table shows that a great number of the dams at the present time under State supervision are too small to be matters of serious concern to the public safety:

Small reservoirs

Since 1929, there have been some smaller ones located in the State. The purpose of this undertaking is to obtain similar information on the relationship between the smallness of the reservoir and the amount of water stored. It is assumed that the records obtained will be of great value and assistance in future work concerning the construction of dams. Much of the work done in connection with the United States Forest Service, National Park Service and the other agencies. While this activity is useful at the present time, it is not an adequate procedure when we find that the public department and the Federal government are having considerable trouble in their construction of considerable portions of the State range. It is recommended, therefore, that the activity be discontinued until a more complete survey is the general fund of $10,000 for the Bureau.

Sacramento River Flood Control Project

The Sacramento River Flood Control Project is being carried out on the basis of an agreement between the Federal government, the State of California and local property owners. This work has been going on for a long time past, the Federal government has been in 1917 completed the project and part of Federal aid in this project. The project also known as 1917 completed by an act of the Legislature in 1927. Chapter 476, Session of 1927, and the Flood Control Bill adopted by Congress and signed February 16, 1928, H. R. 8500, in Public Volume 45, page 541. The total estimated cost of this project is approximately $51,000,000, of which the Federal government, the State of California and the property owners interested each contribute one-third.

The organization and operation of the project is under consideration but generally it may be described as follows:

The Federal government takes full charge of the actual dredging and general reclamation work. The State, through the Reclamation Board and the local boards, simply pay their share of the work. The Reclamation Board is charged with the responsibility of assessing damage to property in connection with the project and with the original clearing of property for purposes of the project and having general supervision of the project in connection with the project. When the project is completed, the Division of Water Resources has charge of a certain amount of the maintenance operation and emergency protection of the Flood Control Project. Under a similar consummated arrangement, the Division of Water Resources will be authorized to contribute $100,000 to the Federal government which will be matched by the Federal government at the rate of 100 to one and paid for subsequent years proportionally to the Sacramento River and its tributaries.

The following table shows the appropriations to date and commitments:

Federal government:

Appropriations to date	$12,350,000
Balance of pledge	4,460,100
	$17,810,100

State of California:

Appropriations to date	$14,420,000
Balance of pledge	6,280,000
	17,700,000

Local interests:

Participation to date (including assessments)	$27,836,980
Estimated future part (exclusive of assessments)	2,614,910
	$30,451,890

Grand total	$57,792,000
Total estimated cost of project	$72,000,000
Surplus borne by local interests over and above estimated share	$14,207,980

U. S. $13,139,000; California $11,420,000; U. S. contributions $1,719,000 over California, to date.

The new 1933-1935 budget shows the following appropriations for this project:

1. Reclamation Board:
For dredging and levee operations under control of United States Government	$1,000,000
For administrative overhead, State Reclamation Board -----	50,000
For acquisition of flowage rights and original clearing of by-passes -----	150,000	$1,200,000
2. Division of Water Resources:
Maintenance, operation and emergency protection -----	$170,000
Permanent bank protection under control of Federal government -----	100,000	270,000
Total appropriations -----		$1,470,000

The desirability of completing this project admits of no doubt, but, on the other hand, the appropriation constitutes a heavy drain upon the State under present conditions and the committee has, therefore, considered the advisability of decreasing this appropriation very carefully. However, there is the contractual relationship with the Federal government and the committee believes it highly important that this contractual relationship should not be jeopardized. The committee has proceeded upon the assumption, therefore, that the present financial condition of the State demands that this appropriation for this project be reduced to the minimum amount which can be set without jeopardizing the contractual relationship with the Federal government, but that it should not go beyond this point.

After considerable investigation and a number of conferences with the various interests concerned, the committee feels that the appropriation listed above, under the Reclamation Board, can be reduced $200,000 without jeopardizing the Federal support which the State is enjoying at the present time and it is recommended that such reduction be made. This recommendation is made upon the assumption that the sum of approximately $52,000 which has been saved by the Reclamation Board out of past appropriations for the project should be retained by the board and expended upon the project generally, rather than being reverted to the general fund.

The Division of Water Resources expects to spend $170,000 in the next biennium for maintenance and operation and emergency protection of the Sacramento Flood Control Project, and also to spend $100,000 in channel rectification and bank protection on the Sacramento River and its tributaries in cooperation with the United States War Department and the local interests. The $170,000 item will represent work done under the direction of the Division of Water Resources and in general might be described as maintenance and operation of the flood control project after the primary work has been completed by the Federal government. This item seems relatively large, but it represents a $25,000 cut over the previous biennium.

The appropriation of $100,000 for channel rectification and bank protection represents money which will be spent by the Federal government, the Federal government being agreed to do permanent bank protection work at the rate of $2 for every $1 of the State's money advanced. Under the present plan, the $100,000 spent by the State will be matched by $200,000 advanced by the Federal government. Permanent bank protection must obviously be done sometime, and the committee believes that the fact that $2 of Federal money is being expended in California for every $1 of State money expended on this work, and that the employment situation is being helped to some extent thereby, justifies the retention of this item in the budget.

Water studies.

The State has, in the past, spent a great deal of money in making water surveys and studies. There have been published 91 reports comprising over 14,000 printed pages, together with maps and other enclosures. The cost of making these investigations during the current biennium alone approximates $200,000. These studies have been and are of great value beyond question. On the other hand, it is equally true that most of the studies will not be utilized at the present time nor for a good many years to come. Under the existing circumstances, and taking into consideration the desperate financial condition which the State is in, the committee feels that these water studies should be discontinued, or at least curtailed to a bare minimum. Among these studies set forth in the budget are: Exploration, investigation and preliminary plans for a coordinated water conservation plan for Southern California, $107,100; investigation of water resources in cooperation with Ventura County, $7,500; investigation of water resources in cooperation with Monterey County, $1,250; further investigations and compilations of data relative to the State water plan, $50,000; investigation of San Diego River Flood Control in cooperation with San Diego County, $15,000.

Insomuch as none of these bodies in session are going to be elected in the immediate future, the committee recommends that State should therefore be continued at least for the present biennium. If Senators California or Young or Monterey or San Diego conflict with or impede with these bodies at this time it seems only logical to ask that they forward the funds immediately with which to do so.

Concerning the further surveys and studies of the State prior year, the committee feels that in view of the fact that a tremendous amount of money has already been spent upon this work and that the division has had considerable and important complete reports covering this subject. It is not necessary to appropriate further money for this purpose at this time.

Division of Highways

The largest item among the expenditures of State government is that of highway construction and maintenance. The 1933-1935 biennial budget allows $10,000,000 for highway purposes, a figure somewhat 32 per cent of the total budget. This amount is 27 per cent greater than the 1931-1933 allowance for education and more 66 per cent greater than the 1930-1932 allowance for the support of general government, which includes general salaries, the judiciary, etc. The 1933-1935 biennial allowance authorized by the Director of Finance shows the following breakdown of State expenditures:

General Government	$9,128,000 00
Education	24,000,000 00
Highways (including Motor Vehicle Department)	101,000,000 00
Total	$34,128,000 00

Originally the responsibility of maintaining roads was left entirely to the counties but in 1909 the first State Road Law was passed which required the State to pay extensive highway construction projects. Subsequent laws have been passed in 1915 and 1919. The total now claimed is $15,000,000 of which amount $5,000,000 is still outstanding. In 1923 the gasoline tax was established, at which time the State adopted the policy of financing highway construction and maintenance from this source rather than from general taxation. The gasoline tax is fixed at 3 cents per gallon, 1 cent of which is allotted to counties and 2 cents is retained by the State. The State's share of gas and toll tax and maintenance and repair by maintenance.

At the present time the State system of highways includes 1700 miles. Of this total 5715 miles are completed and the remaining 1000 miles are yet uncompleted. There are 1267 miles of county State highway and 578 miles of county State highways in the system. It is interesting to note that the State's share of gas and toll tax is 10 per cent of the total amount in the State for financing maintenance of county roads. Of the total amount of money spent on the State and highway system, approximately 86 per cent is provided by the State since directly or indirectly through its appropriation to counties.

Although State revenue for highway purposes is derived largely from consumption than general taxation, one suggestion must be given in the fact that this source constitutes a tax burden. The greatest tax burden is imposed on the business and the therefore a business man. This is because an increasing number of such men are being taxed. When one considers that the question of gas and toll tax is a source of revenue for automatically devises a way of 40 cents (including the 2 cents of gas) per gallon, it is a tax to be reckoned with. And if collected from business on a monthly or quarterly basis, instead of with each purchase, it is a considerable burden to many of them. A 4 cent tax on tax resulting at 18 cents per gallon constitutes a sales tax of over 22 per cent, which if applied to all business at this source would result in a staggering tax burden. The committee feels therefore that consideration for highway construction and maintenance should be subject to the same source as other public expenditures and that every possible measure should be taken to that direction.

The following table shows in a simple way how inconspicuously the growth in highway activities has been:

	Fiscal year 1923-1924	Fiscal year 1933-1935	Per cent increase
Total expenditures	$16,475,994*	$35,571,824	115.9
Total improved mileage	3,897	5,715	46.6
Total mileage on State highway system	6,280	7,596	21.8
Population	4,665,000	5,902,505	26.5

* Income $1,000,000,000 less 10 per cent State income tax.

In 1931-1932, highway expenditures amounted to $35,571,824 compared with $16,475,994 in 1923-1924. This is an increase of 115.9 per cent compared with a 46.6 per cent increase in improved miles of highway and a 26.5 per cent increase in population.

New construction.

The system of arterial highways extending from one end of the State to the other is largely complete. New construction therefore must be confined to highways of secondary importance or to the reconstruction of existing highways. Beyond a doubt, if all new construction were discontinued entirely and the attention of the Division of Highways were limited to maintenance for the next two years, no particular injury to society would result. In the case of State hospitals and prisons, new construction has been reduced to bare essentials. The committee feels, therefore, that serious attention should be given to the desirability of at least reducing the volume of new highway construction, especially in view of the present widespread criticism of the elaborate reconstruction and straightening highways which are still usable in their present condition.

In this connection the committee wishes to call attention to the proposed construction program as outlined in the 1933-1935 highway budget. With few exceptions, it appears that these projects might well be suspended or at least reduced in number. It may be desirable to provide for immediate construction of these highways but it is doubtful if the social or economic welfare of the State is dependent upon the continuance of this elaborate program.

While it is a matter of common knowledge that construction costs have dropped very materially in the last two years and the committee was informed by a representative of the division that unit construction costs today were approximately 50 per cent less than those prevailing in the 1923-1925 biennium, yet we find that the contemplated cost for new construction for the 1933-1935 biennium, as set forth in the budget averages $42,676 per mile. While this includes some bridge work, it also includes a great deal of bituminous or oil-mix road construction which is generally regarded as relatively inexpensive in comparison with concrete. Considering the low cost of construction at the present time, this figure seems to the committee to be far too high.

Maintenance.

The second largest item of expenditure is that of highway maintenance. Once highways are constructed they are subject to wear and tear which requires constant attention in order to prevent rapid destruction of road surfaces. In addition, maintenance crews have the responsibility of snow removal, highway beautification, bridge repairing, painting traffic stripes, etc.

Although the statistical records on the cost of highway maintenance are somewhat vague, the committee feels that expenditures in this direction are greater than is necessary. The cost per mile in 1931-1932 ranged from $865 in District II to $1,749 in District I. The average maintenance cost for all districts in that year was $1,144 per mile. In other words, it cost the State $1,144 a year just to maintain each mile of our State highways after the roads had been completed. When one considers the rather permanent nature of highway construction at the present time, with miles and miles of heavy concrete pavement, such a high cost for mere maintenance is rather hard to justify. Beyond a doubt, maintenance work is performed on a more elaborate scale than would be regarded as necessary if funds were not so abundant.

It would require months of careful analysis to develop accurate conclusions regarding the operations of the Division of Highways. Reliable information is not available and as a result the committee can only generalize. Whether or not the division is returning full value for every dollar expended is not known. It is obvious that the scale of operations is large enough to conceal definite instances of superfluous employees and wasteful expenditures. However, it is general knowledge that the division has been generous in its use of funds. In passing the committee has observed a few instances of unnecessary expense.

District offices.

The operating activities of the Division of Highways are handled through ten district offices. In other words, the State is divided into ten districts, each in the charge of a District Highway Engineer. Each district maintains a complete office staff and other overhead, including several high-salaried engineers. Two districts have headquarters in Sacramento.

Present economic conditions make a continuation of highway construction programs on present scales extremely unlikely. In fact in all probability the lessening of gas tax revenues, if nothing else, will necessitate less new road building.

The committee feels that there is unnecessary duplication in maintaining so many districts, particularly in view of future construction prospects, and recommends that the number of districts be reduced from ten to five.

Monthly bulletin.

The Department of Public Works publishes a monthly bulletin, "California Highways and Public Works." The bulk of the material contained in this bulletin pertains to highways. Inasmuch as bulletins of this nature tend to propagandize rather than educate they are not only unnecessary but capable of being instrumental to public interests. And, instead of being instrumental to being used through their mobile club members for other purposes, important educational information might well be confined to the regular biannual reports of the department. The cost of this monthly bulletin approximates $15,000 annually. For information about this expenditure it is necessary just to remember that the money is government.

General administration

The general administrative setup of our highway department is as follows: We have a Highway Commissioner, planning and in charge of highways. We have a Director of Public Works, who directs the day-to-day work of the department. He receives a salary of $10,000 a year and has a staff of nine. Then we have a Chief of Division (State Highway Engineer) receiving $10,000 a year, a secretary and bulletin editor at $4,500 a year, an advisory highway engineer at $2,500 a year each, a bridge engineer, an architect, three men and women in the office. The bridge engineering staff, the architect engineering, receiving from $2,000 to $3,000 each, and a host of other well-paid officials are employed in various divisions.

It seems to the committee that there is undoubtedly considerable room for effecting economies in the administration of our highway system.

Legal Department

The legal work of the division is partly done by the Bureau of Contract and Rights of Ways, which is under the supervision of the State Engineer and Chief of the Attorney for the Highway Commission, and partly by the Highway Division. The committee is satisfied that there is no duplication of effort in the legal department. It seems to the committee that the legal staff has not been justified. A representative opinion of law could undoubtedly be obtained through and paid a considerable sum in effecting same.

Effect of present wage law

The subject of the present prevailing wage law and its effect upon construction costs in California has been considered in the report on subjects submitted by the committee. It is fully believed by the committee that had special funds been set aside to pay a wage cost of $1.00 a day, which would be a considerable sum, and a higher rate to pay while doing emergency work, there would be more construction projects in progress, unmet and that this has made it better and for the better construction work of the division of highways. A $1.00 a day wage law, which is the law in the State, would be a considerable sum, which would be a considerable sum. If this prevailing wage law did not mean the same amount of money expended at the present time would be equal to a much larger number of men and be that much more effective in relieving unemployment. Moreover, this plan would mean a greater income return to the State, resulting in miles of highway construction.

Highway Commission

The Highway Commission consists of five members, appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor, together with a secretary and an attorney. The commission has no independent authority, but the law does provide for the expenditure of money, which, during the past session, amounted to approximately $17,000. The function of the commission is to administer public highways with regard to highway construction, to advise upon the construction and improvement of highways and to allocate the highway revenues. The entire business of the highway system is administered by the Legislature and the actual construction is under the control of the Highway Division. As far as the committee can ascertain, California is the only State which maintains such a Highway Commission and a representative organization, such as the Department of Public Works, which is the head of the highway activities. Although there is no definite evidence of inefficiency resulting from this apparent conflict of authority, it seems inconsistent with good administrative practice.

Present highway bonds

In view of the fact, first, that the Division of Highways is so inadequately supplied with funds as to include the rural routes and, secondly, that the revenues are in need of immediate tax relief, it is believed that the highway bond tax burden should be reduced. This can be done in two ways. First, by reducing the burden of gasoline tax and, secondly, by paying the present outstanding highway bonds, both interest and redemption, out of highway revenues.

The question of paying interest and redemption on State highway bonds out of highway revenues is the subject of considerable controversy at the present time. The committee has gone into this matter very carefully and after careful consideration recommends that the outstanding highway bonds should be paid by State highway revenues, commencing with July 1, 1933. We make this recommendation not entirely as a matter of financial expediency, but as a matter of principle. The facts are that the money received from the sale of these bonds went into the present State highway system. The present gas tax method of financing highways was adopted in 1923, but the Highway Division was still spending bond money for highway construction in the year 1927—four years after the adoption of the gas tax system.

The motorists, at the present time, are getting the benefit of the proceeds of these State highway bonds expended both before and after the adoption of the present gasoline tax. The committee fails to see why these highway bonds, which provided part of the money to build our present highway system, should not be paid by the motorists and truckmen who are making use of this system, rather than by the taxpayers of the State generally. As a matter of fact, the committee finds that there are over $35,000,000 of county highway bonds still outstanding (not including road district bonds), in addition to these State highway bonds, and that these county highway bonds are all being paid by the local taxpayers in the counties, although the motoring public is getting the benefit of these expenditures. We find also that at least 500 miles of the present State highway system was constructed by the various county highway bonds. It would seem, therefore, that a rather strong argument could be made in behalf of paying off these county highway bonds from the surplus of the gas tax rather than from bonds issued on local and possibly, particularly so in those county bonds the proceeds of which went into the State highway system. The committee, however, is not recommending that this be done, but in support of its recommendation that State highway bond interest and redemption be paid out of highway revenues in place of the general fund, it wishes to call attention to the fact that the general fund has already paid over $20,000,000 for interest and redemption of highway bonds and that $75,500,000 of State highway bonds are now outstanding and that unless these bonds are paid from highway bond revenues a total of $27,500,711 interest and redemption must be raised from general fund sources in the course of the next 31 years to retire these bonds.

When we remember that the general fund carries an assumed deficit of $10,000,000 for the next two years it can be appreciated that conditions for paying highway bonds out of general fund revenues will constitute a crippling load upon general fund revenues for a great many years to come.

When we consider the money problems now confronting the State and the fact that the various commissions which undoubtedly could be made in the operation of the Division of Highways and which are possible also the present low cost of highway construction, the committee is confident that savings are possible in the next two years which will considerably offset any loss due to the payment of the $8,449,726 of bond interest and redemption which will fall due during the next biennium and that there is no reason that the State highway program should be financially embarrassed by following the committee's recommendation of paying for highway bonds from highway revenues.

As the accompanying chart shows the projected amount of money which would be necessary to pay interest and redemption on bonds issued by used by revenues to the totals and would still leave the Highway Division in the position now but highway expenditures have it was had prior to the year 1928.

Finally, the committee wishes to understand that it is opposed to using highway revenues for other than highway purposes. It does not, however, regard highway bond payments as such a diversion.

In conclusion, we must remember that if the common interest is to be secured of the prospect of an additional tax burden on the basis of an old system, the general fund tax charges must be reduced and the various commissions (barring that the present fixed charge for highway bond interest and redemption to the general fund be removed and transferred to the highway funds where, we believe, it belongs. Unless this is done, it would seem highly that the question now would be reduced to continue with the current form of system.

Personal

It is interesting to note that in 1923 the personnel of the Division of Highways approximated 1500 while in the present time it exceeds 4000. It seems that we must more strongly it should be noted that in 1923 the Division maintained its own construction work while today all construction is done by contractors and particularly with contractors' personnel. This indicates that the overhead and maintenance personnel must be rather large, greater than in 1923, although the operating groups have increased only from 3,419 to 5,715 since that time and the total increase from 6400 to 7300.

BOARD OF STATE HARBOR COMMISSIONERS

Since 1863, the Port of San Francisco has been owned and operated by the State of California under the management of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. The board consists of three members who are appointed by the Governor and serve at his pleasure. The president of the board draws a salary of $5,000 per annum. The two other commissioners draw salaries of $3,000 per annum each. The com-cial function of the board is to provide, operate and maintain adequate facilities for handling the commerce of the Port of San Francisco. In order to do this, it builds and maintains sea walls, piers and other structures, operates the Red Line Railroad which provides switching service between the piers, industrial spurs adjacent to the water front, and all railroads entering the city; maintains fire boats, dredges and pile drivers; operates the Ferry Building and two special terminals for the benefit of the agricultural interests of the State. These are the Islais Green Terminal which is used for the handling of grain for export and the State Products Terminal at China Basin which contains a refrigeration plant for agricultural products in addition to warehouse space used as a concentration point for canned goods, dried fruit, cotton and other farm products in transit to foreign and inter-coastal ports.

The value of the property under control of the port is estimated at $85,000,000 of which $15,000,000 is accounted for by the various docks, buildings and other structures. The expenses of the port, including operation and maintenance cost and bond interest and sinking fund requirements have, to date, been met from port revenues. Bonds to the extent of approximately $18,000,000 are outstanding at the present time and except for this amount the cost of all facilities and port development has been paid out of port revenues. The sources of revenue of the port are principally tolls, dockage, demurrage, rentals and switching charges. These revenues increased rather steadily until the year 1929 and have been declining steadily since that time. The amount of tonnage discharged and loaded over the water front, which of course, is the real index of the business of the port, also rose rather steadily up to the year 1930 and has declined rapidly since that time. On the other hand, the expenditures of the Harbor Commission, exclusive of capital improvements, have continued to rise right up to the present time in spite of diminishing business and diminishing revenues. The following tables show respectively the tonnage handled, the revenue and the expenses of the Harbor Commission:

Fiscal year ending	Tonnage	Revenue	Expenditures
July 1, 1924-----	10,607,309	$2,786,512 11	$1,741,804 72
July 1, 1925-----	10,099,336	2,814,269 89	2,093,944 94
July 1, 1926-----	10,652,076	2,855,866 72	2,018,012 72
July 1, 1927-----	11,131,850	2,990,069 89	2,127,891 21

In brief, while tonnage handled by the port was 10 per cent less in the fiscal year 1931-1932 than it was in the fiscal year 1923-1924—the expenditures of the Harbor Commission had increased approximately 50 per cent over the 1923-1924 levels. It might be added that tonnage has decreased nearly 25 per cent since 1930, and it is still declining.

Present conditions would indicate a continued decline in business and revenues and inasmuch as the major construction projects have been completed, and the harbor has more facilities than are actually needed at the present time, with the possible exception of refrigeration space in the refrigeration terminal, it would seem that there is no occasion for any considerable expenditures for harbor purposes in the immediate future. The effect of the new San Francisco Bay Bridge upon the future income of the Harbor Commission must also be taken into consideration. While the commission has a fund on hand which will have an estimated balance on July 1, 1933, according to the Director of Finance, of approximately $776,626.92, the large total yearly expenditures of the commission coupled with the amount of bonded indebtedness outstanding and the uncertainty as to future revenues demand that the commission exercise every economy consistent with the proper operation and maintenance of the port. It is recognized, of course, that maintenance of the project is bound to be expensive due to continual damage to certain portions of the water front structures by incoming ferry boats and other vessels; and due to the effect of the salt water and salt air upon construction generally. Considerable effort seems to have been made to reduce operating expenses and to spread the wage moneys as far as possible during the past year by the adoption of four and five-day a week work schedules. While the committee feels that this effort to spread available wages among the greatest possible number of men is commendable, it still feels that the cost of operation of the port could be reduced considerably without any loss of efficiency. In fact, considerable savings therefrom could be made if it were necessary. The following table showing the number of employees and compensation for a port should be of interest:

	Number of employees	Pay roll
1923-1925	367	$1,496,200
1927-1929	400	1,600,000
1931-1933	450	1,762,500
1933-1935 (budget estimate)	500	1,900,000

The following excerpts from the January pay roll of the harbor show items paid at the present time:

	Pay roll
Dock sweepers	$1,771
Electricians	9,180
Painters	9,180
Plumbers and steam fitters	9,180
Barbers	7,350
Truck drivers	7,350
Electrician, railway, carpenter, tinner, painter, cooper and enginemen	30,000
Belt Line Railroad master	7,350
Locomotive engineer	7,350
Locomotive fireman	7,350
Locomotive switchman	7,350
Locomotive train conductor	7,350
Switchman	7,350
Car inspector	7,350
Section men	7,350
Carpenters	7,350
Machinists	7,350
Truckers	7,350
Trainers	7,350
Pile men	7,350
Divers	8,700

On the monthly pay roll of about 200 persons the following positions:

Administrative assistant	$1,100
Chief engineer	7,000
Harbor engineer	4,000
Chief wharfinger	4,000
Attorney	7,000
Traffic manager	7,000

The committee feels that the management of the Harbor has been one of the subject of considerable controversy. No doubt, on the subject of salaries, based to the very prevalent under the commission, and a wide range of opinion has been made on the basis of personal qualifications rather than judgment or technical qualifications.

Belt Line Railroad

The Belt Line Railroad, as stated above, provides the necessary local switching service between piers and other water front structures and the city terminal San Francisco. It has long had trouble along with the other terminal of the port, but apparently is lessor trouble, resulting in a number of its maintenance. Owing to the fact that the railroad operates as a subsidiary of the switching operations between the main city terminal San Francisco and the various harbor terminals, and the business is large and there are long in the terminal with a schedule regardless of traffic as in other terminals, it would seem that it should be able not only to make its business, but to turn a fine profit. When it is difficult to get the exact figures, the company is of the opinion from an investigation that if this railroad kept its operating system in the same manner as other railroads, it would be shown that the system is something of a loss. From the committee believes it due to overhauling and lack of proper management, particularly when we take into consideration the fact that the rate for carrying loaded cars was increased from $1 per car to $1.40 per car November 1, 1926. On January 1, 1932, however, the rate was reduced from $4.50 to $4 a car but the rate was 25 per cent higher than it was prior to 1926.

Salaries and wages: Superintendent and clerks	$37,826

Islais Grain Terminal and State Products Terminal.

These two facilities are not essentially a part of harbor development, but were constructed upon the theory that they would be of service to the agricultural interests of the State. The original cost of the Islais Grain Terminal was $536,897. The revenue from this terminal for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, was $54,895. The cost of maintenance was approximately $4,000.

The State Products Terminal Building represents an investment of $1,694,622. This building furnishes two distinct services: (1) Refrigeration service for fruit products and (2) a general warehouse and concentration point for agricultural export products which do not need refrigeration. Harbor Commission officials estimate that the refrigeration terminal is properly chargeable with about $400,000 of the cost of the complete building. The business of the refrigeration terminal has increased steadily. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, receipts are estimated at $54,455, of which amount $52,955 has already accrued. The total estimated expense for the refrigeration terminal for the same period is $36,950. This leaves a net income from the refrigeration terminal of $17,505, which obviously falls far short of covering interest on the investment and a proper figure for depreciation. It is the intention of the commission to add a unit to this terminal during the next biennium at a cost of approximately $60,000. This new unit will give approximately 40 per cent additional refrigeration space and in the opinion of the present commission will help considerably toward placing the refrigeration terminal upon a more nearly self-supporting basis. The revenue from the part of the State Products Terminal Building not used for refrigeration purposes was $42,413 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932. Maintenance amounted to $1,023, making a net receipt of $41,390, which, of course, falls by a considerable sum to meet ordinary interest on the investment and a proper allowance for depreciation.

Port pilots.

We find the port pilots under the jurisdiction of the Pilot Commission, acting entirely separately from the Harbor Commission. In fact the management of the harbor seemed to know little about the arrangement for harbor pilotage. This is no reflection upon the Harbor Commission, but the committee feels that it is a reflection upon the soundness of the present system of dual control.

State's interest in San Francisco Harbor.

The harbor of San Francisco has always been conducted on the basis that it was a matter of State rather than a local concern. Various attempts have been made to take the management of the port out of the hands of the State and put it under the control of San Francisco, but, to date, the Legislature has always resisted these attempts. We believe that the Legislature has acted wisely and that the administration of the Port of San Francisco is, and should continue to be, a State function. When we consider the tremendous amount of commerce which is handled through the port and the effect of proper port management upon the whole State, it is obviously essential that the management of the port should be on the basis of the highest efficiency and free from any suggestion of sectional control.

The committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That all employees of the commission, except the executive secretary, be placed under civil service.

2. That the cost of operation of the port be reduced to the 1923-1925 biennium figures, save as such figures should be increased on account of capital additions to port facilities and new activities undertaken by legislative direction.

3. That employees of the commission be subjected to the general salary reduction plan recommended for State employees generally.

4. That the duties of the Pilot Commission be turned over to the Harbor Commission, thus centralizing control of the operation of the harbor.

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS.

Senate Bill No. 1048—An act to repeal sections 4,180 and 4,181 of the School Code, relating to the county elementary school supervision fund.

CONSIDERATION OF COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

Pursuant to the report of the Committee on Education, the following amendments to Senate Bill No. 1048 were read:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Beginning in line 1 of the title of the printed bill, strike out the following: "repeal sections 4.180 and 4.181 of the School Code, relating to the county elementary school supervision fund", and insert in lieu thereof the following: "amend section 3.90 of the School Code relating to days upon which the public schools shall close, and declaring the urgency thereof".

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 and 2, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. Section 3.90 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3.90. The public schools of this State shall, unless otherwise provided, close on Saturday, Sunday, the first day of January, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the ninth day of September, the eleventh day of November, the twenty-fifth day of December, and on every day appointed by the President of the United States or the Governor of this State for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday; provided, that the Governor in appointing any day for a holiday may provide whether or not the public schools shall close on such holiday.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: The public schools having been closed by the proclamation of the Governor declaring the second, third and fourth days of March, 1933, public holidays, by reason of the existing provisions of School Code section 3.90, and it being possible that other public holidays may be proclaimed by the Governor, the public schools are therefore unable to perform their function of educating and providing for the welfare of the youth of this State and it is necessary that the public schools be permitted to discharge their functions during any holiday appointed by the Governor when in the judgment of the Governor the public schools should not be closed."

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and on file for third reading.

PARTIAL REPORT OF FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE.

The following report was received and read:

REPORT NUMBER NINETEEN

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

Function.

The function of the Department of Industrial Relations is to enforce and administer the laws governing the relationship existing between employers and employees.

Divisions.

This department has six divisions:

- (1) Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety.
- (2) Division of State Employment Agencies.
- (3) Division of Immigration and Housing.
- (4) Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement.
- (5) Division of Industrial Welfare, and
- (6) Division of Fire Safety.

Organization.

Under section 364 of the Political Code, the Chairman of the Industrial Accident Commission is ex officio Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, and the Governor has the power to name the chairman of said commission, and he shall hold such chairmanship at the pleasure of the Governor. Under section 364b of the Political Code, the members of the Industrial Accident Commission are appointed for a term of four years, and under section 364a of said Code, the division chiefs are appointed by the Governor, to hold at his pleasure. It is easy to see the defect in this organization. The director, who is the nominal head of the department, and in theory responsible to the public for its service, has in fact no authority over the division heads, who are responsible alone to the governing body of the Government. The recommendation being suggested for a permanent division head is to be taken over from a prior administration and chosen to place the permanent division within the department. We recommend that the law be amended so that the division would be appointed by, and hold office at the pleasure of the Governor and the division chiefs be appointed by, and hold office at the pleasure of the Governor.

Division of Immigration and Housing

We recommend that the Division of Immigration and Housing be continued and by so doing we will effect a General saving of $100,000.

Our reasons for this recommendation are: The National Census last year greatly reduced the number of immigrants coming to the State. The United States Bureau of Immigration has been able to continue its work with the same number of population where immigrants were scarce all the old and established means. We are one of the non-English speaking alien who come with little or no knowledge of English to assist them, and nearly 60 per cent of the immigrants are of a high school that can be obtained from entrance on 10 days' instruction and can be handled by the Division of Labor, San Francisco, Los Angeles.

State Housing Act

As to the activities of the Division of Housing, being continued all the time, Housing Act, which requires the construction of public and permanent housing is in a matter of common knowledge that that of the State and Government is to be incorporated into and at least 60 per cent of the construction of long-term housing. These cities have their own local authorities that make the same thing as the State government. Therefore there is no Governmental Department. That is, that is, the State should have the State Housing Act and the Department of Public Housing or Division of Architecture would handle the matter.

Auto camp inspection

Another activity of this Division is to inspect camps, inspection, being continued under an act of the Legislature, adopted in 1929. The Department of Public Health has a Bureau of Sanitary Inspection. They are also inspecting these camps and there is no need for this double inspection.

Labour camp inspection

As to labor camp inspection, we have 100,000 of the 100,000, and the same should be continued, but as the Department of Public Health has an inspection traveling about the State, and the Bureau of Sanitary Inspection, then department can well carry on this service and there is no need for the Department of State inspection.

Division of Employment Agencies

In 1915, the Legislature passed an act authorizing the Labor Commissioner to establish free employment agencies at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and Sacramento, and thereafter, whenever he deemed it to be in the public interest. The purpose of this was very largely, at least, to remove the burden from the "employment agency sharks," who were then operating by paying the employment fees that are so very popular and profitable for workers. The State now maintains 15 permanent business agencies in California, and temporary agencies in some towns. From the fiscal year beginning with 1928, and ending July 1, 1932, these agencies have placed approximately 450,000 workers in jobs. The expenditures made by the State of this service during the same period has been $500,000. It is estimated that the average cost to the workers coming from through permanent placement agencies is $4.17, and the estimated saving to the workers during this period by the State free service is approximately $2,700,000.

The United States Department of Labor maintains employment agencies in San Francisco and Los Angeles, and we are attempting now to establish agencies at other cities of California.

There is no doubt that the service rendered by these agencies is of great value to both employers and employees, but the cost of maintenance of the agencies in the localities where the agencies are situated. We believe that many of the State agencies could be closed, as the expense of maintaining a branch in some places far exceeds the benefits received, and we recommend:

(1) That the State employment agencies be discontinued in those cities where number of placements show that the expense of maintenance is not justified and in this regard we recommend that the branch offices at the following places be closed, Bakersfield, Berkeley, Stockton, San Bernardino, Fresno, Hanford, Watsonville, Lodi and Modesto.

(2) That the State and Federal employment bureaus be discontinued wherever possible.

(3) That the State employment bureaus be placed upon a self-supporting basis by charging a fee of $1 for each placement. This would be collected only after the applicant had received his job, so it would entail no initial hardship upon the worker, and the committee feels that if the State secures a job for a man he should be willing to contribute $1 for the cost of that service out of his first pay check.

Division of Industrial Welfare.

The Industrial Welfare Commission was established in 1913, to investigate and enforce a statute dealing with the employment of women and minors, including the Minimum Wage Law. In 1927, when the Department of Industrial Relations was established, the powers conferred on the Industrial Welfare Commission were transferred to the Division of Industrial Welfare, which was set up under the Department of Industrial Relations. The biennial expense for this division amounts to approximately $90,000. Eighteen full-time employees are engaged in the work.

The character of work performed by this division is nearly the same as performed by the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement, except that the Department of Industrial Welfare deals with matters pertaining to minors and women. There is no good reason for this duplication of clerical staff or overlapping of travel covered by field workers, and we believe that in the interest of economy, the work performed by this division might well be assigned to the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement.

The committee recommended that this assignment be made, and if this recommendation is carried out, it will result in a biennial saving of $60,000.

Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement.

This division is charged with enforcement and administration of the labor laws of California, the enforcement and administration of which is not invested in any other office, board or commission.

The division maintains 14 branch offices in California, 13 of which are south of Sacramento, and none of which are in the coast counties north of San Francisco.

While it may be desirable to maintain offices at all the points where the service is now provided, it would seem that if the workers north of Sacramento can travel as far as 300 miles to get in touch with the office at Sacramento, that some of the offices in the southern part of the State could be eliminated, in the interest of economy.

We recommend that the branch offices at El Centro, Bakersfield, Stockton, Santa Barbara, Long Beach, San Jose and Oakland be discontinued.

The salary and wages paid at these branch offices are as follows:

	Per month
El Centro -----	$300 00
Bakersfield -----	225 00
Santa Barbara -----	360 00
Long Beach -----	660 00
Stockton -----	290 00
San Jose -----	335 00
Total -----	$2,170 00

It is estimated a biennial saving of $50,000 will be effected by adopting these recommendations.

The Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety.

The Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety, which administers and enforces the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act, and the industrial safety laws and regulations of the State, has an allowance of $425,515 in the budget, for the fiscal year of 1933-1934 and an equal sum for the fiscal year of 1934-1935, comparing this with the expenditures for the fiscal year of 1929-1930, which was $340,459.39, we find an increase of $85,056. At the same time we find that owing to the economic depression, the factory pay rolls, of those engaged in industrial employment, is about 30 per cent below the number of those employed in 1929, and in view of this fact, we believe that the amount of work necessary to be performed by this division must bear some relation to the number of employees, and we believe and recommend that a cut of 25 per cent, or $106,000, be made in the budgetary allotment to this division.

Division of Fire Safety.

The Division of Fire Safety administers the law that relates to dry cleaning establishments and is supported by license fees which these establishments pay. The department also performed some service in coordinating and cooperating with the various fire departments of the State of California. It has undoubtedly performed some valuable services in standardizing hose and other fire fighting equipment in the State.

The division employs 19 men and its budget request for the next biennium totals $176,700.

Due to the fact that a great portion of the State is fairly well organized as to fire protection and that the program of fire equipment standardization instituted by this division is nearing completion and due to the further fact that fire hazard supervision of cleaning and dressing shops would seem to be primarily a local rather than a State function, the committee feels that the budget allotment for this branch should be reduced to not in excess of $100,000 for the next biennium.

Respectfully submitted,

URGENCY CLAUSE.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution and shall, therefore, take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows: Due to present economic conditions and more particularly to the fact that it has been necessary for most of the banks in the State to close for a limited period of time, it has become impossible for many corporations to comply with the requirement of the section amended by this act, and as a result unless this act takes effect immediately corporate powers, rights and franchises of such corporations will be suspended or forfeited. The suspension or forfeiture of such corporate rights, powers and privileges would result in the loss to the State of a considerable portion of the revenue due from such corporations and in the cessation of many businesses that are of vital concern to the welfare of the State. It is therefore imperative that such suspension or postponement be prevented, and that this act take effect immediately.

The Legislature may further restrict such expenditures.

From the total amount required to meet expenditures provided for in any county budget there shall first be deducted (a) such amount as is therein estimated to be derived from all county sources other than taxes upon real and personal property, and (b) such amount as is estimated to be derived from all other sources except apportionments pursuant to section 15 of Article XIII of this Constitution, and of the balance remaining after such deductions not over fifty per centum thereof shall be derived from taxes upon real and personal property.

The Legislature shall provide that all taxes on property for the support of counties, cities and counties, municipalities, districts or other political subdivisions or agencies shall be assessed and collected only by the officers charged with the assessment and collection of taxes for county or city and county purposes.

PARTIAL REPORT OF FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE.

The following report was received and read:

SALARIES.

The committee has already filed a partial report on the matter of State salaries (see ninth partial report) and at this time files herewith its complete report on this subject.

General considerations.

The question of State salaries is a most perplexing and complicated one at the present time. This is due largely to the fact that in the tremendous growth of State government which has occurred in the past 20 years, there has been no comprehensive plan for the establishment or control of salaries. Salaries are set and controlled by a number of agencies acting more or less independently and without any coordination or general scheme at all. An attempt has been made to bring salaries generally under the control of the Director of Finance through the Division of Personnel and Organization, but as this control affects less than half of the State employees, at the present time it obviously is not effective, and it is questionable if the theory of allowing one State officer or a board subject to the control of any one State officer to set salaries is sound.

The result is that the salary situation is in the most unsatisfactory condition: that many salaries are definitely out of line with the duties and responsibilities of the positions involved; that account has been taken of the decline of salary levels since 1929 in only a portion of the State service, and that gross inequalities in compensation received by various State employees for doing similar work are not uncommon.

The increase in the number of State employees and in the total salary pay roll has been rather startling. During the 1923-25 biennium, the number of employees was approximately 10,500 and the pay roll approximately $37,000,000. These figures are only approximate as the committee was unable to get definite information. It is believed they are sufficiently accurate for practical purposes, however. For the present biennium, the total has risen to 24,782 employees, and the biennial pay roll is approximately $70,412,750. Of this sum $37,109,270 comes from the general fund and $33,303,480 is paid from the various special or self-supporting funds. The above figures do not include the extra temporary employees who are hired from time to time in the Bureau of Printing, the Division of Registration of the Department of Motor Vehicles during the license renewal period, the Division of Forestry during the fire hazard period, et cetera, nor does it include the pay roll of the Governor's office. In addition, it must not be forgotten that the State, during the present biennium, is appropriating $41,391,784.73 to elementary schools and $16,138,574.08 to high schools, all of which, under the law, must be paid out to teachers' salaries, and is also expending $2,023,640 for the support of the junior colleges, most of which goes to teachers' salaries. While, as stated above, the biennial pay roll, as shown by the Department of Finance, totals approximately $70,000,000, as a matter of fact, approximately $60,000,000 of additional State revenues goes for salaries and the actual total of State revenues paid out to salaries is thus approximately $130,000,000 a biennium. The following table shows the approximate number of State employees, classified according to departments:

Notes: (a) The above figures are preliminary. (b) University of California paid benefits are not included and jobs available.

Of the above total approximately 15,952 employees are on a monthly basis. 1671 are employed on an hourly basis, approximately 1000 are paid salaried and about 4000 are men who have been given some time commitment in the business largely as a matter of unemployment relief.

Of the total employees are approximately 12,000 not receiving more than minimum, but as a matter of fact approximately 2000 of this number are actually holding other or for temporary authorization, which means that 1000 have been authorized to their positions without the exemption which the Civil Service Act provides, and are holding office in violation of the statute at least of the Civil Service Law. The interesting fact remains, therefore, that out of the 24,782 figures on the Statement not only approximately 10,000 are actually holding their positions through civil service.

Paying of salaries.

Salaries fall in several general classifications:

1. Constitutional Salaries. Certain salaries are fixed by the Constitution and include:

Governor	$10,000
Lieutenant Governor	4,000
Attorney General	6,000
Controller	5,000
Treasurer	5,000
Secretary of State	5,000
Superintendent of Public Instruction	5,000
Legislators	1,200

2. Statutory salaries.—Approximately 430 salaries are set by the Legislature. These include generally:

- (a) Salaries of legislative employees.
- (b) Salaries of judiciary and certain attaches of the courts.
- (c) Salaries of directors of all administrative departments.
- (d) Salaries of chiefs of certain divisions, heads or executive officers of certain boards and commissions and other miscellaneous officials scattered throughout the State service. The statutory salaries in this group seem to have been created from time to time in a haphazard manner, and not in accord with any general plan of governmental coordination or administration.

3. Civil service salaries.—The Civil Service Commission fixes the salaries of approximately 11,000 State employees in accordance with a standard classification plan, which is obviously the proper way to set most State salaries. The civil service has set up approximately 250 separate classes of positions, which are further subdivided into approximately 1800 grades for recruiting and salary purposes. Each of these classes or grades has a minimum and a maximum salary range. All employees entering a classification should theoretically start at the minimum and gradually, by length of service and efficiency, work toward the maximum. The fact is, however, that the present actual salary schedule does not adhere in every case to this salary range. Approximately 100 civil service employees are receiving less than the minimum salaries prescribed for their positions, while something over 500 are receiving more than the maximum salaries set for their positions. It has been true, in the past, that a great many employees have entered the State service at salaries in excess of the minimum range which the law contemplates.

4. Salaries exempt from legislative control by the Constitution.—Salaries of the University of California employees are specifically exempt from legislative control by the Constitution. The university, at the present time, has approximately 4898 employees. Of the general fund biennial pay roll of approximately $27,000,000, approximately $15,000,000 goes to the pay roll of the University of California.

5. Salaries fixed by department heads with or without the approval of the Governor or Director of Finance. It is interesting to note that scattered all over through the State service are a large number of employees whose compensation is set by the department heads, sometimes with the approval of the Governor or Director of Finance, and sometimes apparently upon the responsibility of the department heads alone. There are a certain number of these so-called exempt positions in practically all of the departments. However, there are various boards, commissions, bureaus, and branches of the State service in which salaries of the entire personnel seem to be set by the department heads without effective control or regulation by anyone, although the Director of Finance has endeavored to exercise control in some cases. These include:

	Number of employees
Railroad Commission -----	132
Attorney General's Office -----	47
Harbor Commission -----	533
Athletic Commission -----	5*
State Board of Equalization -----	10
Tax Research Bureau -----	17
Medical Board -----	4
Dental Board -----	6
Pharmacy Board -----	12
Pilot Commission -----	2
Teachers colleges and special schools -----	827
Courts -----	86

* Plus inspectors.

The number of positions in other departments where the compensation is set by the department head with or without the approval of the Governor or Director of Finance can not be accurately given from the information before the committee, but, when added to the total shown above, it is apparent that the number of salaries set in this rather unscientific and unsatisfactory manner is very large.

6. Salaries controlled by existing minimum and prevailing wage laws.—Certain salaries in the State service are controlled by statutes setting minimum wages to be paid in certain departments. The principal examples of this are in the prisons, which employ some 500 persons, and in the State Printing Office which employs some 240. In addition, the so-called prevailing wage laws, which state that wages paid to persons performing construction work shall not be less than the general wage prevailing in the locality for similar work, affects a considerable number of State employees in the Division of Highways, the Division of Architecture, and the Board of State Harbor Commissioners. It is interesting to note that the Highway Division, for example, is forced to change the rate of pay many of their men receive when they are transferred from maintenance to construction work on account of the prevailing wage law, even though they are doing the same type of work in both instances. Probably considerably in excess of 10,000 employees are affected by these laws.

7. Wages influenced by existing laws relative to the technical or administrative to certain State officials. The laws provide that certain State employees in the Department of Institutions shall be furnished accommodations in addition to wages. This has resulted, in some instances, in the State furnishing accommodations amounting to more than $1,500 to officials who are receiving salaries of $7,000 and more.

The result of the foregoing facts is that not to say most of all State salaries are not under a proper system of general State control at the present time.

Civil service.

The State maintains a Civil Service Commission consisting of three members who are appointed by the Governor. The head of the Division of Personnel and Organization is Secretary of the board and general head of the Division. It is stated that the Chief of the Division of Personnel and Organization shall perform the duties imposed upon the executive member of the commission as provided in the Civil Service Act.

The theory of civil service is that employees should be appointed on a basis of efficiency rather than political consideration and should have permanent tenure providing they perform the duties of their employment on a satisfactory basis. Civil service is unquestionably in accord with good governmental practice and it is employed extensively by the Federal government, and by many of the States and cities.

The very idea of civil service indicates the control of State salaries should be by a nonpolitical board and theoretically such a board should have control over the great bulk of the salaries in the State with power to make adjustments from time to time to meet varying conditions and necessities. At present, under the laws existing in the State at the present time, no such authority and hence there is no control by our present Civil Service Commission in connection with this point. The result is that while apparently it seems the theory that the Civil Service Commission should have control of State salaries, and especially the salaries of the permanent staff, that such is the case now, is a matter of fact, the civil service laws which were recently applied to 12,000 civil service positions in the State at the time passed, and it actually applies to only about 10,000. The balance of State positions are either exempt positions which do not come under the control of the Civil Service laws or they have been filled by temporary appointments to permanent positions. The practice of temporary appointments to permanent positions is not new in the past. It is undoubtedly true that a certain number of appointments have been made to the State on a temporary basis, the result of which is that the practice has been used in the past to circumvent the Civil Service laws. Therefore, any system which employees have been appointed under temporary appointments and upon the commission has failed to give examinations for those positions for which which there are many cases, run into a number of points. The practical result of this is to prevent the spirit of the Civil Service Law and to prevent the administration to which to make political appointments which the law unquestionably would be made on the basis of efficiency as demonstrated by impartial civil service.

It is only fair to say that this practice has not been entirely eliminated, notwithstanding, and that the number of persons holding positions under temporary appointments has been reduced approximately 50 per cent since September of 1931. On the other hand, the committee does feel that the practice has been almost to a serious extent during the present administration and that there have been approximately 10,000 out of a total of 12,000 civil service positions in 1931 per cent are still held by employees under temporary appointments. It is serious reflection upon the administration of the civil service laws in this State.

It is obvious that this condition should be prevented by such legislation that no person should be allowed to hold a State civil service position under temporary authorization for a longer period than three months. These persons must submit sufficient to enable an examination to be held and a position filled in the regular manner.

With regard to the administration of the civil service in this State, reference is hereby made to the committee's report on the Department of Finance wherein it is recommended that the present Civil Service Commission be dissolved and that the present Division of Personnel and Organization be changed to a Division of Civil Service and Personnel acting under a State Board of Control consisting of the Controller, the Attorney General, and the Director of Finance, and that this new Service Commission, the Director of Finance, and the Division of Personnel and Organization.

Scale of salaries.

The committee is satisfied that a number of the present salary scales, particularly in the higher brackets, are radically out of line as compared with similar scales for like services in private industry at the present time. Unquestionable proper examples can be found in private employment where the scale of salaries paid compares approximately with the salaries paid in State service, and certain of the utilities are pointed out as particularly good examples of this. On the other hand, public sentiment seems to be unanimously agreed that State employees, generally, are receiving higher salaries than are being paid for like work on the outside, and the committee believes this is correct. The best proof of this is that while the State service contains its full proportion of employees in the so-called lower salary brackets, such as janitors, laborers, junior stenographers and clerks, et cetera, yet the average compensation received by the 17,000 odd employees, who may justly be classed as the normal personnel of the State service (excluding men employed on part-time work on the highways under the unemployment relief program and for various special services) is approximately $150 a month. It would seem, therefore, that a considerable salary reduction should be made in order to bring State salaries on a parity with salaries paid on the outside, at least during the present emergency. It must be borne in mind that State employees are after all servants of the taxpayers, and when we realize that all taxpayers have had their incomes drastically reduced and a considerable portion of the taxpayers have had their incomes wiped out entirely, the committee feels that it is only fair to ask that the State employees take cognizance of these conditions and submit to such reduction as will bring their compensation within the limits paid in private employment generally at the present time. As a matter of fact, most economists believe that it is only fair to request public employees to take a slightly lower scale of remuneration than is paid on the outside on account of the greater permanency of position which they enjoy.

The committee believes that this reduction should be correspondingly higher in the higher salary brackets and in this connection wishes to call attention to the fact that during the past two decades, the salaries of various State officials and employees have increased out of all relation to the salaries of the constitutional officers. It is rather difficult to believe that the services of various division and bureau chiefs are of more actual worth to the State than the services of the Attorney General, the State Controller, or the Superintendent of Public Instruction, yet these officers are restricted by the Constitution to the salaries of $6,000 and $5,000 a year. On the other hand, we find various bureau and department chiefs drawing some $7,000 to $10,000 a year and we find one State official who, by reason of drawing two salaries, receives compensation in the amount of $17,500 a year. The committee feels that during the present emergency the salaries of all State officials and employees with the exception of the Governor and the justices of the Appellate and Supreme Courts should be reduced to a figure not in excess of $6,000 per annum, which would put them on a parity with the other constitutional officers. The committee feels that higher salaries during the present time are unwarranted, either as a matter of principle or in justice to the constitutional officers.

As indicated above, the various inequalities in compensation received by various State officers and employees at the present time necessitated a general salary adjustment to accomplish equality of compensation for equal work performed, before any percentage salary cut can be made, or else grave individual injustices would necessarily result.

Overtime.

The committee is satisfied that the present practice of granting additional compensation for overtime work should be given careful consideration. It seems that in some branches of the State service no compensation for overtime is given, while in other branches additional compensation at the regular rate is paid and in certain other instances employees draw time and a half or double time compensation for overtime work. Obviously, this situation is not fair either to the taxpayers or to the employees themselves; and particularly in these times it seems to the committee that every effort should be made to spread the work among as many employees as possible instead of allowing certain employees to increase their compensation by overtime work at the expense of others less fortunate. The committee feels that in view of the greater permanency of State employment generally over private employment, consideration should be given to working out a plan by which all State regular employees, excepting those necessarily working on an hourly or strictly day basis, should be placed on a flat monthly salary, thus eliminating all overtime.

Effect of minimum and prevailing wage laws.

The effect of existing minimum and prevailing wage laws both upon the compensation received by employees and upon the total cost of State work should be carefully considered. The minimum wage laws apply generally to prison employees and provide their compensation shall not be below $110 a month. Prevailing wage laws apply to employees of the State Printing Plant and to all labor on new construction work done by the State either directly or by contract. In regard to the State Printing Plant, the law provides that the wages shall not be less than the scale for similar work prevailing in San Francisco. This can be very easily interpreted to mean that the employees in the State Printing Plant must be paid wages which correspond to the highest official union wage in San Francisco, whether that union wage is, as a matter of fact, being adhered to or not. The result of these laws is to increase the compensation of this particular class of employees far beyond the actual prevailing wages paid printers in the State generally. That is correct as between the State employees themselves, and it is not due to the Legislature.

The prevailing wage law as applied to non-construction work by State employees has been the subject of bitter controversy since its enactment. It was based upon the theory that it would compel State work to be done at the same wages as were paid to like labor on the outside, in the various facilities of the State and thus would prevent contractors on public works taking advantage of their laborers. The purpose was very laudable, but as time has passed, it has resulted in a great many cases, at least, in wage scales which, as a matter of common knowledge, are out of all proportion to wages actually paid for like services in private employment. In other words, we have the extreme example of men doing good and true work for private construction work and a more higher wage for like construction work done for the public. We have, as indicated before, one instance of a State department paying its laborers one wage when engaged in non-construction work and a different wage when engaged in the construction work, although the nature of the work performed is identical in both instances. We have the example of a carpenter drawing $6 a day in some State departments and other carpenters doing exactly the same type of work in some other department or branch, receiving $7 or $10 a day. The committee is decidedly not in favor of the State using its influence in permitting its influence to be such as to force other wages below a proper scale and this contingency ever and should be avoided by proper minimum wage laws affecting public employment. On the other hand, it is equally not true that the State should have to pay wage scales on its construction work which are far higher than the actual prevailing wage for like services in private employment. It is wrong in principle to do this, and it is also most impractical to do so when there are many employers should be to spread like labor wage because it should be possible. It is also obviously unfair for two persons engaged in the same type of work in different State departments to receive entirely different rates of pay.

It is, of course, very difficult to compare wages in the State with the $841 which the prevailing wage law contains at the present time. Any increase in so this increased cost would necessarily be an offsetting, but there is no doubt in the minds of the committee that the increased cost is considerable. We have consulted State officials who are connected with construction work and this matter and have also talked with contractors who engage in private work. Having our opinion upon these sources, we would estimate that the prevailing wage law has increased the State's labor cost in non-construction work by at least 25 per cent and it must be remembered that the labor cost of non-construction work is about $1,000,000. Under the above circumstances, the committee feels that both as justice to the taxpayers and to the employees of the State as a whole, consideration should be given to the proposition of repealing our present prevailing wage laws and establishing minimum wage laws in their stead.

The committee came to the conclusion that the proper plan to be pursued with relation to State salaries comprised the following plan:

1. The reduction of top salaries in the State service to a maximum of $200 per month and the setting down of all other salary ranges to equal proportion beneath these maximums in accordance with the duties and responsibilities of each position.
2. The adjustment of all individual rates of pay to fit within these revised salary scales. That is, employees whose present salaries are above the maximum salary in the actual range for the classification should be reduced to that maximum, and salaries which are at present below the actual minimum salary for the classification should be increased to that minimum.
3. The application of an increase of 10 to all salaries after adjustment, said out to be effective for the duration of the present financial emergency.
4. The repeal of all laws which, at the present time, provide or attempt with the basis of salary reduction above indicated.
5. The establishment of a Board of Control which shall have complete authority over the setting, adjusting and general administration of all State salaries, with the exception of constitutional salaries and a limited number of statutory salaries to be set by the Legislature.

Realizing our inability to make the adjustments contemplated by some one and two above, on a fair basis, due to our interference with the exact duties and responsibilities of many State positions, the committee asked the Division of Personnel and Organization to make these necessary adjustments and have the revised salary scales as submitted by the Division of Personnel in accordance with our request, the committee recommends that the following percentage reductions be made to all salaries:

- On the first $100, or less, 5 per cent.
- On all over $100, 3 1/2 per cent.

In accordance with the foregoing, the committee makes the following recommendations for carrying out the general plan above outlined:

1. The enactment of revised statutory salaries for the several heads of administrative departments, members of commissions and boards, the judges of the Appellate and Supreme Courts, and certain other employees; repeal of certain statutory salaries now in existence.

2. Repeal of the existing prevailing wage law. (Chapter 397, Statutes of 1931.)

3. Repeal of the existing laws relating to rates of pay for the State Printing Plant. (Section 531, Political Code.)

4. Repeal of existing law relating to minimum rates of pay for prison guards. (Section 1576, Penal Code of 1931.)

5. Repeal of existing law making mandatory the furnishing of maintenance to certain employees of the State hospitals and other institutions. (Section 2154, Political Code.)

6. Repeal of all laws which give certain department heads, boards, commissions, and elective officers the power to fix salaries of employees in their departments.

7. Repeal of all laws giving department heads power to fix salaries with the approval of the Governor or Director of Finance.

8. Repeal of miscellaneous laws now on the statute books relating to the payment of overtime such as, for example, section 2545a, Chapter 156 of the Political Code, relating to the payment of time and a half for overtime to employees under the control of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners.

9. Provide, by law, that the State Board of Control shall have the power to fix salary ranges for all positions in the State service, both exempt and civil service, save statutory and constitutional salaries and salaries paid members of the teaching profession in the State university.

10. The enactment of a law giving the Board of Control absolute authority to reduce salaries of individuals to bring them within proper salary ranges for the class of work in which they are employed. This will necessitate an amendment to section 5, subsection 1 of the Civil Service Act which, at present, provides that any cut in salary is, in effect, a demotion, and demotions can be made only as a result of preferring charges against an individual for cause.

11. The enactment of a law giving the Board of Control complete and final authority over the establishment of all new positions.

12. The enactment of legislation giving the Board of Control authority to abolish any and all positions in the State service which, in its opinion, are unnecessary.

13. Amend the Civil Service Law to provide that no person employed under temporary authorization shall be paid any salary in excess of the minimum salary for the class in which he is employed, and that it will be illegal for any person to be employed in any position under temporary authorization for a period in excess of six months.

14. In addition to these legislative changes, the Legislature should reduce the budget allotments for the several agencies of the State in amounts equal to the amounts desired to be saved through revisions and deductions in salaries, and make it mandatory upon the Board of Control to carry out the intent of the Legislature in this respect.

15. The Legislature should also enact a law providing for a definite emergency reduction in all salaries, expressed in percentage of salaries paid.

16. The enactment of fair minimum wage laws both for public service and public construction.

Due to the many factors to be taken into consideration, the committee can not accurately estimate the amount of savings which will be effected if the above recommendations are adopted. A computation made by the Department of Personnel, on the basis of a 5 and 15 per cent reduction shows a biennial saving of over $7,000,000, exclusive of salaries at the University of California. The saving effected by a 5 and 33 1/3 per cent cut, as recommended by the committee, would obviously be much greater.

In view of existing circumstances and the critical condition of State finances, the committee feels that the recommended salary reduction for the coming biennium does not constitute an injustice to the State employees, especially when we consider the reduced income of people generally and the prevalence of widespread unemployment and actual destitution.

Respectfully submitted.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

In the question of personal privilege, Senator Jespersen made the following statement:

In an article in today's paper, the following statement is contained:

"President Sullivan of the California Bankers stressed last night the sound condition of California banks and excoriated the 'yellow shirkers who withdrew their savings or deposits for hoarding purposes, and thereby precipitated the present situation.'

"Our entire banking structure is based upon credit, and credit is based, in turn, on bank deposits,' said Mr. Sullivan. 'The persons who, throughout the country, became frightened at nothing and withdrew their funds to hide it at home or to store it in deposit vaults were as unpatriotic as the slackers in the war.'

It appears to me that comment at this time is unnecessary except to say that a statement of this kind coming from the source that it does, to say the least, is unbecoming.

These people are more to blame than the depositors who withdrew their accounts, for the depositors have felt that speculation with other people's money by banks who have openly been dealing in their own securities is justification enough for the lack of confidence in these institutions.

ADJOURNMENT.

On motion of Senator Breed, at eleven o'clock and thirty-four minutes a.m., the President of the Senate declared the Senate adjourned until eleven o'clock a.m., Tuesday, March 7, 1933.

F. E. DALIN, Minute Clerk.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

SACRAMENTO, March 6, 1933.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the California State Legislature.

I have just received from the Honorable Ray Lyman Wilbur in his letter to me dated February 28, 1933, a copy of a report from two members of the Naval Oil Reserve Commission under date of February 27, 1933, concerning California Senate Joint Resolution No. 4, passed January 20, 1933.

I am attaching hereto for your information a copy of the above-mentioned report.

With my compliments and every good wish,

Very sincerely yours,

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

(COPY.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27, 1933.

Hon. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY: In response to your letter of February 16 requesting the views of the Naval Oil Reserve Commission on Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 of the State of California dated January 20, 1933, the commission, appointed in March, 1924, submitted a report and recommendation to the President under date of March 31, 1925, recommending a policy to be pursued in administration of the naval oil reserves. The policy recommended has to date been followed so far as circumstances have permitted. The following is quoted from the report:

"II. NAVAL RESERVE NUMBER TWO, BUENA VISTA HILLS, KERN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

"Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 2, created by Executive order of December 13, 1912, comprises 30,181 acres in the Buena Vista Hills district of the Sunset-Midway oil field on the west side of San Joaquin Valley in Kern County, California. It occupies the crest and flanks of the Buena Vista Hills uplift, involving the United and Honolulu anticlines and related minor folds, extending from a point near the center of the west line of T. 31 S., R. 23 E., Mount Diablo base and meridian, southeastward to approximately the middle of the east line of T. 32 S., R. 24 E., a distance of about 13 miles. Production in this field is obtained at depths of 2500 feet or more from sands occurring in a zone 700 feet or more in thickness, in the Etchegoin formation of the Tertiary system.

"Of this reserve, 67 per cent is patented; the remaining 33 per cent of government-owned land has been leased. About 15,940 acres, or 234 sections, is proved oil land of which 78 per cent is developed and producing. The patented lands so thoroughly checkerboard the entire reserve that its value as a future reserve is practically nothing and the commission believes that this reserve is chiefly valuable as a source of oil for reserve storage in tanks and possibly for trading purposes in perfecting Naval Reserve No. 1."

At the time the report referred to was made, the probability of the existence of undeveloped, deeper oil producing zones was given no consideration. However, since then a great deal more information is available and the Tumbler sands of Miocene Age have been developed and are highly productive in Kettleman Hills, Kings County, and farther south in the Belridge oil field, Kern County, not far distant from Naval Reserve No. 2. In addition, oil production has recently been obtained from the still deeper formations underlying the Tumbler sands in the Belridge field. The geology of the region indicates that these formations are present beneath Naval Reserve No. 2 as well as beneath Naval Reserve No. 1, and within reach of the drill with present-day equipment, particularly in Naval Reserve No. 2.

The statement in the quotation above that the leased government lands in Naval Reserve No. 2 might be used for trading purposes in perfecting Naval Reserve No. 1 was based on determinable values in the developed and producing sands; but in the light of probable unknown values in deeper sands, it is apparent that trading of lands involving unknown values could not be considered either by private interests or the government. These values, necessarily preliminary to any exchange of land with the purpose of consolidating Reserve No. 1, could not be determined until both Reserve No. 2 and Reserve No. 1 had been thoroughly developed and tested and valuations made. This would be entirely impractical and undesirable at this time or in the near future in Reserve No. 2, and would be entirely impractical and undesirable in Reserve No. 1, as it would defeat the purpose for which Reserve No. 1 is maintained. The cost of such drilling and testing, particularly in Reserve No. 1, would have to be shared, too, in some proportion by the Federal government with no returns until the existence of a national emergency. Owners of patented lands which would bear a share of the cost of testing would likewise be unwilling to make this great expenditure and suspend for an indefinite period a return on the investment.

The leased lands in Reserve No. 2 are held by lessees under twenty-year leases, subject to preferential right of renewal for ten-year periods under reasonable conditions. Some of these leases will expire as to the twenty-year period in about eight years, and it is the opinion of those in the Department of the Interior, having to do with public land leases, that the leases are entitled to extension in those cases as long as they are not in default of the lease payments. It therefore seems that Naval Reserve No. 2 has no lease relations as a naval reserve. "Oil and gas" storage in tanks could be readily obtained from any of the public lands now leased.

Referring to the Committee Senate Resolution, it appears that the extent of Congress contained in the Leading Act of 1909 is being indicated by maintaining Naval Reserve No. 2 because it can not be properly considered a reserve at all for the Navy and has no other value to the Navy.

It is therefore the plan of the subcommittee members of this committee that the necessary steps be taken to remove Naval Reserve No. 2 to the public lands under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior. A copy of that letter is being sent to the Secretary of the Navy.

Respectfully submitted

(Signed)
(Signed)

CHAS. E. COE, SECRETARY
R. D. BURN

Interest on refunds shall be allowed and added at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the computation.

SEC. 32. Every tax having priority for assessment and collection against the taxpayer, and every lien has the effect of a lien upon all property against all property of the delinquent, and the judgment is not satisfied nor the lien perfected until the tax is paid or the property sold for the payment thereof, unless otherwise provided for in this act.

Any person who shall neglect or refuse to make a return to the commissioner as required by this act, or who violates any other provision of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) and costs of prosecution, or to imprisonment, imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 37. Every order, decision or other official act of the commissioner or of the board shall be subject to review if such proceeding is brought within thirty days after the rendering of such order, decision or other official act in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I of Title I of Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon such review the court shall be limited to a consideration of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such order, decision or other official act, or not.

SEC. 38. The moneys in the unemployment relief fund shall be used solely for the purpose of providing temporary emergency unemployment relief to the destitute, needy and distressed people of this State. Said moneys shall be distributed to the counties and municipalities of the State by the Temporary Relief Board hereinafter created to aid the counties and municipalities of the State and to give them an additional source of credit for financing their relief programs.

SEC. 39. The distribution of such moneys shall be vested in a board to be known as the "Temporary Relief Board," which board shall determine in its sole discretion the manner and the amount of distribution of such moneys to the counties and municipalities. Such board shall consist of the following officials: The Director of Finance, who shall serve as chairman; the Attorney General; the State Controller; the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations; and the Director of the Department of Social Welfare. The Temporary Relief Board shall appoint and fix the salary of a secretary, who shall be exempt from the provisions of the State Civil Service Act, and such other employees, not so exempt, as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 38 to 40 inclusive of this act. The members of the Temporary Relief Board shall serve without additional compensation, but shall be allowed their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. They shall be authorized to expend out of the moneys in the unemployment relief fund, for the purpose of supervision and administration and for necessary office and clerical assistance, a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) per month.

The Temporary Relief Board shall have the power to make rules and regulations and to prescribe the conditions under which counties or municipalities shall be entitled to receive a portion of the moneys in the unemployment relief fund. It shall prescribe the manner in which the moneys given to the counties or municipalities shall be expended and the complete standards of relief to be maintained by said counties and municipalities, including the qualifications of the individuals to whom assistance may be granted; should any county or municipality fail to adhere to the standards so prescribed by the Temporary Relief Board, said board shall refuse to advance such county or municipality any additional sums of money. Said board shall require that any county or municipality that desires money shall contribute an amount stipulated by the Temporary Relief Board for the relief of the inhabitants of said county or municipality before receiving any moneys from the State.

SEC. 41. For the purpose of administering the powers herein delegated to it, the Temporary Relief Board or any member thereof shall have all the power granted to the heads of departments by section 353 of the Political Code of the State of California, and shall also have the power to administer oaths and to examine witnesses coming before it or him.

SEC. 42. Should any law be passed in the State of California authorizing a bond issue for the purpose of providing temporary emergency unemployment relief, no taxes levied under this act shall apply to sales made after the date when the proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall have been placed in the State treasury to the credit of the unemployment relief fund, or in any other fund designated in the bill authorizing such bond issue, for a place of deposit of the funds realized from the sale of said bonds. In any event no tax levied under this act shall apply to sales occurring on or after July 1, 1935.

SEC. 43. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such emergency: The public interest requires that funds be made available immediately to be used in furnishing relief to the jobless, destitute, and poverty stricken inhabitants of this State who have been unable to obtain employment to support themselves and their families. Such a condition is a menace to the health, morals and welfare of the people of this State. The United States of America, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has made funds available to the several States to carry out the above purpose, but has notified this State that unless necessary steps are taken by this State to provide funds for its own unemployment relief, no further funds will be advanced."

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

March 8, 1933.

To the Members of the Senate of the State of California:

I am transmitting herewith the proclamation issued by me today, promulgating Friday, March 10, 1933, and Saturday, March 11, 1933, as special holidays under the provisions of Chapter 28 of the Statutes of 1933. I have taken exception to the reason stated in said proclamation, but, inasmuch as one of the reasons received by me today signed by the Honorable William C. McKim and the Honorable Hiram W. Johnson, Senators from California, a copy of which is now attached hereto:

Respectfully,

(Signed.)

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

WHEREAS, A financial crisis exists throughout the United States, the adverse effect of which has been reflected in the State of California, and it is deemed unnecessary withdrawal of funds from banking institutions in this State; I deem it necessary in the public interest and for the preservation of the public affairs, peace, health and safety and for the protection of business and commerce, it is deemed to be expedient, that a period of special holidays be proclaimed until the legislation necessary thereto may be enacted, now, therefore:

I, James Rolph, Jr., acting by my authority as Governor of the State of California, under authority by law in me vested, do hereby declare such and all of the following days, to wit: Friday, March 10, 1933, and Saturday, March 11, 1933, to be special holidays under the provisions of Chapter 28 of the Statutes of 1933; all public offices and courts, and all public schools, of or under this State, as well as county, city and county, township, district or political subdivisions (except, shall) be open for transaction of business as on days which are not holidays.

In witness whereof, I, James Rolph, Jr., Governor of the State of California, acting by my authority as such, have hereunto signed my hand at the executive office in Sacramento, California, on this eighth day of March, 1933, and have hereunto caused the great seal of the State of California to be affixed.

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

Attest:

FRANK C. JORDAN, Secretary of State.

By CHAS. J. HAGERTY, Deputy Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8, 1933.

Hon. James Rolph, Jr., Governor of California, Sacramento, California.

Only this morning was it possible to obtain the views of the Comptroller of the Currency concerning the proposed bill contained in your bill of Sacramento night. The Comptroller thought it wise from the standpoint of the Federal government that nothing should be done by the government here in respect to any legislation contemplated in California until Congress acts in its special session tomorrow upon the legislation which will be presented to it. He expressed the view that what had thus far been done by the Federal government rendered it unnecessary or undesirable for him to do anything in regard to the State legislation at the moment and whether ultimately there would be any expression on his part could be determined only when the terms of the laws contemplated here tomorrow shall have been decided by Congress.

(Signed)

WM. G. McADOO.
HIRAM W. JOHNSON.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication from the Railroad Commission was received and read:

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, March 8, 1933.

To the Senate of the State of California.

GENTLEMEN: According to press reports there are before your body resolutions calling for certain information from this commission regarding the rates of return of the utilities of the State and kindred matters. Whether or not these resolutions are passed, this commission is desirous of not only furnishing any information wanted but of getting your aid in attempting to harmonize the income of the utilities with conditions obtaining with businesses and individuals. Some proposed legislation is now before you which may indirectly assist in this regard.

For the past three years this commission has been devoting especial attention to utility rates and has succeeded in reducing the return below what has been allowed in normal times, except where we have been attacked in the Federal courts. We have now three major rate cases under hearing. In addition to this, we have contemplated and have been preparing to take more drastic action which might or might not take us further into the Federal courts. On February 14th of this year the commission spread upon its minutes a resolution directing its departments to bring together in concise form the data necessary upon which to institute such emergency proceedings regarding rates and rates of return. We have not heretofore actually started such proceedings for four principal reasons:

1. Because to do so would have unduly interfered with the legal and proper process of the Legislature in the equalization of utility taxes, which matter we knew would be before your bodies.

2. Because we believed if equalization of taxes was accomplished the return of the utilities would be reduced substantially and perhaps as low or lower than we could accomplish by an attempt to exercise extraordinary regulatory powers.

3. Because we believed the proposed equalization of taxes would be a surer way of reducing return than drastic action on the part of this commission subject, as the latter action is, to delay and reversal through the Federal courts.

4. Because this commission is in a much stronger position to prevent rate increases than to reduce rates.

The commission is also advised through the press and by individual members that it is contemplated later in the session to attempt equalization of utility taxes. We wish to conform to the wishes of the Legislature in this matter. If it is your desire that we proceed at once to attempt drastic reduction of rates under the circumstances we are prepared to do so.

Respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

By CLYDE L. SEAVEY, President.

PARTIAL REPORTS OF FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE.

The following reports of Fact-Finding Committee were received and read:

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY-ONE.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF STATE GOVERNMENT.

During the current biennium, expenditures from the general fund will exceed revenues by approximately $40,000,000. The surplus of over $30,000,000 with which the biennium started on July 1, 1931, will be exhausted by next June 30th, and in its place will be left a deficit of probably no less than $10,000,000. It can not logically be assumed that we can anticipate higher revenues during the next biennium. The greater probability is that normal revenues will continue to shrink, further complicating the State's financial problem.

The 1933-1935 biennial budget submitted to the Legislature by the Governor provides for expenditures of $142,691,840 from the general fund. On the other hand, the most optimistic estimate of the general fund revenues for that period amount to $92,880,574, leaving a deficiency of approximately $50,000,000. When we add to this figure the $10,000,000 deficit which has accrued for the present biennium, we are faced with an admitted deficit for the 1933-1935 biennium of approximately $60,000,000.

Of the $92,000,000 general fund revenue, to accrue during the 1933-1935 biennium, $86,000,000 will go to pay fixed charges of the State government. These fixed charges are in general, elementary, high school and other educational appropriations, bond interest and redemption, welfare work, and pension payments, all of which will continue to accrue under existing law without any further legislative action. The balance of $6,000,000—the difference between $92,000,000 and $86,000,000—obviously falls by about $4,000,000 to equal the $10,000,000 deficit which we have already incurred. The unhappy fact remains, therefore, that the fixed charges and the deficit already incurred will use up all of our general fund revenues for the next biennium and some more in addition. We will start the new biennium without a single dollar available to pay any of the ordinary running expenses of State government, which include the support of prisons, hospitals, correctional schools, the State University, teachers' colleges and the National Guard, the maintenance of our courts, the executive and administrative departments of the State government and a multitude of other things. In fact, we will have at least $4,000,000 less than nothing.

IMPAIRMENT OF PUBLIC INCOME.

If the period of prosperity culminating in October, 1929, had continued and the ability of the people to pay taxes had remained unimpaired, the present cost of government would not occasion the extremely grave concern it does now. The fact remains, however, that even in 1929 our cost of government was far too high and was taking too large a proportion of our public income. It must be remembered that every dollar which goes to government means just that much less available for the general business, agricultural and industrial activities upon which any sustained prosperity rests; and that there is a very definite limitation upon the percentage of the public income which can safely be used for expenses of government. The situation is rendered particularly acute at the present time, however, because the tax paying ability of the people has been unmistakably and drastically affected by the economic readjustments now taking place. A complete new level of economic values is now being established. Wholesale commodity prices have reached the prewar level and in many cases are far below it. Wages are being reduced in accordance with the increased purchasing power of the dollar. Property values are falling and a precipitous decline in security prices is taking place. The tax burden must likewise undergo a change in conformity with the economic changes affecting public income.

Chart 1 illustrates the disparity between State expenditures and public income. Since 1927-1928, a predepression year, the expenditures of State government have increased approximately 45 per cent. During the same period, however, public income, as indicated by commodity prices, industrial earnings and factory pay rolls has decreased approximately 45 per cent. The only means by which the people ultimately support government is from income received from the field, the forest, the mine and the factory. Thus it is essential that the tax burden be reduced rather than increased because public income is the true measure of taxpaying ability.

COST OF STATE GOVERNMENT IN CALIFORNIA COMPARED WITH NATIONAL ECONOMIC TRENDS

JULY 1927 TO JUNE 1932

INDEX 1927-28=100

GROWTH OF STATE GOVERNMENT

The following chart illustrates the extent to which the cost of State government has increased.

This chart compares the percentage increase in the disbursements of State government with the percentage increase of the population of the State since 1860. During the past 70 years expenditures have increased over 14,000 per cent while the population has increased only 1400 per cent. In brief governmental expenditures over this period have increased just 10 times as rapidly as the increase in population. A sudden change in trend took place when the dual system of taxation was inaugurated in 1910 and the upward trend has continued to increase although revenues have been drastically reduced, particularly in the last two years. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that our State indebtedness has increased 2200 per cent since 1910. It was then approximately $5,000,000 and now it is approximately $140,000,000. These figures do not include the debt incurred by the local subdivisions: cities, counties, irrigation districts, et cetera, which have mounted into staggering sums.

INCREASE IN STATE ACTIVITIES.

The following list of State activities tabulated in chronological form, offers a significant explanation of the rising cost of State government. Naturally the cost of government will rise with the creation of new functions. It inevitably follows, therefore, that any substantial decrease in the cost of government must necessitate a reduction in the number of State activities. An effective economy program must therefore not be confined to trimming the budget of existing activities, but it must include the complete elimination of nonessential activities. In the opinion of the committee, it makes little difference whether these activities are supported from the general fund to which, theoretically at least, all the taxpayers contribute, or from some of the so-called special funds to which only special classes contribute. In the final analysis, all State activities are supported by the people of the State and the common separation of these activities into general fund or "public supported" activities, and special fund or "self-supporting" activities is erroneous and has been the subject of much confusion and wrong thinking in the public mind. In the very nature of things there can be no such thing as a self-supporting State agency. It is just a question of whether an activity is supported by the taxpayers generally or by a special group of taxpayers. The committee has no objection to recommending elimination of certain State activities considered patently self-supporting, but whether or not it is essential to a proper functioning of State government. All present State agencies are desirable to a certain extent or to certain groups, but if they are not essential to the proper conduct of State government they should be discontinued in the interest of the economy, at least during the present financial crisis.

The above list includes only those activities brought into existence by specific legislative enactment. In addition to the activities enumerated above, various other functions have been added by the departments themselves under general executive authority. These include a Division of Field Supervision in the Department of Institutions; radio broadcasting programs by several departments (in addition to short wave length information service as to weather conditions, et cetera, by the Department of Agriculture); publication of cook books; special departmental magazines and a host of other activities.

A most startling comparison is found in the table listing State expenditures in 1909-1910 and 1931-1932, found on page 39 of the report of the committee. During this period of time total expenditures have increased 247 per cent, while the population of the State has increased but 148 per cent. The expenditures of many departments have increased out of all proportion to population trend and apparent necessity. In considering the tremendous increase shown in the Department of Highways and Motor Vehicles, it is only fair to call attention to the fact that automobiles were few in number and modern highway almost unknown in 1910.

GENERAL.

Your committee has reviewed the financial condition of State government in great detail and has come to the conclusion that some measure of economy should be sought only after every possible economy has been effected. If public expenditures are not kept within public ability to pay, the inevitable result is bankruptcy and public bankruptcy will inevitably result in a paralysis of necessary governmental functions and a general governmental collapse. Symptoms of this condition are already making their appearance in other parts of our country and we must not let them appear in California. We find that our State has failed to find every effort to decrease expenditures and accordingly we have proposed that we proceed herewith, not only our findings in the matter of State government, but recommended ways and means by which the cost of that government can be reduced. To merely shift State burdens to county or other governmental units is not to reduce the cost of government, and our recommendations will not, we believe, result in shifting our present State costs to local units.

In the preparation of this report we have sought information and statistical data from every available source. Department heads and State officials have been consulted and in many cases have given most willing co-operation and have given us valuable information. Other members of the Legislature have cooperated with us in obtaining information and working out statistical data and information. The files of independent research agencies have been sought. Lack of time has prevented us from working as thoroughly as we wish we could undoubtedly be desirable, but we have analyzed the information available and we have drawn conclusions which represent, we believe, a pretty accurate picture. As stated above, our recommendations cover both general and special fund revenues of the State. Many diverse opinions have been expressed by interested individuals and groups which will be affected by the economic act proposed, but if the economic recommendations are to be realized, all State activities must be reduced and by a great many instances eliminated entirely, regardless of what, or whose special interests are adversely affected thereby.

The three accompanying tables showing (1) a summary of the 1932-1933 budget, (2) a summary of general and special funds and (3) a summary of revenues and expenditures over a 10-year period should present a fair general picture of the State financial condition.

CONCLUSIONS

In conclusion, we beg to repeat that if all of the proposed measures are effected, it will still be impossible to balance the budget with existing programs. There is not even a chance of liquidation of bonded indebtedness because the people are willing to pay the interest and redemption on the State debt by State fund revenues to pay the interest and redemption on the State fund bonds. The payments on the public debt must be paid. We can not close the books of our public nor close our State hospitals for the insane and neurological patients. We can not entirely eliminate our courts and courts consulting and administrative functions. Fixed charges to State government at the present time amount to a factor of complete retrenchment and have limited the scope of our administration.

Regardless of these limitations, we beg to recommend that the Legislature take the accompanying program so that additional funds for the State government be kept at a minimum.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY TWO

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Department of Natural Resources consists of the divisions: Forestry, Parks, Mines, Oil and Gas, and Fish and Game. The latter two divisions are self-supporting while the others are supported largely from the general fund. The various activities in the department are not similar in character and thus their services cannot be combined. They are joined together primarily for the purpose of simplifying their situation on the Governor's Council.

Departmental administration

In connection with the office of Director of Natural Resources, the committee feels that this coordinating position is not of sufficient importance to justify the present salary of $6,000 per annum. It is recommended that this position be made nonsalaried and that it be filled by the chief of one of the divisions or by an ex officio capacity without additional salary. This division maintains complete general supervision over the various activities, the various responsibilities being vested in division chiefs and various boards.

Division of Forestry

The State first became interested in the field of forestry in 1885 when the first Board of Forestry was established. In 1893, this board was organized as an economy measure and it was not until 1905 that the State commenced this activity. The work of the present Division of Forestry consists largely of the prevention and suppression of forest and brush fires, to lands not granted for the Federal government and land reclamation.

In this connection the committee wishes to call attention to the fact that one-third of the total area of California is within the boundaries of national forests and parks and that the major portion of the State's forest land is therefore under the jurisdiction of the Federal government. Moreover many important timber areas are protected by private timber interests at no expense to the State or government. As a result, the responsibility of the Division of Forestry is limited largely to the less important forest and brush areas of the State and therefore its importance is correspondingly less than would otherwise be the case.

In 1923-1924 the Division of Forestry expended $99,450 whereas in 1931-1932 its expenditures approximated $585,580, an increase of 487 per cent. Although a substantial portion of this money is provided by the Federal government for expenditure in areas adjacent to national forests, the committee feels that the State must of necessity curtail its operations in this direction. Protection can be confined to the most important areas and attention can be diverted from areas of low economic value. The committee recommends, therefore, that the appropriation for the support of the Division of Forestry be limited to $100,000 annually, including Federal aid which is allowed on a matching basis. The saving to the State would approximate $250,000 for the biennium.

Division of Parks.

The function of the Division of Parks is the operation and maintenance of a state-wide system of parks and historical monuments. Up to 1927 when a $6,000,000 bond issue was voted for the purpose of acquiring park areas, the State's interest in parks was limited. Today the Division of Parks is engaged in a somewhat extensive program of park development in spite of the fact that it is understood that the recently acquired park areas were to be purchased with the view of holding them as reserves for posterity and to withdraw them from commercial exploitation.

Although the Division of Parks contemplates the development of a schedule of fees and rents which will place the system of parks more nearly on a self-supporting basis, it is highly improbable that this can be accomplished on short notice. The increased requests contained in the proposed budget, including a request for the appointment of 27 new employees, do not appear justifiable, even in spite of the self-supporting objective. The committee feels that park expenditures should be limited to a bare minimum, recognizing that recreation is probably one of the least essential activities of State government. It is recommended that the appropriation for the support of the Division of Parks be reduced from $279,046 to $100,000 for the next biennium.

Inasmuch as general retrenchment will make space in State office buildings available, it is further recommended that the head office of the Division of Parks be moved from its present rented quarters in San Francisco to Sacramento.

Chapter 1206 of the Statutes of 1931 appropriated $5,000 for the purpose of constructing a monument to the memory of Chief Solano, to be located in Solano County. Inasmuch as this purpose is not absolutely essential and further, in that the money so appropriated has not been spent, it is recommended that this act be repealed.

Division of Mines.

In order to encourage the development of the mineral resources of California, the State maintains the Division of Mines. This activity was established in 1880 and has operated on a modest scale continuously since that time. Its principal function is the collection and dissemination of information on mines and mining. For this purpose the division maintains branch offices in Redding, Sacramento and Los Angeles, in addition to the head office in the Ferry Building in San Francisco.

Although branch offices lend to the convenience of the public and field employees, their operation incurs an expense which might well be avoided by centralization. Much of the information furnished by these offices could be handled satisfactorily by the main office by correspondence. Field employees can be headquartered in proper geographical centers without the need for branch offices. In the light of needed economy, the committee recommends the closing of all branch offices of the Division of Mines.

For the purpose of discouraging the theft by employees of high grade ore, a practice commonly referred to as "high grading," the Division of Mines endeavors to supervise the buyers of such ore and thereby restrict the channels through which stolen metal might pass. It is estimated that this service, which costs the State approximately $10,000 a biennium, saves the gold mining industry several hundred thousand dollars annually. Approximately 105 ore buyers are now licensed. Of this number, 55 buy less than $1,000 worth of gold annually. Inasmuch as this inspection is a special service to the gold mining industry and involves no benefit to society as a whole, the committee recommends that it be discontinued or, if the industry desires, that it be supported by voluntary contributions by those receiving the benefit.

Intensive geological studies of selected areas of the State are made under the jurisdiction of the Division of Mines for the purpose of supplying this information to the mining industry and others interested in the geology of California. The work is done mostly by university faculty members and students without salary, only expenses being paid by the State. In addition, the geological material of mining and oil companies is compiled and published by the division. The budget requests $22,000 for the support of this activity. Although the committee appreinto the value of this service, it is recommended that the appropriation for this purpose be suspended for the next biennium.

In accordance with the above recommendations the commission hopes that the allowance for the support of the Division of Mines, including the geological survey, be limited to $100,000 for the next biennium. This allowance should be further reduced by the general reduction in salaries which is recommended elsewhere in this report.

Division of Oil and Gas

The Division of Oil and Gas is a self-supporting activity maintained at the expense of and at the expense of the oil industry. Its purpose is to improve the drilling and maintenance of oil wells with the view of preventing waste of and damage to oil deposits. Although no specific measures are recommended, a substantial saving to the industry will result from the application of salary reductions without exception in this report.

Division of Fish and Game

The Division of Fish and Game is a part of the Department of Natural Resources and is directly charged with the conservation and protection of game, fur-bearing birds and fishes. The division is headed by a commissioner of these resources and is in the direct charge of an executive officer. The system of the commission, as defined in the Political Code setting up this department, includes the enforcement of the laws enacted for the protection of fish and game, the establishment and maintenance of fish hatcheries for stocking the waters of this State with foreign and native fish, the purchase and transportation of game or any of the animals and birds, the stocking of such spawn in the waters of the State, the supervision of animal fish and game breeding assistants, the regulation of the business of gamekeeping, transportation and protection of game birds and animals, the carrying of animals, birds, fishes and game with birds and animals to market, the investigation of all problems of disease of birds, animals and fishes, to provide for the preservation, distribution, acquisition and perpetuation of game birds and animals and for that purpose the acquisition by purchase, lease, rental or otherwise of such lands as may be necessary for the refuge or public shooting grounds; the supervision of biological research and field investigations as shall pertain to the conservation, propagation, protection and perpetuation of birds, animals and fishes.

Support

The work of the Division of Fish and Game is supported entirely from funds derived from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses, fur and game, from market fishermen's licenses, trapping licenses, fish buyers' and buyers' game licenses, fish buyers' licenses, game breeders' license, fish buyers' license, commercial fish buyers' licenses, kelp license, commercial fish buyers' license, and commercial fish buyers' licenses and from fines and forfeitures and the fish and game bycatchers.

From these various sources of income a revenue of $1,758,148.80 was derived during the 83d fiscal year. All of this money is to be set aside in a special fund for the maintenance of the Division of Fish and Game. All of the expenditures of the division must come from this fund and the net of 1932 was about the same. During the past few years the income of the division has been continually increased, but this has been due to the increase in the fee charged for licenses and an increased interest in hunting and fishing on the part of the ever-increasing population, which in turn has necessitated more conservation measures to protect deer placed on all the phases of wildlife. In order to keep pace with this growing demand for game and fish, it has been necessary to increase all methods for increasing propagation and protection of game animals and fish.

The estimated income for the 84th fiscal year was set at $1,758,000. At the present time there has been a marked falling off in the income of the Division of Fish and Game and at the present time it is estimated that the total income for the present fiscal year will show a decrease from the amount set out in the budget of at least $200,000.

Bureau

In furtherance of the duties imposed by law upon the Fish and Game Commission, the division maintains a Bureau of Field for the enforcement of fish and game laws, and this bureau assists materially in the process of conservation and protection. This bureau in cooperation with the Bureau of Fish Culture is responsible for the planting of fish from hatcheries, and in the suppression of fish and game poisons, the trapping of predatory animals and vermin which is necessary to preserve wild life, in addition to enforcing those provisions of the statute relating to seasons of taking fish and game, fur-bearing birds, and the method of taking fish and game.

The Bureau of Fish Culture of the division operates 25 hatcheries, two tank stations, 30 egg taking stations, 78 breeding and rearing ponds from which 68,000,000 trout and over 9,000,000 salmon were planted during the biennium ending 1932-1933. It is interesting to note that the largest fish hatchery in the world during exclusively to the propagation of trout, is operated by this bureau at Miami, St. George, Utah.

The program of raising fish to larger sizes has been continued and during the biennium just passed 390,000 trout ranging from five to nine inches in length were planted from the rearing ponds of the division. In the spring of 1932, small-mouthed black bass ponds were constructed near Friant in Fresno County. The creation of these new ponds will materially augment the supply of game fishes in the suitable water areas of the State.

Cooperative trout investigation has been undertaken by the United States Bureau of Fisheries and the Division of Fish and Game to determine a policy and program for the hatchery rearing protection of the trout of our State. As a result of this work material benefits will accrue to sportsmen interested in inland fishing.

Commercial fisheries.

The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has for its duties the gathering and analyses of statistics of the commercial fisheries, to carry on fact-finding activities and to enforce the State commercial fisheries laws. The commercial fish catch in California is larger than that of any other State in the United States and is only exceeded by that of the Territory of Alaska.

During the past biennial period investigations have been made on the efficiencies of various types of nets and fishing gear used and with the assistance of the United States Bureau of Fisheries has been encouraging the cultivation of oysters in the State, more particularly in the Humboldt Bay region. The studies of salmon have been continued and important work has been done on white sea bass, barracuda, striped bass and the life history of sardines. This work has furnished a basis of knowledge on which can be based the measures designed to conserve the valuable fisheries of the State.

The total catch of fish in the State has declined considerably during the past biennium due to the financial depression. There is also an increasing decrease in revenue obtained from the commercial fisheries privilege tax and commercial fishing licenses, due mainly to the great slump in the sardine industry. The decline of this revenue was greater than anticipated so that at the end of the biennial period 1931-1932 there is no surplus in the fund upon which the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has to operate.

In regard to the commercial privilege tax, it is found that the tax rate in California is very much less than that in the Territory of Alaska or the States of Washington or Oregon. The tax rate in California on fish is 50 cents per ton for fish which are used for canning or packing purposes. There is no tax on the fish which are used in the fresh fish markets. The average tax in Alaska, Washington and Oregon is much higher than in California.

The Division of Fish and Game now owns and operates four refuges for migratory water fowl under the supervision of the Bureau of Game Refuges; one of these areas comprises 3000 acres in the San Joaquin Valley near Los Banos; one is of 1100 acres in Imperial County; another of 2500 acres in the Sacramento Valley, near Gridley; another 1720 acres on Joice Island in the heart of the Suisun Bay duck area. These areas provide loafing and feeding grounds for migratory water fowl during their winter stay in California.

In addition to the operating of refuges owned by the State this bureau is responsible for the posting and control of predators on the other refuges set aside by the Legislature for the improvement of game conditions. Lion hunters and trappers are employed for this purpose.

The Bureau of Game Farms operated by the Division of Fish and Game maintains two game farms for the production and distribution of pheasants and valley quail. During the two years just passed 19,000 additional pheasants have been distributed from the two game farms operated by the division, in addition to some 48,000 eggs distributed to interested groups and individuals who have raised and released over 14,000 birds from these eggs.

During 1932 a program of special quail work was instigated by this bureau, looking forward to the improvement of quail shooting in suitable areas throughout California. Four thousand birds were reared in the game farms for liberation on these projects in addition to a suitable quantity of breeding stock being reserved for the coming year.

Throughout southern California, areas have been developed looking forward to an increase in natural propagation of quail. All these areas now being worked on by the division will be available to the sportsmen. The game rights of the selected areas are being turned over to the State. Water and food will be developed on these areas and quail enemies controlled. These areas are properly posted and patrolled and certain portions made available for public shooting.

The pollution of areas desirable for fish life is checked by the Bureau of Hydraulics which is one of the most important factors in the preservation of our natural streams in California.

Properties.

In the administration of the work of the various bureaus of the Division of Fish and Game, certain lands and improvements have been purchased with which to carry on the activities of the various agencies. During the time the commission has been

(3) While the salaries paid to the employees of this department have been adjusted and reduced, they should be further reduced and brought in line with the salary reduction recommended by this committee. The commission employs an attorney at $500 per month and a publicity agent at $300 per month. The salary of the latter was increased from $175 to $300 without any material increase in duties. Under the policy heretofore adopted by this committee both offices should be abolished and the money thus conserved should be used in the propagation of the fish and game.

(4) The Division of Fish and Game should be administered as a separate entity, and we recommend that it be administered entirely by the commission uninterfered with by any other department, save that salaries should be set, and any further purchases of game refuges approved by the Board of Control.

(5) The payment of commissions on sale of licenses should be discontinued.

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY-THREE.

DEPARTMENT OF INVESTMENT.

To the Honorable Frank F. Merriam, President, and Members of the Senate.

The Department of Investment consists of five divisions maintained for the purpose of enforcing laws governing the operations of certain types of financial institutions. These institutions include State banks, building and loan associations, corporations selling or using securities, insurance companies, and real estate brokers. In addition, the department includes the California District Securities Commission which supervises the fiscal affairs of irrigation districts. All divisions except the District Securities Commission are self-supporting.

Division of Banking.

The Superintendent of Banks is the head of the Division of Banking and is charged with the administration and enforcement of the State Bank Act. Periodical examinations are made to determine the solvency of each bank under its jurisdiction. Another function of the division is the certification of bond issues as legal investments for savings banks.

The personnel of the department consists of 40 and for the next biennium two additional employees are requested. The number in 1923-1925 biennium was 36. The Superintendent of Banks receives $10,000 per year salary and the pay roll of the department totals $282,000 for the biennium, making it one of the highest salaried groups in the State service. Expenditures for the 1923-1925 biennium totaled $412,950 and for the 1923-1925 biennium the estimated expenditures are $360,340. The decrease in the cost of the department is due to the fact that during the past years many State banks have become national banks or have been absorbed, lessening the work of the State Banking Department. Also in 1923-1924 the function of the present Building and Loan Department was carried on by the Division of Banking. The department is supported from assessments levied upon the banks which it investigates.

According to the proposed budget, the estimated expenditures for the department for the coming biennium will exceed estimated revenue by $63,740, which deficit it is expected will be paid from the department's special fund.

The committee makes the following recommendations:

1. The salary of the Superintendent of Banks be reduced from $10,000 to $6,000.
2. That the positions of the attorney, assistant attorney and traveling clerk be eliminated.
3. That the general salary cut, elsewhere recommended, be applied to this department.

Division of Building and Loan.

The Building and Loan Commissioner is charged by law with the administration and enforcement of the Building and Loan Association Act and of all other laws relating to the organization, operation, consolidation and liquidation of associations.

It is his duty to license eligible associations each fiscal year; to examine into the affairs of each domestic or foreign association doing business in this State at least once each year; receive and file reports required by law, and report to the Governor each year on the condition of all associations.

The commissioner has power to make appraisements to take over associations under provisions of the law, and to liquidate such associations taken over or allow them to resume business under such conditions as he may approve.

The personnel of the division increased from 40 in the previous biennium to 50, and 24 employees. In the fiscal year 1922-1923 the expenditures of this office amounted to $14,166, while in the fiscal year 1931-1932 the expenditures amounted to $155,695, an increase of 906 per cent. This growth in expenditures for the five-year period is due to the addition of new buildings and lease agreements and to the increased cost of the material and costs of building and lease agreements in the State. This increased lease expenditures and personnel, the additional expense being met from the general fund, which has since been reduced.

We wish to commend the Building and Lease Division for its efficient and efficient administration at the present time.

The committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That the salary of the Commissioner of State be reduced to $1,000.
2. That the general salary and compensation recommended be applied to this department.

Division of Corporations

The Division of Corporations Administers, regulates and controls the formation and sale of corporate securities. Its principal function is the regulation of corporations and corporations, and the supervision of corporations, with the exception of corporations in California, and the supervision of trusts and trusts. Among the corporations in the Corporate Securities, the Industrial Loan, the Credit Union, the Insurance, and the Personal Property Business Act.

The office of Corporations Commission was created by 1902. Since its creation the largest activity in the Department of Investment. Although it is self-sustaining economies are in place as a part of the general administrative program and being recommended. As an illustration of the economies and the reduction of the cost of expenditures, over a period of years, in the fiscal year 1922-1923, the amount of expenditures of the division was $15,150, in 1931-1932, the amount of expenditures was $15,150, an increase of 111 per cent.

The Personal Property Business Act, which is a law, authorized the work of the division after it became necessary to administer the law. The division was created in 1910. The amount of the expenditures of this law has been large in proportion to the other divisions, but the division has not been necessary the expenditure of large sums of money in making such and such divisions.

The revenues of the division are derived from fees and from the money collected does not in any sense reflect the volume of work to be performed. In previous years receipts are sufficient to pay the work of the division, but in terms of economic stress, particularly during periods of depression, the division has received funds from the State and from the State, but it is not able to do so in the work of the division.

Realizing the need for economy, however, the division has continued with the economy by developing a general economy program. The general program contains an allotment of $84,816 to which is the amount of the division during the current biennium. This figure somewhat exceeds the actual expenditures of the current biennium, with the result that the program of the division is in the direction of expansion rather than contraction. Accordingly the Commission Commission has revised his proposed budget recommendations for the general economy to recommend the following:

1. That the total allotment for the Division of Corporations be reduced from $84,816, as shown in the Governor's fiscal year budget, to $69,200 or 18.7 per cent. In order to accomplish this the pay roll would be reduced from $663,600 to $506,640 or 23.7 per cent and the personnel would be reduced from 144 to 106 or 26.4 per cent. The total saving would approximate $157,560.
2. That as a part of the move saving the Division of Corporations, the reports of the Division of Oil and Gas and the Division of Mines, and the Department of Natural Resources, rather than making reports and of engineers of its own.
3. That by the adoption of the proposed recommendations in the reduction of the clerical and stenographic staff, and a more economical construction of civil service employees, still further economies could be obtained.
4. That the above economies shall be exclusive of the salary reductions recommended elsewhere in this report.

If the above mentioned economies are not adopted and the budget otherwise is reduced as recommended, the division will continue to have a large balance in the Corporation Commission fund. Revenues are expected to approximate $84,000 during the next biennium and with a beginning balance of approximately $6,000, this figure, the total money available will be in the neighborhood of $90,000. Expenditures, as outlined above, however, will approximate $69,200, leaving a fund balance of $20,800 on June 30, 1935. The committee believes that either a reduction in the schedule of fees should be effected so that a portion of this balance should be transferred to the general fund where relief is greatly needed. One alternative would be to abolish the Corporation Commission fund and finance operations out of the general fund where the division's present revenues would also be placed.

Division of Insurance

The Division of Insurance administers the State Insurance Act, regulating companies authorized to engage in the insurance business in this State. Periodical examinations are made to determine the solvency of companies. This is a well-established function of State government, having been in existence since 1868, when the office of Insurance Commissioner was first established. The division has a budget allotment of $359,120 for the next biennium and 44 employees. This budget allotment, however, greatly exceeds expenditures of previous years. In the biennium 1923-1925, for example, the expenditures of the division amounted to $128,362, while in 1931-1933 its expenditures amount to $316,449, an increase of one hundred forty-six (146) per cent. During this period the population of the State increased but twenty-six (26) per cent.

Revenues are derived largely from fees of various types, all of which are a charge upon the insurance business. Normally, these revenues have exceeded the expenditures of the division with the result that a large surplus has been transferred periodically from the insurance fund to the general fund. During the past two years, however, expenditures have increased with great rapidity and revenues have declined with the result that the present budget of the division exceeds by a large sum the present available income. The following table shows the trend of revenues and expenditures, by biennial periods, since 1923-1925, compared with the trend of insurance premiums, as indicated by the general fund tax of 2.6 per cent.

TREND OF REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES DIVISION OF INSURANCE

Biennium	General fund tax on insurance premiums (2.6%)	Expenses	Revenues to general fund	Revenues	Estimated surplus

Source: Division of Insurance records.

Because of the recent decline in revenues the Division of Insurance now proposes to seek new sources of revenue. The proposed budget for 1933-1935 allots $359,120 for the support of the division while normal revenues are predicted to amount only to $165,900. Accordingly, the budget sets up an item of additional revenue amounting to $200,000 for the biennium, contemplating that legislation will be enacted for this purpose.

In view of the above facts and the need for a reduction in expenditures rather than an increase in expenditures, the committee makes the following recommendations:

1. Inasmuch as the volume of insurance premiums is declining and the insurance companies are not receptive to an additional burden at this time, it is recommended that the budget allotment for the support of the Division of Insurance be reduced from $359,120 for the 1933-1935 biennium to $165,000, which amount is expected from existing schedules of fees and other sources of revenue. Even with this reduction of $194,000, the budget will still exceed the 1927-1929 biennial expenditures of $150,903.

2. In connection with the operation of the division the committee observes that a large sum of money is devoted to the payment of appraisal fees. Inasmuch as field examiners have access to appraisal information from banks and other sources without cost, the committee recommends that the Division of Insurance discontinue its practice of paying fees to private individuals for their services in making appraisals of property and securities.

3. The committee also observes that the Division of Insurance makes examinations of companies and handles liquidations on a fee basis, the revenue of such being placed in a trust fund rather than in the State treasury. It is recommended that all money handled by the division pass through the hands of the State treasury and be subject to the audit of the State Controller.

4. It is further recommended that the above savings be made, exclusive of the reduction in salaries, which is recommended elsewhere in this report.

In conclusion the committee wishes to suggest that consideration be given to the advisability of financing the operations of the Division of Insurance through the general fund. Both expenditures and existing special revenues would thus be controlled through the general fund.

Division of Real Estate

The Division of Real Estate was established in 1919. Its primary function is to regulate and supervise the real estate business in the State of Iowa, to protect the public against fraud and unscrupulous practices and influences. The division examines and licenses real estate brokers and persons and companies subdividing projects both within and without the State. These requirements are placed upon a fee basis and the necessary expenses are paid for by the officials of the department.

The following table shows the expenditures of the division over the past five bienniums:

Year	Total Income	Total Receipts	Actual Expenses	Balance Forwarded	Change in Balance
					1921-22	1922-23
1923-1925	127,000	$470,163.52	$291,062.14	$244,666.38	$4,000.00	00
1925-1927	118,000	458,772.75	278,552.78	280,000.00	0.00	40
1927-1929	128,000	490,717.08	307,012.48	307,700.00	0.00	00
1929-1931	101,000	420,424.26	300,401.26	000.00	0.00	00
1931-1933	68,000	284,087.44	284,087.44	000.00	0.00	000
1933-1935	55,000	280,640.00	280,640.00	000.00	0.00	000

NOTE: The estimated income for the 1933-35 biennium is based upon the present rate of the license fee of $10.00.

The statistical data above presented show that the peak load of the division was reached in 1927-1929. From that time there has been a steady decline in the business of the division. The division estimates that the amount of income needed for the next biennium will be $10,000 less than that for the present biennium. The budget estimate, however, calls for an increase in expenditures from $244,666 to $280,000. This we do not feel to be keeping either with the demand upon the division or the demand for economy on part of government. This tax department is a so-called self-supporting one and we cannot see payment in the form of special demands upon it and present economic conditions. The economy in tax prices can be met either by the broker, salesman or the public.

The present personnel of the division consists of a superintendent and a staff of 77. The commissioner's salary is $81,000 a year and that of the chief clerk is $4,500 a year.

There is rather a general feeling that the division has failed in carrying out best practices in real estate promotion or education. The department has been found by the present commission to be in a bad way and that it had failed to maintain all three parties concerned in the real estate business and were just carrying on a business which was not only a waste of money but also a waste of time. The Real Estate Association has proposed a budget under the commission form, which would reduce the cost of the office to $280,000 a biennium.

While the committee is not in a position to reduce the present amount of the commission, it believes that the division should function under present conditions on a sum not to exceed $200,000 for the biennium. This will give the department a larger operating fund than is allowed in most other State agencies in the administration of the commission.

An effective remedy to the present and the ultimate permanent one is suggested by the elimination of the present bonding provisions. It was contended at the time of the application of the bond that it would prevent the payment of a commission on real estate. The result has been just the opposite, the bond provision has been used as a shield by agents (being paid in most cases) and the public has been led to believe that such a bond would mean a security of payment and of satisfaction and fairness in dealing and the public has been disappointed. The legitimate dealer has suffered for the victims of the law. It has caused a heavy burden upon the business and has forced to protect the masses. It has not produced a return for the department but does add a heavy expense to the dealer and to the department. It is our suggestion that legislation bearing toward the elimination of the bond provision be enacted.

We therefore recommend:

1. That the salary of the administrative head of the division be reduced from $81,000 a year to $4,000 a year.
2. That the present bond requirement be eliminated.
3. That the budget of the division be reduced to $200,000.

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY-FOUR.

To the Honorable Frank F. Merriam, President, and to the Members of the Senate of the State of California.

Your committee, appointed pursuant to resolution of the Senate, for the purpose of surveying State activities and making recommendations concerning the same, hereby reports concerning the:

STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

The State Railroad Commission is the body established by the Constitution for the purpose of regulating public utilities. The Railroad Commission must make examinations, establish rates, conduct hearings and promulgate regulations for public utilities.

The commission consists of five men who draw salaries of $8,000 a year apiece and are appointed by the Governor.

There was appropriated for the support of the commission for the 1931-1933 biennium $1,941,300. The actual expenditures for that period will probably be about $45,000 less than the amount appropriated.

There is set up for the forthcoming biennium $984,280 as compared to $793,600 for the 1923-1925 biennium. The largest portion of this amount (approximately 80 per cent) is for salaries and wages. Obviously if any material reduction is to be had it must be out of the reduction in salaries and wages. There are 126 employees, including the commissioners. Due to the technical nature of the work, the employees would be classed as among the higher paid employees of the State, the average being approximately $230 per month. The employees are selected by the commission, and the salaries fixed by the commission, with the consent of the Finance Department. They are not subject to civil service.

The committee believes, and therefore recommends, that the appropriation for the coming biennium be reduced by $150,000 and the method of application of this reduction be left to the discretion of the commission.

With regard to the salaries of the commissioners, the committee feels that their duties are on a parity with those of the judges of the appellate courts, and that their compensation should be set at the same figure as that of the judges.

Teachers' retirement fund.

Since 1913 the State has operated a public school teachers' permanent fund. The purpose of this fund is to provide salaries for teachers who have taught in the public schools of this State for thirty years or more. The fund is supported partly from contributions from teachers amounting to $12 per year per teacher and partly from a contribution from the general fund amounting to the equivalent of 5 per cent of the revenues derived from inheritance taxes.

During the current biennium, contribution from teachers will amount to approximately $1,939,845 while the State's contribution will amount to $1,191,479. In addition interest on funds invested will amount to $426,802. Shrinkage in inheritance tax revenues will reduce the State's contribution next biennium to approximately $525,000.

The committee appreciates the value of providing retirement salaries for superannuated public employees but the question arises as to the financial ability of the State to sustain such retirement systems. These benefits are not generally available to citizens in private life and therefore it does not seem fair to tax society in general for the support of pensions available only to a certain class of public employees. Our teachers are comparatively well paid and enjoy security of position not enjoyed by many. The committee recommends, therefore, that the State discontinue its contributions to the public school teachers' permanent fund and that the teachers be asked to support the fund entirely from their own contributions.

State-owned automobiles.

In connection with the report on state-owned automobiles, previously submitted (see fifth partial report of committee), the following statistical data is given. #### Tax delinquent property.

As is well known, if taxes on real property are not paid for a period of five years they are finally sold to the State and administered by the Controller's office. According to the best estimates the committee could secure, approximately 25 per cent of the area of the State has finally come back into the State ownership, through tax sales. This vast area was once on the tax roll, but because of the rise in the tax burden has been removed from private ownership. Of course these areas consist, largely, of land of low economic value, but the fact that this large percentage of our lands have reverted to the State for nonpayment of taxes is not a source of comfort.

The committee feels that present laws make unduly difficult the task of getting these lands back on the tax rolls. Indeed, it seems to the committee extremely doubtful if the situation can ever be handled satisfactorily under the present conditions, and with the administration of all these lands lodged in one State office.

It would seem more logical to have these lands sold to the counties in which they lie and placed under the administration of the county auditor or some other official. As the primary source of county income is taxes on common property, it is thought that there would be a greater incentive for the county to get this property back on the tax rolls with a resultant benefit to every interest concerned.

The committee further recommends that the present arbitrary laws, prescribing the method of sale, be amended so as to reduce advertising costs and allow the officer greater latitude in disposing of the property. The committee feels that it would be better to have these lands sold even for a very nominal consideration and placed back on the tax rolls than to have the present condition continue.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE.

CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS.

Since the beginning of statehood the State has maintained several constitutional offices each with a specific responsibility governed by the State Constitution. These offices include the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Attorney General, the Controller, the Treasurer, the Secretary of State and the Board of Equalization. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is also a constitutional officer. Each of these officers is elected directly by the people.

Governor's office.

We note a total appropriation of $174,840 for the 1931-1932 session as set out in the Governor's budget. This amount is divided as follows:

Governor's salary	$22,000
Governor's special confidential secretary (assisted secretary)	10,000
Staff of Governor's residence	17,000
Memberships of Executive Mansion	18,800
Support of Governor's office
Salaries	64,000
Supplies and expense	20,000
Total	$174,840

Of the total amount, $120,000 is paid in the budget year. Thereafter, and the $18,840 (less for membership of the Executive Mansion is paid under the Department of Finance).

The personnel of this office totals 37, including the Governor, five of which are employed at the Executive Mansion. In addition to this there are four secretaries in the Governor's office at the present time (supervising three other secretaries). The expense of these four secretaries is charged to the Department of Finance.

1930-1931	$168,080
1931-1932	174,840
Increase of	$6,760

A large part of this increase is due to the increase of personnel allowed by the last Legislature, and to the increase of salaries.

Section 885 of the Political Code, enacted in 1907, provided that the Governor may appoint one private secretary, one confidential secretary and one assistant secretary, each with an annual salary of $5,000. Prior to the enactment of this law the Governor was allowed one private secretary at $5,000 per annum, and one confidential secretary at $3,000.

There is no question in the minds of the committee but that the volume of business of the office has increased during recent years because of increased demands upon the Governor's time. During the present financial emergency, however, we find that this office should show a general fulfillment of expense.

We therefore recommend the following:

1. That the salary of the confidential secretary be reduced to $3,000 per annum; the confidential secretary be appointed in August, 1931.
2. That the salary of assistant secretary be abolished. This office was created in 1931 but was not filled until January, 1932. At the time it was filled it became effective eliminating two other offices the Legislature would have planned and there will not be so great a need for assistance in the office.
3. That the items of Governor's special confidential secretary and support of Governor's residence, totaling $27,800, be reduced to $10,000.
4. That the Governor's office be relieved of some of the expenses of printing which should be properly charged to other departments, and that some considerable expense be allowed to the office. As an example, the purchase of notary public commissions are charged against the Governor's office, while the Secretary of State collects $5 apiece for each such commission.
5. That the item "supplies and expense" be cut 20 per cent.

If the above suggestions are carried out there should be a savings of $24,800 for the biennium, exclusive of the savings made by the general salary list commission recommended, which we believe should apply to the Governor's office also.

Attorney General.

The Attorney General is the constitutional head of the legal department of the State. His salary is $6,000 a year.

As noted elsewhere in this report, however, the practice of the various boards and departments employing their own attorneys has grown until most of the attorneys on the State pay roll are outside the Attorney General's office. We believe that legal counsel should be centralized under the Attorney General and that this will result in large savings. We also recommend that attorneys employed by the State, from the Attorney General down, be required to devote their entire time to State business. In view of the complete reorganization of the State's legal department, recommended elsewhere, we make no further suggestion concerning the Attorney General's office at this time.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is covered in the partial report of the committee on the Department of Education.

State Controller.

The Controller maintains the State's chief accounting and disbursing office. The principal responsibility of this office is that of checking and approving all disbursments with the view of certifying their legality in accordance with the terms of the legislative appropriations under which they are made. It is difficult to measure the activities of this office in specific terms. Expenditures have increased more or less in proportion with the increase in the volume of State business. In fiscal year 1923-1924 the expenditures of the Controller's office amounted to $123,329 or 30 per cent less than the expenditures of the office in 1931-1932, which amounted to $175,130. In the 1923-1924 fiscal year the personnel numbered 45 while at present there are 65 employees excluding those employed in motor vehicle fuel tax refund work. Curtailment might well be effected as the volume of State business diminishes as the result of general retrenchment. A general salary cut, of course, will effect a large saving.

It is felt that the reduction in the number and size of estates subject to the inheritance tax has been great enough to relieve the Inheritance Tax Department of the Controller's office of considerable work, and that a reduction in the budget allowance for this activity could be made.

Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State is responsible for keeping the official records of the State. His salary is $5,000 a year. Certain other allied duties are also attached to this office, particularly the issuance of articles of incorporation for companies organized in this State.

In the fiscal year 1923-1924 the expenditure of this office was $64,925, while in 1931-1932 they had risen to $90,454, an increase of 38 per cent. The number of employees apparently remained the same and there was little change in the general expenses of the office.

The general salary cut elsewhere recommended is therefore the only specific recommendation made concerning this office.

Elsewhere in this report the committee has recommended the discontinuance of the printing of sponsor's pamphlets.

Treasurer.

The State Treasurer is charged with the responsibility of the custody of all moneys and securities belonging to or intrusted to the keeping of the State. His salary is $5,000 a year. This office also administers State bonds and handles the interest and redemption payments thereon. In the fiscal year 1923-1924 the expenditures of the Treasurer's office amounted to $31,135, while in 1931-1932 its expenditures amounted to $45,417. This represents an increase of almost 50 per cent. The number of employees has increased from 12 in 1923-1924 to 15 at the present time. It has occurred to the committee that the disappearance of the general fund surplus, a large part of which was tied up in security investments, relieves the Treasurer's office of a large amount of bond coupon work.

The committee makes no further recommendations at this time, as a reorganization of the present plan of handling State pay roll finances may affect the work of the office considerably.

The Board of Equalization is the tax assessing agency of the State. It also has certain advisory powers and duties over county assessors. It has the responsibility of equalizing assessment rolls of any county so as to equalize property within the State. This responsibility, of course, would become extremely important if the State ad valorem were levied. It acts as a board of appeal for taxpayers protesting assessment of the bank and corporation franchise taxes. The board consists of four members, who draw salaries of $4,000 each, and six employees. In the fiscal year 1923-1924 the expenditures of the Board of Equalization amounted to $49,403, while in 1931-1932 the annual expenditures had decreased to $46,450. The personnel had remained the same. Meanwhile, however, the board has taken on a new activity in connection with the automobile fuel and transportation tax. This activity is supported by appropriations from the motor vehicle fuel fund. During the present biennium this division employed 27 employees and its expenditures were $168,379. For the next biennium it has asked for eight additional employees and total expenditures of $255,455.

There has also been created a Franchise Tax Commission, whose duty it is to assess taxes on the net income of banks and general corporations, doing business in the State of California. It also audits returns of these corporations. It is presided over by a Franchise Tax Commissioner at a salary of $7,200 and 32 employees. The committee is of the opinion that there is no valid reason for the existence of this board as a separate agency and that it should be consolidated with the Board of Equalization, thus eliminating duplicate overhead and effecting substantial savings.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT NUMBER TWENTY-SIX

DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES

The Department of Motor Vehicles is the agency established in the State of California to enforce the function of engineering automobiles, issuing licenses, licensing operators or chauffeurs and enforcing the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act.

Prior to August, 1931, this agency was a branch of the Department of Public Works. By act of the 1931 Legislature it was directed from that department and a new department, known as the Department of Motor Vehicles was created. The 1931 statute requires that the department be divided into at least two divisions to be known as the Division of Registration and the Division of Enforcement. The budget reveals that there are now four divisions included in the department, being the Division of Registration, the Division of Enforcement, Division of Accounting and the Legal Division.

The committee recommends as follows:

1. That the position of deputy director be abolished.
2. That the salary of the director be fixed on the basis of Comptroller in line with other salary recommendations.

Section 366 of the Political Code provides that the director be authorized to employ, and with the approval of the Department of Finance fix the salary of such officers, deputies and employees in any in summary, including all officers. It is recommended that this provision of the law be amended to conform to the present recommendation.

Personnel and expenditures

The department at the present time employs a staff of approximately 1,225 employees, with a total pay roll of 16 months of $2,700,000 per year. The department operates 128 passenger automobiles, 100 commercial automobiles and 400 motorcycles.

The expenditures of the department for the 1930-1931 financial year $1,502,437. The proposed expenditures for the 1931-1932 financial year $2,887,500, an increase in excess of 52 per cent. The 1930-1931 proposed expenditures are not, in all fairness, to be compared with that of the 1930-1931 expenditures to determine the percentage of increase, on account of having added in the increase, the California High way Patrol, known as the Division of Enforcement, which during the 1930-1931 financial year was supported by the counties. However, the committee feels that a fair comparison might be made by comparing the expenditures of the Division of Registration and one-half of the expenditures of the Division of Assembly. The total proposed expenditure for this agency during the next financial year is $2,967,750, an increase of 85 per cent. The total number of registrations for the year 1932 was 1,308,205 and the total registration for the year 1931 was 2,086,757, an increase of a little over 52 per cent. It is the opinion of the committee that a considerable drop in registration may be expected during the next two years.

Support.

This department is one of the so-called self-supporting agencies in State government and derives its revenue from assessing 55 per cent of the motor vehicle tax together with all fees connected with the issuance of chauffeurs, the issuance licenses. The law states, however, that not more than 55 per cent of the motor vehicle fees that remain in the fund at the end of the calendar year must be paid to the highway fund and be appropriated one-half to the counties and one-half to the State to be used for maintenance and preservation of highways. The committee does not feel that this is a sound method of financing a law it would require any department to expend all funds before the end of the year rather than use and balance that might be on hand by supporting. We do not say that this has been done in this particular department, but we do believe that this policy leads to extravagance at a time when revenue is more than ample to take care of present expenses.

The committee therefore recommends that the law be amended to provide this department with a definite appropriation from motor vehicle taxes sufficient to permit to allow them to function on an economical basis rather than on a percentage basis as at present.

Division of Registration

The Division of Registration is in charge of a staff known as the Registrar of Motor Vehicles whose annual salary is fixed by statute at $5,000 per year.

The committee recommends that this salary be changed to $4,500 per year.

This division is charged with the registration of motor vehicles, the issuing of number plates, the keeping of records, charging, and the issuing of operators' and chauffeurs' licenses. The main office of the department is located in Sacramento and branch offices are located in San Francisco, Oakland, Fresno, San Jose, San Diego, San Bernardino, Stockton, Hollywood, Long Beach, Taft, Pasadena and Los Angeles.

The branch offices are under the supervision of a supervisor of branch offices. The committee feels that this position is unnecessary and therefore recommends that it be abolished. In this connection, the committee is satisfied that licenses can be issued far more economically from local points than from a limited number of central offices on account of the high rates of postage involved. The committee further calls attention to the fact that in nearly every county, at the present time, there is one or more local headquarters of the California Highway Patrol already established and the committee sees no reason why these headquarters can not be utilized for the issuance of licenses. If handled on a proper basis, this change would not only result in a large saving and be more convenient to the motoring public, but it would enable temporary help to be hired from a great number of localities in the State instead of a very limited number as at present.

The registrar with the consent of the director is allowed by law to appoint a deputy registrar and a secretary whose salaries shall be fixed by the director with the approval of the Department of Finance. These salaries, in the opinion of the committee, should be fixed by the Board of Control.

Investigators and other employees.

Under the present law, the Director of Registration is authorized to appoint such number of investigators as may be necessary and the Chief of the Highway Patrol is authorized to appoint deputy chiefs and such investigators as shall be necessary. None of these are subject to the Civil Service Law, but are all exempt from the provisions thereof. The committee is of the opinion that none of these positions are essential to the proper functioning of this department and should be eliminated.

The law also authorizes the chiefs of these divisions to appoint other employees and officers and fix their compensation. The committee is of the opinion that all compensation of officers appointed to enforce the provisions of the California Motor Vehicle Act, other than those fixed by statute, should be fixed by the Board of Control.

Information service.

This division maintains at considerable expense an information bureau for police officers, collection agencies, auto clubs, insurance companies, finance companies, private detectives, attorneys and United States, State, county and city officials. This bureau employs 18 people at a cost of $2,250 per month or $54,000 a biennium. To give some idea of the tremendous volume of information this bureau is expected to furnish we wish to call your attention to the fact that during the first eight months of 1932 the Sacramento office had 226,865 requests for information. These were in the form of letters which necessitated an answer. In addition there were many thousands of requests in person and by telephone.

The committee does not believe that this department should be used as a general information bureau and therefore recommends that all persons excepting police officers, United States, State, county and city officials be required to pay a fee of not less than 25 cents for information furnished in each request.

Registration service.

The division also maintains at considerable expense a registration service for non-resident automobiles at all points where tourists or nonresidents enter the State of California. In connection with this we wish to call your attention to the inspection service of the Department of Agriculture, which is also maintained at all points on the border where roads lead into the State of California. Although there is a great difference in the services being performed by these two inspection services, we see no reason why there can not be a consolidation of these services and we therefore recommend that the Director of the Department of Agriculture, together with the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, ascertain if a plan can be worked out whereby one set of inspectors could perform this entire service.

Issuance of special licenses.

The committee also finds that a great many people owning automobiles and desirous of having the same number issued to them year after year, make requests upon the department for that purpose. We are informed that it has become a custom with the department to set aside all small number plates and issue them to those people making the requests. It is estimated by the department that this costs the State of California in excess of $7,000 per year.

The committee therefore recommends that this custom be discontinued and if necessary that the law be amended to prohibit its continuance.

Division of Enforcement.

The executive head of the Division of Enforcement is known as the Chief of the California Highway Patrol. This office was created by section 369c of the Political Code. The chief of this division is appointed by the director of the department subject to the approval of the Governor and his annual salary is fixed by statute at $7,200 per year. The committee feels that this salary is entirely out of line with the other division chiefs, and it being far above the maximum recommended by the committee for the salary of the department directors, we recommend that it be reduced to $4,500 per annum.

Section 3606, subdivision c, of the Political Code requires the Chief of the Highway Patrol, with the approval of the Director of the Department of Public Safety, to recommend to the Governor the appointment of assistants, deputy chiefs, captains, and the officers and other members of the patrol, who are to be fixed by the Director with the approval of the Department of Finance. The committee has recommended above that this provision be changed so far as officers are concerned and that the investigations be continued.

Uniforms and automobile

According to law, all patrolmen, captains and officers immediately employed to enforce the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act, while on duty for that purpose, are required to wear a distinctive uniform and use an automobile or motorcycle, painted a distinctive color, equipped with lights and with its license plates. The committee is of the opinion that the use of these vehicle provisions have not done so much for the efficient enforcement of the act, and we therefore recommend that the act be amended so as to provide that district inspectors shall be given the right to demand the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act while using a car of any color.

Salary standardization

The committee further notes the wide range of salaries it obtains from the employees of the California Highway Patrol. There seems to be no parity by which the salaries of the same individuals are fixed and by Members' comparison that all salaries paid to those who have been in the service for a month or two months or over be placed on a parity. We also think that there is a tendency in placing the undue number of inspectors and other employees than officers and that the proportion of officers to patrolmen should be considerably reduced.

Legal Division

The committee does not believe that it is necessary for this department to maintain a legal division in that we believe the present commissioning of individuals needs with reference to attorneys in all institutions is equal and we therefore recommend that this division be abolished and that the department be required to get their legal advice from the Attorney General's office.

Division of Accounting

The Division of Accounting is required to keep a record of income and disbursements, and it being a difficult matter in determining the amount of money required of this division and the number of employees necessary, we make no recommendation to make more than that the employees should be placed by the general salary reduction plan as recommended hereafter.

Respectfully submitted,

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended in the Senate March 9, 1933, strike out lines 1 to 27, inclusive, and strike out all of pages 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Five new sections to be numbered sections 135b, 135c, 135d, 135e and 135f are hereby added to the Bank Act to read as follows:

Sec. 135b. In order to provide for the safety and financial protection of the banks of this State, to preserve for the people of this State the full benefits to be derived from national legislation and to relieve the banks of this State from undue pressure in times of financial stress, which might arise from lack of uniformity in their operations with those of the national banking system and the Federal Reserve system:

(a) During any emergency period prescribed by the President of the United States, by proclamation or otherwise, each State bank shall conform to any order or orders of the Superintendent of Banks directed to any such bank with relation to the regulation or regulations, limitation or limitations, restriction or restrictions, which are applicable thereto, prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve Board, regarding or governing the operation of any bank which may be a member of the Federal Reserve system.

(b) During any emergency period prescribed by the Governor of this State, by proclamation or otherwise, no bank organized under the laws of this State shall transact any banking business except to such extent and subject to such regulation or regulations, limitation or limitations, restriction or restrictions directed to any such bank as may be prescribed by the Superintendent of Banks and as are made effective by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve Board with relation to the operation of banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system.

The Superintendent of Banks is authorized to assess against and collect from such banks as become subject to the provisions of this section, their pro rata share of the costs incurred in the administration thereof.

Sec. 135c. Whenever he shall deem it necessary in order to conserve the assets of any bank for the benefit of the depositors and other creditors thereof, the Superintendent of Banks may appoint a conservator for such bank and remove of him such bond and security as the Superintendent of Banks deems proper. The conservator under the direction of the Superintendent of Banks shall take possession of the books, records and assets of every description of such bank and take such action as he may deem necessary to conserve the assets of such bank pending further disposition of its business as provided by law. Such conservator shall have all the rights, powers and privileges now possessed by an administrator given the Superintendent of Banks with relation to banks of which he has taken charge under the provisions of section 136 of this act, and shall be subject to the obligations and penalties, not inconsistent with the provisions of this section, in which the Superintendent of Banks now or may hereafter become involved. During the time that such conservator remains in possession of such bank, the rights of all parties with respect thereto, subject to the other provisions of this section, shall be the same as if the Superintendent of Banks had taken such bank into possession for purposes of liquidation. All expenses of any such conservatorship shall be paid out of the assets of such bank and shall be a lien thereon, which shall be prior to any other lien provided by this act or otherwise. The conservator shall receive as salary an amount no greater than paid by the Superintendent of Banks to his special deputies in charge of the liquidation of State banks.

(1) The Superintendent of Banks shall cause to be made such examination of the affairs of any bank for which he has appointed a conservator as shall be necessary to inform him as to the financial condition of such bank and the examiner shall make a report thereon to the Superintendent of Banks at the earliest practicable date.

(2) If the Superintendent of Banks becomes satisfied that it may safely be done and that it would be in the public interest, he may, in his discretion, terminate the conservatorship and permit such bank to resume the transaction of its business, subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe.

(3) While any bank for which the Superintendent of Banks has appointed a conservator is in the hands of such conservator, the Superintendent of Banks may require the conservator to set aside and make available for withdrawal by depositors and payment to other creditors on a ratable basis such amounts as in the opinion of the Superintendent of Banks may safely be used for this purpose, and the Superintendent of Banks may, in his discretion, permit the conservator to receive deposits; but deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator shall be held as trust funds, and shall not be subject to any limitation as to payment or withdrawal, and such deposits shall be segregated and shall not be used to liquidate any indebtedness of such bank existing at the time such conservator was appointed for it, or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purpose of liquidating any indebtedness of such bank existing at the time such conservator was appointed. Such deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator shall be kept on hand in cash, invested in the direct obligations of the United States government or deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank.

(4) Any bank, including a bank in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks, pursuant to the provisions of section 136 of this act, may be reorganized under a plan which requires the consent,

(a) Of depositors and other creditors or

(b) Of stockholders or

(c) Of both depositors and other creditors and stockholders. Such reorganization shall become effective only,

I. When the Superintendent of Banks shall be satisfied that the plan of reorganization is fair and equitable as to all depositors, other creditors and stockholders and is in the public interest, and shall have approved the plan subject to such conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe, and

II. When, in any such reorganization, in this paragraph mentioned, after notice thereof satisfactory to the Superintendent of Banks, as the case may be:

(a) Depositors and other creditors of such bank representing at least seventy-five per cent in amount of its total deposits and other liabilities as shown by the books of such bank, or

(b) Stockholders owning at least two-thirds of its outstanding capital stock as shown by the books of such bank, or

(c) Both depositors and other creditors representing at least seventy-five per cent in amount of the total deposits and other liabilities and stockholders owning at least two-thirds of its outstanding capital stock as shown by the books of such bank, have consented in writing to the plan of reorganization; provided, however, that claims of depositors or other creditors which will be satisfied in full under the provisions of the plan of reorganization shall not be included among the total deposits and other liabilities of such bank in determining the seventy-five per cent thereof as above provided. When such reorganization becomes effective, all books, records, and assets of such bank shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the plan and the affairs of such bank shall be conducted by its board of directors in the manner provided by the plan and under the conditions, restrictions and limitations which may have been prescribed by the Superintendent of Banks. In any reorganization which shall have been approved and shall have become effective as provided herein, all depositors and other creditors and stockholders of such bank, whether or not they have consented to such plan of reorganization, shall be fully and in all respects subject to and bound by its provisions, and claims of all depositors and other creditors shall be treated as if they had consented to such plan of reorganization.

(5) After thirty days after the affairs of a bank shall have been turned back to its board of directors by the conservator, either with or without a reorganization as provided in this section, the provisions of paragraph (3) hereof with respect to the segregation of deposits received while it is in the hands of the conservator and with respect to the use of such deposits to liquidate the indebtedness of such bank shall no longer be effective; provided, that before the conservator shall turn back the affairs of the bank to its board of directors, if any deposits have been received since the conservator was appointed, he shall cause to be published in a newspaper published in the city, town or county in which such bank is located, and if no newspaper is published in such city, town or county, in a newspaper to be selected by the Superintendent of Banks published in this State, a notice in form approved by the Superintendent of Banks stating the date on which the affairs of the bank will be returned to its board of directors and that the said provisions of paragraph (3) hereof will not be effective after thirty days after such date; and on the date of the publication of such notice the conservator shall immediately send to every person who is a depositor in such bank under paragraph (4) hereof a copy of such notice by mail addressed to the last known address of such person as shown in the records of the bank, and the conservator shall send similar notice in like manner to every person making deposit in such bank under paragraph (4) hereof after the date of such new paper publication and before the time when the affairs of the bank are returned to its directors.

(6) No creditor having security for the payment of his claim shall be affected in his right to enforce such security by the provisions of any plan for the reorganization of any such bank. Any plan of reorganization involving the reduction of claims of creditors shall, as to essential conditions, apply to the payment of their claims against any such bank after collateral has been realized upon.

(7) The Superintendent of Banks is authorized to assess against and collect from such banks as become subject to the provisions of this act monies other than share of the costs incurred in the administration thereof.

Sec. 135d. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any bank may, with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks and by vote of shareholders owning a majority of the stock of such bank, upon not less than ten days notice given by registered mail pursuant to notice taken by its board of directors, issue preferred stock in such amount and with such par value as shall be approved by the Superintendent of Banks, and make such arrangements to the extent of incorporation as may be necessary for this purpose. But, in the case of any newly organized bank which has not yet issued common stock, the requirement of notice to and vote of shareholders shall not apply. No issue of preferred stock shall be valid until the par value of all stock so issued shall be paid in.

The holders of such preferred stock shall be entitled to cumulative dividends at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, but shall not be held jointly or severally responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of such bank and shall not be liable for assessments to secure liquidation in the capital of such bank as now provided by law with reference to holders of common stock. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the holders of such limited stock shall have such voting rights, and such stock shall be subject to redemption in such manner and on such terms and conditions as may be provided in the articles of incorporation with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

No dividends shall be declared or paid on common stock until the accumulated dividends on the preferred stock shall have been paid in full, and if no money is placed in liquidation or a conservator is appointed receiver, no payments shall be made to the holders of the common stock until the holders of the preferred stock shall have been paid in full the par value of such stock plus all accumulated dividends.

Sec. 135e. If in the opinion of the Superintendent of Banks any bank is in need of funds for capital purposes either in connection with the organization or reorganization of such bank or otherwise, such bank may with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks request the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to subscribe for preferred stock in such bank or to make loans secured by such stock as collateral.

Sec. 135f. Subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Banks any bank is authorized, pursuant to the provisions of section 12 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, to apply for and receive from the Federal Reserve Bank loans secured by direct obligations of the United States, and to make, extend and renew in the Federal Reserve Bank a promissory note or notes evidencing such loans, subject to such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Federal Reserve Bank or the Federal Reserve Board.

SEC. 2. The right to alter, amend, or repeal this act is hereby expressly reserved. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to limit, modify, or in any way affect any powers now vested in the Superintendent of Banks under the terms of the Bank Act.

Sec. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

There exist throughout the United States economic conditions which have engendered financial disturbances requiring the immediate effective enactment of legislation protecting the depositors in financial institutions subject to the laws of this State. It is essential to the preservation of the public peace, health and safety that the financial institutions of this State be afforded an opportunity for the orderly payment of moneys due depositors and other creditors. This act will aid materially in accomplishing this necessary result.

President of the Senate, Senate Chamber.

DEAR SIR: Your Special Committee appointed this day to consider emergency measures for financial relief for the victims of the earthquake in Los Angeles County met at two-thirty p.m. in the Governor's office with a like committee from the Assembly.

The committee decided to introduce a bill in the Assembly calling for an immediate appropriation of $50,000 to be applied to the account of the Adjutant of the National Guard, which money would be available for use for emergency purposes in the affected area.

The committee also decided to contact the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of ascertaining if it is possible to obtain money from that Federal fund for relief of the earthquake victims.

The committee recommends that this emergency legislation, appropriating the above sum of $50,000, be immediately passed.

Should additional funds be necessary, the committee will make recommendations accordingly.

Very truly yours,

FELLOM, Chairman.

CASE OF URGENCY.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE GOVERNOR.

In accordance with Article IV, section 34 of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 137:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

SACRAMENTO, March 10, 1933.

To the Members of the Senate of the State of California:

I hereby recommend as an urgency measure the passage of Senate Bill No. 137, providing for the transfer of female prisoners from San Quentin Prison to the California Institution for Women.

The reason for the urgency of this bill is that San Quentin Prison lacks at the present time, proper quarters and space to adequately care for the number of prisoners confined therein. The removal of female prisoners to the California Institution for Women, as provided in this bill, will remove this condition and would make available additional space to give proper care and hospitalization to prisoners therein.

With my compliments,

Very respectfully,

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

URGENCY CLAUSE.

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV, of the Constitution of the State of California and shall go into immediate effect. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

At the present time San Quentin Prison lacks the proper quarters and space to properly care for the number of prisoners confined therein. This congested condition endangers the public peace and safety, as it is conducive to prison trouble and to the spread of disease. The removal of the female prisoners to the California Institution for Women, as provided by this act, would remove this condition and would make available additional space to give proper care and hospitalization to the prisoners remaining at San Quentin.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

SENATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, March 11, 1933.

To the Members of the Senate of the State of California:

I find that the Board of Public Works has $150,000 cash surplus and no land available for public work in southern California.

To use this money exclusively for the purpose of financing roads and bridges in Long Beach and other cities in southern California, owned by the same district, it will be necessary for the Legislature to pass a bill authorizing the expenditure of this $150,000 surplus on such project as the committee require.

This sum is a saving between the estimated cost and actual cost of work now finished and under construction, and likewise an additional source of the disposal of the Board of Public Works. The utilization of this $150,000 surplus for the purposes mentioned will not postpone the performance of public work in southern California.

The Legislature has the authority to order the expenditure of this surplus money. I recommend that you approve the expenditure of this surplus money in the afflicted areas which will put men to work to place homes, schools. The members of the Legislature will permit the removal of funds from the clearing of streams, roads, and alleys in the stricken districts and provide construction in the same districts where it is absolutely necessary. I desire this as emergency work as possible.

Respectfully submitted

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF GOVERNOR ROLPH'S SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN, APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE MATTERS GENERALLY APPERTAINING TO MINING AS WELL AS COMPENSATION INSURANCE RATES.

His Excellency James Rolph, Jr., Governor of the State of California, Sacramento, California.

The undersigned members of your Committee of Fifteen appointed "To study the problems of the mining industry of the State, including compensation insurance, and to propose legislation for submission to the State Legislature, and otherwise to assist the mining industry of the State of California."

submit the following preliminary report of progress:

The work is of such scope and importance that your committee has been unable to complete its investigation of the subjects for which it was formed. A complete report, together with tabulations, further facts and figures, will be submitted to you at the conclusion of the investigation.

Your committee has met in Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Grass Valley, and has listened to complaints from divers persons directly and indirectly connected with the mining industry. These hearings have been open to the public and press.

We have pursued our investigations principally with respect to workmen's compensation insurance, as this appeared to be one of the greatest afflictions of the industry. However, complaints from all parts of the State were heard in regard to the Corporate Securities Act, taxation, and other matters affecting the mining industry.

This preliminary report deals largely with industrial insurance which is in force in most of the States of the Union and in the Provinces of Canada.

From our investigations we have found the following:

Under the California Insurance Act there are four types of insurance provided: Stock carriers, mutual, reciprocal and State fund. In addition, permits are granted for self-insurers. The premium rate also increases in direct ratio to the manual rate, and also increases in direct ratio to the pure premium cost due to the load 40.6 per cent applied as a flat percentage to the pure premium. This is a standard loading used by all States where competitive insurance is permitted. This causes the higher rated industries to pay greater loading charge in dollars and cents than in the industries rating lower pure premium costs.

In California 59.4 per cent of the rate is used to pay benefits, 40.6 per cent to defray cost of overhead and 1 cent for catastrophe loading. The following is the make-up of the 40.6 per cent:

- Acquisition of business, 17.5 per cent;
- Claims, 8 per cent;
- Home office expense, 7.5 per cent;
- State and Federal taxes, 3.1 per cent;
- Inspection, 2.5 per cent;
- Pay roll audit, 2 per cent.

The rate as fixed by the State, being based wholly on the needs and requirements of an insurance carrier having a capital stock structure, is necessarily higher than where compensation insurance rates are fixed on a State monopoly basis. Wherever a low rate is in effect we find practically a State monopoly. The Province of Ontario, Canada, is a striking example, giving the greatest benefits to the injured workman. The 1932 underground rate was $2.50 for silver and $3.50 for gold mines. Surface labor had a rate of $1.50. The loading or overhead charge in that premium was but 5.07 per cent of benefits paid, as compared with California's 40.6 per cent of the total premium, or 68.4 per cent of benefits paid. Had we such a limitation of overhead, even with our extravagant awards, our rate in 1932 would have been materially lower.

The need for closer supervision by the Industrial Accident Commission over the items of medical care and hospitalization is emphasized more so than usual elsewhere. It is quite evident that no really practical attempt is made to limit the expenditure, and the same is true with respect to the mounting medical costs and hospitalization. Your committee feels that medical costs, including hospitalization, are increasing at an alarming rate each year.

The Province of Ontario, under State insurance, has the an annual cost per case of $24,500,000, with a provision rate for each month of 33 per cent over the medical and hospitalization costs are now low.

Under the present law, the Industrial Accident Commission is responsible to no one. Under section 16 of the Provincial Code this body is charged by the Governor, and each member being there for a temporary term. Under this form, no matter how arbitrary or wasteful may be the policy of this body, the people have absolutely no method of disposing them. A change of administration means nothing.

The undersigned believe that this body should be responsible to the Governor and that the members of this body should be elected by the people and not by the pleasure of the Governor.

The law of this State makes no distinction between non-resident alien dependents and resident citizen dependents. In the case of a death award where the benefit of the injured workman are entitled to receive $50,000, such payment is to the very dependent in a foreign country, with their dependent dependent and the high exchange rate of the American dollar, means that such cases sometimes in some instances receive the equivalent of $100,000 in local money. This is unfair and inequitable. We believe, therefore, that the law should be changed so that dependents of minor children be paid only to the surviving dependent of the deceased, and that such award shall not in any instance exceed 50 per cent of the amount allowed to resident citizen dependents in similar cases.

As an aid in curbing excessive medical costs, it has been proposed to amend that the law should be amended so as to limit the payment of the compensation to the injured from the employees and to deduct from any award received by the injured the amount of the premium chargeable as medical costs, and, for this purpose, the rate as fixed by the State should set up the two factors of the premium rate, the per cent of medical and hospitalization on the one hand, and medical and hospitalization on the other.

Five of the Pacific Coast States provide the participation for the medical of medical costs. Washington provides unlimited health aid and the percentage of half. Oregon, unlimited, non pay one cent per day. Nevada, workmen pay half medical aid and the same rate is fixed in Arizona.

In consideration of the many facts disclosed in the investigation, the following observations and recommendations are made:

1. Prior to 1926, the interpretation of section 9-a was that medical treatment would not exceed 240 weeks, but in a California decision of that year the courts interpreted section 9-a to permit unlimited medical treatment. This interpretation removed the effect of the act and created a situation, as to law as it relates to medical treatment, where law created no limit on the payment for medical treatment and now continues throughout the life of the injured.

Your committee feels that in nearly all cases if a limit is to be placed on relief of a permanent nature secured 240 weeks is quite time to secure relief or cure.

With discontinuance of medical treatment at a total of 240 weeks, an injured workman, if his injury continues for so long, could be cared for in the splendid institutions of State and county governments, where the best of medical treatment may be secured. Moreover, provided the injury is such that the injured workman is incapacitated for a period longer than 240 weeks, his compensation rating would assure an income comparable with previous earning ability, as a means of livelihood. It must be assumed that an injury that would exceed a 240 week period would be such as to cause total, or nearly total, permanent disability.

If the injured should require medical attention after 240 weeks, that which he could secure at public institutions would be full as permanent as that secured under medical aid furnished under workmen's compensation, and in no case which has come to the consideration of your committee would such procedure result in an injustice to the injured workman.

Recommended. That legislative action be provided to set a limit on medical treatment to a total of 240 weeks. If necessary, a provision could be made that a workman on whom insurance had been secured, requiring treatment in excess of 240 weeks, be entitled to such treatment by public institutions.

2. Further, under section 9, in regard to disability payment as provided under 2 (1) of that section, the present interpretation is not sufficiently specific, is too liberal and has worked hardships on all compensation insurance groups. Such interpretations have been one cause for the rise in premium rates for compensation insurance.

Recommendation. That bills be passed to provide compensation awards to any individual for the actual loss of wage, and not upon a theoretical average which the workman "might" have received. This is recommended to provide for the staggered plan of employment now being practiced.

3. Compensation to alien dependents is of importance. Investigation has shown abuses of the act in regard to claims and allowances of such dependents.

Actual dependency is a serious question. It has been found that upon the death of an alien employee who had claimed no dependents, several persons disclosed themselves as dependents subsequent to the death of the employee.

Obviously, in such cases, dependency is difficult to prove or disprove.

Recommendations. Awards made to alien dependents under the Workmen's Compensation Act, provided the alien dependents are living abroad at the time of the death or injury, be limited to fifty per cent of the benefits awarded to those within the boundaries of the United States.

In order to make certain of actual dependency of aliens living abroad, an employee with alien dependents shall be required to register and make known such dependents, at the time of securing employment, and shall clear all remittances to foreign dependents through the employer, in order that moneys forwarded shall be a matter of record. Such action would also make less difficult the decisions of the Industrial Accident Commission.

4. Your committee conferred with members of the medical profession and an unfortunate condition regarding the award of claims to injured workmen was disclosed. This phase deals entirely with workmen who have been injured slightly or not at all, or those who wrongfully claim serious injury. Numerous cases have been cited where the injury was nonexistent or cured at the time a claim for award was asked. Such workmen are termed malingerers. One case was cited where claim awards totaled 150 per cent disability. This type of workman is a constant source of annoyance to the employer, the attending physician and the Industrial Accident Commission, and has been a cause for some of the increase in the premium rates. Such a workman will continually make claims for medical treatment and compensation without justification, and, in many cases, such claims have been renewed after a lapse of several years. The Industrial Accident Commission, through no fault of its own, has been unable to properly segregate deserving and undeserving claimants. In order to remedy the present condition it is advisable to set up, for each case, if requested, a committee of examining medical men to assist the Industrial Accident Commission.

Recommended. That a bill be provided by the Legislature for a committee to assist the Industrial Accident Commission, such committee to be composed of three medical men, one of whom shall be named by the employer, one by the injured workman, and one by the insurance carrier. This committee to examine the claimant and either appear before or report to the Industrial Accident Commission, giving testimony to definitely establish his status for benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act. Such committee to serve without expense to the State. The expenses of the medical testimony are to be borne by each of the three factors appointing such medical representation.

The findings of this medical committee to be used as a basis to determine the final awards to the injured workman.

6. Your committee's investigation has disclosed that a campaign for safety is necessary in mining as in other industries. While the facts disclose that the number of accidents is decreasing, it appears that the matter of safety plays an important part in the reduction of premium rates of insurance; however, other factors are of vital importance, and in order to continue a decrease in accidents, it is advisable that plans be executed in order to make safety a factor which every employer will consider more vital than at present.

Recommended. That the Industrial Accident Commission, cooperating with the State Insurance Fund, the State Division of Mines and the United States Bureau of Mines, work out a plan whereby the various employees and elements in each organization may be so coordinated that a duplication of work will not occur, and that a safety program be followed to the end that all employers and employees be educated in the matter of safety and accident prevention.

7. There have been broad interpretations by the Industrial Accident Commission and the courts in cases which come under the following groups: "accident in the course of employment," "occupational or industrial diseases," "accidents or injuries arising out of or in the course of employment," "infections."

Too broad and general interpretation under these classifications has been made by the Industrial Accident Commission and the courts, and injuries of unrelated or doubtful origin have been awarded medical aid and compensation.

Recommended. That the law be amended to include only injuries and diseases that actually arise out of or in the course of the employment.

8. The Industrial Accident Commission has recognized the workmen's claim for compensation without taking into full consideration the facts that awards, not fully substantiated or justified, are a hardship to all industry, resulting in high insurance rates. These rates cause decreased investment. Industry as at present constituted can not pay as the insurance has further increase in the cost of manufacturing, particularly when based upon data that increase the real value of that which is produced. This is particularly true in gold mining, where the product is valued at $200.75 an ounce and the impossibility of increasing the price of gold to the point of increasing insurance rates will soon make production of gold mining impossible.

While your committee sympathizes with every branch of labor, it must take into consideration those factors which make for employment, that is sound economic conditions of employment. It is not something it is felt that labor should share with industry for the welfare of all. If this is not done, labor, on account of the increasing insurance costs upon industry in the matter of increasing insurance premium rates, will be forced to retreat in other ways.

Recommended. That the Industrial Accidents Commission be requested by Your Excellency to interpret Workmen's Compensation laws in the most liberal extreme liberality will be recommended, and that all interested parties will consider the requirements of both labor and industry.

9. An investigation of the matter of mine accidents has been conducted and your committee has found that the laws now are very rigorous when it comes to the laws of many mine depend on compensation and compensation.

Recommended. That a law be enacted providing for the licensing of miners at shafts and in other mine workings to give an examination similar to that provided under the laws of the State of Nevada, also those licensed by qualified applicants certificates of competency, and that provisions be made for renewal of such certificates at annual intervals.

10. In the matter of the Company Security Act, measures and provisions made to your committee noted the fact that there is apparently a hardship worked upon the mining industry, as well as the industries in the administration of this act. The committee has not gone into this matter thoroughly, but intends to consider the subject at future hearings. It being this matter should receive serious consideration and its recommendations will be presented later.

11. More taxation and a better one and have been brought to the attention of the committee but were found wanting in connection with the investigation of workmen's compensation. These and other matters are now under consideration by your committee and hearings will be held to receive pertinent data and information.

The undersigned respectfully submit the foregoing as a preliminary report. The final report to be submitted to Your Excellency at the close of the investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, JANUARY 31, 1933

His Excellency James Ralph, Jr., Governor of the State of California

San Francisco, California

The undersigned dissent in respect to the majority report in that there are certain inferences and conclusions which might be viewed as unwarranted and in some instances not substantiated by facts. It has been established to your committee that compensation rates follow accident costs and do not follow the number of accidents. It follows logically therefore that there must be a lowering of those accidents which result in costs in order to produce a reduction in rates.

While paragraph 6 on page 4 of the report dwells on the matter of mine safety yet there has not been sufficient weight given to this very important feature. Concerted action for mine safety is the only feasible method of control of accident cost. The mining industry must through its associations take drastic steps to apply force to the mine operators in this State and elsewhere with the safety rules not only regarding the use and maintenance of mechanical equipment but also the exercising of proper supervision at all times by managers, superintendents, foremen and others who act in authority.

Statement is made that the number of accidents are decreasing. This assertion is misleading. So far as the insured mines in the State of California are concerned, the latest reports over a five-year period terminating December 31, 1930, indicate that there has not been any general lowering of accident costs. As a matter of fact the tendency shows an upward trend. For example, on the basis of pay roll expenditures the year 1930 shows in a more unfavorable light affecting serious accidents and medical than any year of the five-year period except 1928. This also means that there is an increase in serious and medical when compared with 1929. Furthermore the total percentage based on serious, non-serious and medical amounts using the pay roll for the insured mines gives a higher percentage as a whole for 1930 than any year of the five-year period except 1928.

On the other hand accident costs of self-insured mines appear to be steadily decreasing. All of which must be interpreted to the effect that the self-insured mine owner is alive to the advantage which accrues from having mandatory safety rules in effect at all times. Actual facts prove beyond a doubt that the safety factor, which has not occupied much space in the majority report, is really the point upon which the matter of mine insurance rates hinge.

Accident costs determine compensation rates in any industry and in this respect the mining industry is no different than any other. Just as soon as people who control any mine become safety minded in the full meaning of such term, then it is obvious that a rate decrease affecting that particular mine will follow.

In respect to the 4.6 per cent loading feature, due recognition must be given that the different items inking up this total do not include any percentage representing underwriting profit. When we consider that this 4.6 per cent loading is used almost universally in about 38 States and there is not any portion of such loading which may be viewed as not essential to the rendering of the proper and efficient service to the employer, any criticism for the use of such loading is not well founded. On the other hand the inspection expense of 2.5 per cent will be found to be too low for any carrier that attempts to devote the proper time to actual inspection of a mine as well as instruction in safety procedure to the different executives and employees of the employer. The State and Federal taxes are fixed charges not to be avoided under any circumstances while the home office expense is not excessive. The claim expense of 8 per cent is required when the various details pertaining to handling of compensation claims is to be carried out in accordance with the rules and requirements of the Industrial Accident Commission together with claim help which must be extended to the employer and injured employee. The pay roll audit expense of 2 per cent is not too much for the proper functioning in connection with the examination and recording of actual pay rolls which will determine the proper earned premium earned by the carrier and to be paid by the employer. The remaining item of acquisition—17.5 per cent—is essential when in the final analysis the agent does have many services which he must render for his client and on his client's behalf. This action on the part of the agent incurs expense in time and accruing from travel. Notwithstanding the compulsory feature of the act experience has shown us that the agent is in reality an arm of the insurance business and the commission which is paid is fully earned in every sense of the word.

The reflection of 40.6 per cent loading is included in this report in commenting upon the Compensation Act prevailing in the Province of Ontario. While stress has been laid on the low rates which are in force in Ontario yet there are some very pertinent facts that have not been touched upon. For example, under the Ontario law no mine owner is allowed to proceed on a self-insured basis; they must be insured in the so-called fund. In the event that the self-insured mines in California would have been insured during the last seven or eight years there is no doubt but what the resulting rate would have been materially lower than called for under the latest computation. We exceedingly doubt that the self-insured mine owners in California will approve any scheme which will require them to lose their self-insured status which would prevail should a law similar to the Ontario Act go into effect.

Next as respects Ontario, accident prevention plays practically no part in any service which should be obtained by the employer. The merit rating of risks does not prevail, hence the cheapness of administration is affected thereby.

The board in Ontario which administers the Compensation Law investigates claims as it pleases and its decision or awards are final. There is no right of the employer or employee to appeal to courts from any decisions handed down by the board whether such decisions reflect against the employer or deny compensable benefits to an employee who really believes he is justified in securing proper amounts due to injury which has been sustained. Several years ago an investigating commission from New Zealand studied the Ontario plan and reported adversely on the grounds that the people of New Zealand would not submit to such uncontrolled bureaucracy as described.

The Compensation Law in Ontario is restricted to apply only to the large and highly organized industries. Farm labor and domestic service are excluded by statute and the board does under regulations exclude all mercantile business, hotels, restaurants and employments in the conveyance of passengers by motor vehicles, etc., with their subsidiary occupations. Then again exclusion extends to some industries wherever less than six workmen are usually employed as well as some other industries wherever less than four workmen are usually employed are also excluded.

We are satisfied that such a scheme would not be acceptable to employers in general or the labor interests in California.

We respectfully call your attention to the portion of page 2 of the report which stipulates that the Industrial Accident Commission should be responsible for the Governor and that the members of the commission should hold office at the pleasure of the Governor. Stress has been laid in the report dealing with the apparent beneficial effect on the Ontario Law. To all persons and purposes such law is viewed with considerable favor by members of the committee who have affixed their signatures to the report. The Ontario Law is such that the members of the board hold permanent office and are not subject to personal appointment. For one reason it is difficult to comprehend how any one best member of the committee (not that the California Industrial Accident Commission members should be personally appointed and responsible to the Governor when the Ontario Law which they favor calls for the board members holding their office permanently) had any and considerable to anyone for their activities.

In keeping with the belief that recommendations applying to change in the compensable benefits or medical and payments on the members of the commission comprise features which should require the formation of separate individuals and that the functions of the insurance companies fundamentally require the companies to give complete protection under existing acts in accordance with the terms of their policy contracts, we the undersigned, must respectfully place on record that the undersigned are not in the position to agree to proposals and portions of the report dealing with payments in the treatment or employment dependents involving compensable benefits, medical costs or crediting of medical treatment.

For reasons set forth above the undersigned must dissent from the majority report.

February 24, 1933

Hon. James Rolph, Jr., Governor, State of California,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR GOVERNOR ROLPH: At a special meeting of The Regents of the University of California on February 20th, which was called to consider emergency problems now pending in the Legislature, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, In response to repeated requests from the Director of Finance of the State and in recognition of the tragic circumstances of the times, The Regents reduced their budget estimates for the biennium 1933-1935 by $3,000,000, or 17 1/2 per cent; and

WHEREAS, These reduced estimates were not only below the sum approved as necessary and appropriated by the Legislature at 1931, but also below the amount required for the maintenance of normal standards of educational education at Berkeley, Davis, Los Angeles, and elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, In submitting such reduced estimates, The Regents omitted any provision for new departments or functions, and also drastically curtailed existing activities and impaired the efficiency of present institutions and resources to an extent justifiable only because of the dire economic situation of today; and

WHEREAS, There is pending before the Legislature a proposal to appropriate $120,000 specifically to establish a graduate division of the university at Los Angeles, which, if its service to the State is to be of substantial value, will involve in subsequent years ever-increasing appropriations; therefore, be it

Resolved, That The Regents inform the Legislature that, in the light of the conditions set forth above, they are opposed to the establishment of a graduate division of the university at Los Angeles at the present time and to the appropriation of any money for such purpose, as contrary to the public interest.

Very truly yours,

CASE OF URGENCY.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE GOVERNOR.

In accordance with Article IV, section 34 of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 1171:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, March 15, 1933.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the State of California.

Senate Bill No. 1171 appropriates $150,000 for the purpose of reconstructing highways in the counties of Los Angeles and Orange.

In my opinion Senate Bill No. 1171 constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution, the consideration of which should not await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

It is necessary that the money appropriated by this act be made immediately available for the purpose of repairing, reconstructing, resurfacing, widening or otherwise restoring public highways in the counties of Los Angeles and Orange which were closed as a result of the earthquake occurring in March, 1933.

I, therefore, recommend the passage of this bill as an emergency measure within the meaning of that term as used in section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES ROLPH, Jr., Governor of California.

URGENCY CLAUSE.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: The recent earthquake in the southern part of the State partially destroyed, damaged, obstructed and isolated many of the public highways in the counties of Los Angeles and Orange, in addition to doing serious damage to many other kinds of property, rendering many persons temporarily homeless. Adequate and serviceable facilities for transportation in all parts of the affected area are essential to its speedy rehabilitation and to the proper policing of the area and the care of its inhabitants. The serious condition of unemployment has been aggravated by the earthquake. The immediately available resources of the said counties and of the municipalities therein are overburdened with the immediate demands thereon for the care of the inhabitants, and if this act does not go into effect immediately the important work of all governmental units and organizations in caring for the needs of the people, and in the restoration of the affected area will be delayed.

ON UNEMPLOYMENT

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

*Hon. Frank F. Merriam, President, and to the

Your Committee on Unemployment submits herewith a report of proceedings which report was started and adopted by the Committee on Unemployment on the seventeenth day of March, 1933.

COMMITTEE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

HAYS, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

To the Senate Committee on Unemployment.

GENTLEMEN: We have given careful consideration to the various proposals relating to unemployment relief submitted to the Senate Committee on Unemployment, including the recommendations of the State Unemployment Commission.

We respectfully recommend that the following action be provided by your committee, be enacted immediately:

A. Senate Bill No. 680, providing $20,000,000 for unemployment relief and the methods of administration. This bill contains the recommendations of the State Unemployment Commission. Our recommendation is that the act:

1. That the State Unemployment Commission and its permanent fund should administer this fund.

2. That in lieu of $25,000, the sum of $50,000 should be made available to insure the economical administration of the unemployment relief fund. The $50,000 is made available by appropriating $25,000 from the fund now provided in Senate Bill No. 680 and $25,000 from the unpaid balance of the appropriation of the State Unemployment Commission. This change was made after examining similar expenditures for unemployment relief which have which had upon various funds the unemployment relief.

3. That the powers and legal fund of the State are under the bill should be required to limit to the minimum their expenditures for administrative purposes.

B. Senate Bill No. 688 and 689, and Senate Unemployment Amendment No. 10. These measures provide for a bond issue of $10,000,000 and for a special election to enable the people to vote on this proposal. Our recommendation is Senate Bill Nos. 688 and 689 are:

1. That the vote on the bond issue be conducted on the people on the first special election held in the State, which is the first Monday in August, 1933, as provided in Senate Bill No. 688 and 689.

2. That no bond should be issued on or after July 1, 1933, $10,000,000 being available as a result of any other legislation relating to raising money now in effect by the present session of the Legislature.

C. Enactment of an Urgency Measure Appropriating $500,000 from Special Funds for Immediate Relief. We are having received in response to the request for approximately $500,000 from special funds in addition to the $20,000,000 bond issue. This money is to become available immediately for unemployment relief.

We are much impressed by the facts relating to the unemployment problem in our State as a result of which we are convinced that some relief be enacted into law immediately.

Further, in making this report we suggest that a highway bond be put into effect on all highway construction and other public work. Furthermore, we suggest that this be carried on in all of the State's public and semi-public departments. This reason for this is we think that work relief is more essential than a highway or other system.

Just as a suggestion, it might be desirable to put a representative of the unemployment cooperative relief control on the board that be in place from the bottom up.

It is our thought that bond issue is essential and similar legislation on emergency requirement. Also, it is the opinion of your subcommittee that should a price rise or other similar tax measures be passed, these taxes should not be sold or should be retired by a percentage of such sales tax receipts.

And, whereas, 7000 men have been usefully employed in various construction work in State labor camps, it is recommended that this work be continued and expanded wherever it is deemed possible so that a much larger number of men may be so employed; and that labor should be used wherever possible in preference to machine-made work to further the greater spread of employment.

Respectfully submitted.

SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE
ON UNEMPLOYMENT.

WILLIAMS, Chairman.
MORAN.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, March 20, 1933

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the California State Legislature.

Attached hereto is a copy of a telegram dated March 20, 1933, received from Senator Hiram W. Johnson, and another dated March 18, 1933, from Congressman Clarence F. Lee, Frank H. Burk, Albert F. Cramer, John J. McGowan, Daniel S. Church, William E. Evans, John H. Hooper, James F. DeGawron, Charles J. Golden and John H. Burke, both of whom are self-exonerated.

I am preparing a message on the telegrams attached and will submit the same to both houses of the Legislature tomorrow.

With my compliments and best wishes.

Very sincerely yours,

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

(COPY OF TELEGRAM.)

Hon. James Rolph, Jr., State of California, Sacramento, California.

I have been advised that there is some endeavor being made to eliminate flood control appropriations of the State of California which under the existing arrangements have been made to match the Federal appropriations for the like purpose. This action by the State might be construed because of legislation that has been heretofore passed as something of a breach of faith on our part. I call the matter to your attention because I know that neither of us would wish California either to repudiate or fail in any obligation to the Federal government.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON,

(COPY OF TELEGRAM.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18, 1933.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., Sacramento, California.

Members California House Delegation learn with deep concern of possibility that California may fail to match Federal appropriation for Sacramento flood control. Failure to do this might be of far-reaching adverse consequence in relation of our State to Federal government. A number of our important Federal relations impress us with necessity of preserving State reputation of undeviating compliance with Federal obligations.

SENATE RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, On March 9, 1933, the following communication was received by the Senate from the Railroad Commission of the State of California:

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, March 8, 1933.

To the Senate of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: A meeting of our board, held last night, was held for the purpose of considering the report of the commission regarding the rates of return of the utilities of the State and kindred matters. Whether or not these results are correct, they constitute a statement of fact and therefore any information whether by a public body or by a commission is a statement of fact. The means of the utilities who are now dealing with the public and the public. Some proposed legislation is now before you which you will find it difficult to get.

For the past three years this commission has been working steadily to get to the bottom of the rates and has succeeded in reducing the rates in many cases. It is allowed in normal times, except where we have been affected by the Federal courts. We have now three cases before the Federal courts. It is true that this we have contemplated and have been preparing to take care of them. The February 14th of this year the commission issued a report to the public directing its departments to bring together in concise form the data necessary upon which to institute such emergency proceedings regarding rates and rates of return. We have not heretofore actually started such proceedings but have principal reasons:

1. Because to do so would have interfered with the best and proper process of the Legislature in the consideration of public rates which matter we know would be before your house.

2. Because we believed if equalization of taxes was accomplished the return of the utilities would be reduced substantially and perhaps as low or lower than we could accomplish by an attempt to exercise arbitrary regulatory powers.

3. Because we believed the proposed equalization of taxes would be a sure way of reducing rates, thus leaving nothing to the plan of the commission subject, as the latter action is, to delay and reversal through the Federal courts.

4. Because this commission is in a much stronger position to control rate increases than to reduce rates.

The commission is also advised through the press and by individual members that it is contemplated later in the session to attempt equalization of taxes. We wish to conform to the wishes of the Legislature in this matter. If it is your desire that we proceed at once to attempt drastic reduction of rates under the circumstances we are prepared to do so.

Respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

By CLARE L. SEAVY, President.

WHEREAS, We believe it to be to the best interest of all the people of the State of California that the rates of all public utilities charged to the consuming public be reduced to the lowest point which is just and fair under present conditions; and

WHEREAS, In said letter it was stated that certain legal proceedings have not been started to obtain reduction in rates and said commission was awaiting the action of the Legislature on the equalization of taxes; and

WHEREAS, In said communication the said Railroad Commission stated that the commission wished to conform to the wishes of the Legislature in the matter of pressing proceedings for the reduction of rates; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, and it is hereby resolved, That this Senate does hereby urge the Railroad Commission of the State of California to proceed at once to lower rates to an amount which is just and fair under present conditions; and be it further

Resolved, That copy of this resolution be forthwith mailed to the Railroad Commission by the Secretary of this Senate.

Senator Inman moved, seconded by Senator Jones, that the resolution be referred to Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

The question being on the reference of the resolution to Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate, California State Legislature.

Attached hereto is a copy of a letter dated March 9, 1933, from Mr. John J. Lynch, clerk of the city council, San Jose, California, and I respectfully request that same be referred to the proper committee for consideration.

Hymen Frank L. Crist and C. C. Cottrell, Director, Department of Motor Vehicles; Chief, Division of Registration.

GENTLEMEN: The council of the city of San Jose, convened in session on March 7, 1933, directed me to convey to you the resolution in the foregoing showing of the San Jose office, Division of Registration, Department of Motor Vehicles, for the following reasons:

That the San Jose office is finding it almost impossible to keep correct accounts and the records and return with a long-term profit because of the location of the office.

That the Division of Registration, Department of Motor Vehicles, is a separate product, the value being provided by the revenue of motor vehicles and it is desired to avoid of the expense of the time and cost in San Jose.

That one-half of the expense of maintaining the Division of Registration, Department of Motor Vehicles, is deducted from the amount made in the division of the motor vehicle registration fees, and the motor vehicle license of Santa Clara County and adjoining counties are very desirous that this office, where these fees amount, be retained in San Jose.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed)

JOHN J. LYNCH,
Chief of the City Council.

COMMUNICATION

The following communication, offered by Senator Duval, was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, March 22, 1933.

S. Z. Natchez, Hotel Senator, Sacramento, California.

Please explain to Assemblyman O'Connor and other interested legislators that Lloyd has no major affiliations and is president of this agency composed of 225 independent producers. Mr. Lloyd informed me before leaving that he is paying every cent of his own expenses and under no circumstances would he permit the State to pay one penny of his expenses. Mr. Lloyd has given intensive study to the problems of the oil industry and is taking with him Attorney George Farwood also without expense to the State. Farwood being recognized as one of the ablest attorneys in the United States on matters involving cooperative marketing. Mr. Lloyd considers his appointment as a great opportunity to do someone in the independent oil operators of this State.

USE OF SENATE CHAMBER

Senator McCormack asked for, and was granted, the use of the Senate Chamber by the Assembly Committee on Fish and Game this evening, for the purpose of a public hearing.

STATEMENT BY SENATOR MCKINLEY.

Senator McKinley moved that when the Senate adjourned this day, it do so in memory of the late Judge Lucien Shaw, and addressed the following remarks to the Senate:

In 1889, the Legislature provided by law for the organization of one additional superior court judges in Los Angeles County. To one of the offices thus created Governor Waterman appointed the late Lucien Shaw, who at that time was 44 years of age. Judge Shaw served continuously as a member of the judicial bench of Los Angeles County until January, 1920, at which time he resigned his position as Justice of the Supreme Court of California by election. He served in this capacity until the fall of 1929 when the resignation of the late Chief Justice Agnew created a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. In this office he was appointed by Governor Stephens and served until January 4, 1931, having declined to be a candidate for re-election against his friends of advancing years. At that time he was senior judicial officer of the State of California yet only 42 years of age.

No one occupying a public office in the State of California had done more earnest and devoted service than Judge Shaw. His name is in the annals of the State to be found in more than 50 volumes of the California Reports.

While Judge Shaw in his long judicial career dealt with all manner of cases, he was perhaps best known for his work in the field of water litigation, and many important decisions in that branch of the law were rendered by him. In 1927 he delivered a most scholarly address on the subject of "Water Law in the Western States" before the American Bar Association.

In the ten years which have elapsed since his retirement from the Supreme Court he has been a useful, honored and valued citizen of the county where he first entered upon his judicial career.

ADJOURNMENT

MARCH 23, 1933, RELATING TO OIL STATES' ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

CONSIDERATION DEFERRED.

Further consideration of the resolution deferred temporarily, because of the time having arrived for consideration of special order.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON INVESTIGATION.

REPORT OF SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION DATED JANUARY 5, 1933.

Your Investigating Committee, appointed pursuant to Senate resolution of January 5, 1933, organized pursuant thereto by electing Senator Rich as vice chairman and Senator Jones as secretary.

Meetings were held at Sacramento on the following dates: January 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, February 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 21, and at Los Angeles on the following dates: February 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20 and 21.

A large number of witnesses were sworn and testified. Your committee, as stated on the floor of the Senate prior to and following the adoption of said resolution, proceeded to investigate three departments of the State government and certain minor activities. The three departments against which major objections had been made were those of agriculture, finance and institutions. It was the tentative understanding with the Senate that the hearings would not be continued beyond the constitutional recess.

The first department to be considered was that of finance, second the Department of Institutions and the third was to be that of agriculture.

At the conclusion of the hearing in Los Angeles the committee returned to Sacramento to investigate the Department of Agriculture. After all arrangements for such investigation had been made and before the commencement thereof the director, Mr. Dudley Moulton, was removed and Mr. A. A. Brock appointed in his place. Thereupon your committee contacted Mr. Brock and he placed his program before it and stated what his policies were. He also indicated his belief that an investigation by your committee would, owing to an investigation he was instigating, seriously embarrass him. Your committee, relying upon the statements of Mr. Brock and being impressed with his sincerity and ability decided not to pursue its investigation further, especially in view of the impending and immediate meeting of the Legislature. The committee, in view of the conduct of this department by Mr. Brock and his policies as placed in operation by him, believes that the action of the committee has been fully justified.

The committee could have continued its investigations indefinitely, but owing to the very heavy and important tasks confronting the Legislature we felt that we should proceed no further at this time.

The committee desires at this point to call attention to the patriotic and unselfish work performed by its attorney, Mr. Sheridan Downey. Mr. Downey, without pecuniary reward of any character, devoted his entire time to assisting the committee, both in preparing the matters to be submitted to the committee before actual hearings began and during such hearings. The committee desires to pay tribute to Mr. Downey and his unselfish devotion to the common good. He should receive the thanks of the entire State. Without his able assistance the work of the committee would have been seriously handicapped.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE BUILDING ANNEX.

Early in the year of 1931 it was determined that a new building, to be erected on or near the Civic Center in San Francisco, was desirable or necessary.

Thereupon negotiations were commenced looking to that end. The evidence does not disclose, in the opinion of the committee, that any serious effort was made by the Department of Finance to secure competitive bids for this building. In fact, we think it will be shown by the evidence that the only serious negotiations were with the ultimate builders.

Sometime prior to entering into the lease hereinafter referred to, there was submitted to the State Architect a tentative draft of plans and specifications for the building with the request that an estimate be made as to the probable cost of construction. A few pages of tentative specifications and plans were furnished the estimator and after a hasty perusal of the same an estimate of $350,000 was given as the probable or possible cost. Upon this perfunctory estimate, hastily arrived at, and with no complete plans or specifications a lease for 25 years was entered into on July 28, 1931, between the State and one Harry S. Burke, admittedly a "dummy." This lease called for a rental of more than $60,000 per year for a period of 25 years, with an option to the State to purchase at a predetermined price commencing at $250,000 as of January 1, 1932, and ending at $475,000 on December 31, 1936.

The total rental charged to various departments and bureaus of the State is $86,492.48 per year. This sum of course is paid by the various departments, bureaus, etc., and also includes all service charges, including expense in heating. This shows a total rental charged to be $475,000 to the State for the term period if the building is not purchased by the tenant.

This building was described by one of the witnesses who qualified as an expert as "a very cheap type of scaffold property."

The chief estimator, Carl E. Berg, Director of Architecture, was called before the committee and, with the consent of his superior, Mr. McFadden, made an exhaustive investigation of this building and was told, confidentially, that he was not entirely free and without restraint. He brought in a report which is on the showing the cost of the building to have been, at the time of its erection, $275,000. Mr. Berg testified "If I could I believe I could go the other way. In other words, we allowed the contractor more than the work would have cost him." The Berg report also allowed, in 1914, 12 1/2 per cent profit for labor and material and a profit to the contractor of $15,243, and in compensating our architect for $8,400. This sum, added to the cost of the lot of $10,000 would have brought the total amount due to $275,123. If an allowance of approximately $75,000 be added the present-day construction and other items we have a total due to the owner of $350,000 which the committee feels is liberal.

The committee has as its a written firm proposal from a responsible real-estate builder of San Francisco, agreeing to purchase said building "based on amount in every respect to the building was assessed by the State" for a cash rental of $275,000. This man agreed to make a cash deposit of $10,000 if the State would enter into negotiations and an option to the State for purchase for the sum of $275,000.

A singular and unusual feature of this transaction was the fact that a complete set of plans and specifications appear to have been formulated at the beginning of the work. It seems that plans and specifications were made out as the building progressed. All disputes regarding the design seem to be to the architect, who was the employee and personal representative of the owner.

The building permit issued by the city of San Francisco was for an estimated cost of $125,000.

The Director of Finance testified that he based his rental figure of $125,000 upon a $415,000 valuation.

This entire transaction, if not actually fraudulent, showed a failure through for simple business judgment and for the sake of the State's treasury. It is the opinion of the committee that, had matter been given properly, a building such as here discussed could have been obtained at a far less cost to the State. It is the opinion of the committee that, had matter been given properly, a building such as here discussed could have been obtained at a far less cost to the State. It is the opinion of the committee that, had matter been given properly, a building such as here discussed could have been obtained at a far less cost to the State.

As before stated, plans were laid for the erection of this building almost immediately upon the taking of office by the present Director of Finance (James McFadden or the first part of February, 1931). At that time Mr. Harry H. McFadden, an officer of the firm of Thos. Moton & Sons, of San Francisco, and another business interest, access to Mr. Vandegrift through the medium of John P. Symes, a close friend of James Ralph, Jr., Governor of California, and negotiations began. The lot upon which the building was erected was purchased on June 10, 1931, but the lease was not signed until July 28, 1931.

A singular and inexplicable feature here enters the picture. According to the testimony the parties to the lease got together, and on July 28, 1931, entered into a lease, full and complete as to details and terms. This lease, as before stated, provided a sliding scale option. This lease was duly and legally recorded on August 10, 1931, thereby giving notice to the world of the existence of such a lease and option. This was a complete transaction. Mr. Vandegrift testified at length regarding this lease but at no time intimated the committee would be entitled to see, after the very same day, and at the very same time and place, be entered into a second or supplemental agreement—substantially different in terms from the first or recorded agreement. And strange and inexplicable as it appears, the second or supplemental agreement was not placed of record and the world at large had no notice thereof. Had an innocent purchaser for value and without notice purchased the property, the State would have been without remedy and would have been bound and restricted to the terms and conditions of the recorded agreement, and the second agreement was not even acknowledged as to payment of consideration.

Why two agreements on the same subject were entered into when one would have been entirely sufficient and one recorded and the other not, has never been explained to the satisfaction of the committee.

Mr. John P. Symes first entered the picture, as above stated, early in the year 1931. He again appears at a somewhat later date when he is alleged to have interested Mr. Walter T. Varney in financing the enterprise. Mr. Symes testified that he "expended no great effort" and for "a limited period of time." It does not appear from the record that Mr. Symes performed any act in connection with this transaction that required any great effort or expenditure of time. Keep this in mind.

Mr. McGee's firm had received a fee of $750 and claimed a brokerage fee of some $18,000 due from Mr. Varney.

Some months after the lease was entered into, Mr. McGee, Mr. Varney and Mr. Symes entered into an agreement for the formation of a corporation, under the law of the State of Nevada, known as Realty Income, Inc.

This agreement provided two types of stock, preferred and common. There were to be 4000 shares of preferred stock of which Mr. Varney was to receive 2500 shares, according to the agreement between the parties. While this preferred stock had no par value it was provided that the holders were to receive $100 per share upon dissolution and the corporation was to receive $100 per share for each share issued. This agreement would have made Mr. Varney's contribution $250,000. It was also testified that Mr. Varney's total contribution was $335,000. It was provided that the preferred stock should pay 6 per cent per annum, also that the corporation should redeem 4 per cent of the preferred stock annually by payment of $100 per share.

The common stock was to consist of 2000 shares having no par value and Mr. McGee was to receive 399½ shares (in round numbers 20 per cent of the stock), Mr. Varney 1000 shares (in round numbers 50 per cent of the stock), and Mr. Symes was to receive 599½ shares of said stock (in round numbers 30 per cent thereof). It will be recalled what the services consisted of that were rendered by Mr. Symes for this compensation.

It was testified by Mr. Symes that, after deducting 6 per cent due to Mr. Varney upon his investment of $335,000 or $20,100 and adding taxes, insurance, bookkeeping, auditing, State franchise tax, Federal income tax, clerical work, attorney's fees, etc., amounting all told to $25,340, a profit would accrue upon the common stock of $25,340 in round figures, per year. In other words, after Mr. Varney received a net return of 6 per cent upon his investment, he would receive 50 per cent or $12,500 per year upon his common stock. Mr. Symes would receive $7,500 per year and Mr. McGee $5,000 per year, all for a period of 25 years. To recapitulate, Mr. Varney would receive, over a period of 25 years, over and above his net return of 6 per cent the sum of $312,500, Mr. Symes $187,500, and Mr. McGee $125,000, or a total of $625,000.

While this is according to the testimony of Mr. Symes it is felt that there was an inadvertent discrepancy, which, while altering the figures somewhat, brings us to practically the same end.

The preferred stock of Mr. Varney, based upon the testimony that Mr. Varney was actually out of pocket $335,000 assuming that Mr. Varney received preferred stock to that amount, he would receive $13,400 per year for 25 years, or until he had received the total amount of his investment. This would leave $11,600 per year to be divided in the proportions 50 per cent to Mr. Varney, or $5,800 per year, Mr. Symes $3,840 per year and $2,320 to Mr. McGee. And they would own the building, in the same proportions, at the end of the period, all paid for. The sum paid to Mr. Varney would be in addition to a net return of 6 per cent to him.

While we have accepted the figures of Mr. Symes of $35,000 per year as deductions we feel that it is at least a very liberal one.

The total cost to State agencies during the 25-year term of this lease would amount to the colossal sum of $2,162,337. This, of course, includes all upkeep of the building, janitor and elevator service, etc. At the end of the term the State owns no interest in the property.

The committee is of the opinion, from the evidence received, that this lease and agreement is so utterly unfair, unconscionable and indefensible to the people of the State that it should be repudiated and, in the absence of a fair offer by the owners, the building be at once abandoned by the State.

The committee finds that a fair and liberal price for this property is not in excess of $300,000 and no greater sum should be paid, and that, as rental therefor, only a fair return on that sum should be paid.

The committee recommends to this and succeeding Legislatures that no greater sums should be paid, either as rental or purchase, than herein indicated.

As justification for the above recommendation, the committee refers to the testimony as disclosed by the transcript on file with the Senate of the State of California.

The committee also recommends the passage of such legislation as will make impossible a recurrence of these conditions.

FINDINGS RELATIVE TO THE PURCHASE AND SALE OF BONDS BY ROLLAND A. VANDEGRIFT, DIRECTOR OF FINANCE.

The powers and duties of the Director of Finance are set forth in Part III, Title I, Chapter III of Article XVIII of the Political Code of the State of California. An examination of this article indicates that the Director of Finance is given broad powers, probably extraordinary powers. However, it would appear therefrom that the Director of Finance has power to buy and sell bonds for the State of California, the buying and selling to be limited by his judgment in most cases.

Exercising the power granted to him by the above provisions of the Political Code, the Director of Finance on or about the first day of November, 1931, purchased $3,000,000 par value of veterans' welfare bonds. These bonds were purchased from the Veterans' Welfare Board and the money used by the Director of Finance to purchase these bonds came out of the general fund of the State of California. The bonds referred to bear 4 per cent interest and being issued by the State of California, are considered the highest grade of bonds.

These bonds, after they were purchased, were delivered to the State Treasurer for safekeeping, as he is the custodian of all the State's funds. Also money in which had besides the general fund, there are other funds in the State which at times have surplus money and the Director of Finance has come into contact by paying these surplus funds in bonds and they are known as the State Treasury.

The Director of Finance has power to transfer bonds from one fund to the other. For illustration: If a special fund had surplus money on hand that could be turned over to the general fund, the Director of Finance could transfer the money from the special fund to the general fund and transfer the bonds from the general fund to the special fund.

In January, 1932, Donnellan & Company, a partnership, was organized. The members of this partnership were Donnellan, Richardson and Mitchell. The partnership was organized for the purpose of buying and selling bonds. There were no written articles of copartnership entered into between the partners until after September 1, 1932. The business manager of the partnership was R. P. Luce and the Sacramento salesman of the firm was E. A. Green.

Keeping the above facts in mind, let us now look at the Director of Finance regarding the Bond Department of the State of California during the summer of 1932.

The first bond transaction that was made by the partnership, Donnellan & Company, appeared to have some irregularities attached to it and it was assumed the members of the committee was one that occurred in June, 1932. It happened that on that day the State owned approximately 200 million dollars' worth of bonds the par value of which was $200,000. The market value of these bonds at that time was about three cents. Donnellan & Company wanted these bonds. The Director of Finance agreed to sell them but he did not want to sell them below cost and the following transaction was done: The State's bonds were delivered to Donnellan & Company in payment of said bonds. Donnellan & Company paid over cash and gave some bonds in exchange with the understanding and agreement that Donnellan & Company would take a loss on the bonds if paid cash for, but that this would be covered by the Director of Finance, paying more for the bonds to replace the exchange than the market value thereof. The Director of Finance had reason to sell these bonds at the market price and receive cash therefor. Why he agreed to sell part of the bonds for cash at less than cost, on which Donnellan & Company would make a loss and then take back other bonds from Donnellan at a purchase price above the market or at a cost price higher than they could be purchased from other bond buyers, is completely unexplained.

This takes us up to about July 1, 1932. The market of the State had dropped below expectation. The Director of Finance's mind was made for the general fund. If this were so, would it not have been a simple matter to sell all the veterans' welfare bonds in the market at their market value and place the money thus received in the general fund, or if some special fund had money to raise, then the veterans' welfare bonds could have been transferred to the general fund? If at the time, the market price of the bonds was up, sale of the bonds might have been advisable, but if the market price was down, a transfer would have been unadvisable. Either method could have been followed without criticism.

The Director of Finance followed neither procedure and if what follows changes his motives or reflects upon his integrity, then the Director of Finance is the one and not himself.

Let us now see how the Director of Finance proceeded to dispose of the veterans' welfare bonds. He is working with Donnellan & Company and the time was about July 1, 1932. The State owns $3,000,000 par value of veterans' welfare bonds. The market price of these bonds in the last of June was a little below par. Donnellan & Company informed the director that the bonds might reach par. The Director of Finance stated that he must sell the bonds as soon as possible. Some bond houses other than Donnellan & Company purchased $200,000 of these bonds and that left $2,700,000. Donnellan & Company claimed the market in the first of July or the first of August was below par but that they would take them at par and make a loss of $60,000 thereon, provided that the Director of Finance would agree to sell other bonds to them and purchase other bonds through them at a price in excess of the market in order that they might recoup this loss of $60,000 and make a profit besides. The Director of Finance agreed to this.

This agreement was entirely oral but it was consummated between the first and the middle of August. Donnellan & Company took the veterans' welfare bonds at par and paid over to the State the par value thereof, to wit, $2,700,000. This was done in a feverish rush to get the money into the general fund. But did it stay there?

It did not. Within a period of about a month the Director of Finance bought and sold many bonds through Donnellan & Company. He was carrying out his part of the agreement whereby Donnellan & Company would recoup their alleged loss of $60,000 and still make a profit. In round numbers, the par value of the bonds sold to Donnellan & Company by the Director of Finance, including the veterans welfare bonds, amounted to $2,296,000 and upon these sales Donnellan & Company claim to have taken a loss of $75,000 of which $60,000 was the loss on the veterans welfare bonds and $15,000 the loss on certain other bonds bought from the Director of Finance, but within that period of approximately a month, the Director of Finance purchased from Donnellan & Company, in round numbers, bonds of the value of $2,218,000 and upon this transaction Donnellan & Company made a profit of $116,000. The profit on these last bonds was excessive. The bonds bought were purchased at a price above the market. The same bonds could have been purchased from other bond houses at a less price, but the Director of Finance was carrying out his agreement to purchase bonds above the market from Donnellan & Company so that this company could not only recoup its alleged loss of $60,000 but would make a profit besides.

So you can see from these figures that Donnellan & Company not only recouped its alleged loss of $60,000 but actually made a profit of $41,000.

And what was the result of the whole transaction? So far as we can see the general fund was no better off than it was to start with. The State had sold its best bonds, as the veterans welfare bonds are looked upon as the best. The State had in place of those good bonds a good many that were much inferior. Donnellan & Company made about $41,000 and somebody else made at least $60,000. It is claimed that there was a loss on the veterans welfare bonds. These veterans welfare bonds were not delivered until some time after the first of August. By the first of September, 1932, they were at par and they continued to increase after that time so that by January, 1933, they were selling at from 102 to 103 in the market. So we think it is safe to say that there was a profit on the whole transaction of at least $100,000 with an actual loss to the State, this loss being represented by an exchange of high type bonds for a less attractive bond.

The right of the Director of Finance to sell bonds in the market at a price less than their cost is not questioned, but we do seriously question the right of the Director of Finance or any other public official to enter into an agreement to purchase bonds at a price in excess of their market value. The market price should govern and if the Director of Finance can purchase bonds at a price above the market what is the limit that can be set upon the price? Such a procedure is unethical, has at least the appearance of fraud if not something worse. Donnellan & Company and the Director of Finance thought so themselves for before carrying out the agreement they consulted the law firm of Orrick, Palmer & Dahlquist, of San Francisco. They received an opinion which was not to their liking. Thereupon, at considerable expense to themselves, they consulted a firm of lawyers in New York City by the name of Hoffman, Wood & Thompson. From this firm they received a favorable opinion and thereupon they proceeded to carry out this peculiar if not illegal contract. It was admitted that the principal point they desired to ascertain in this opinion was whether the Director of Finance could legally purchase bonds above their market price so that Donnellan & Company could recoup their loss and still make a profit.

If this transaction was not fraudulent, what could it be called? The Director of Finance stated that the transaction was a question of his using his judgment. Judgment is one thing, a lack of judgment is another. It is for you to say whether there was any judgment at all used in this transaction or whether there was some other motive behind it.

The committee believes that the admitted oral, executed agreement between the Director of Finance and Donnellan & Company was against public policy. Therefore it appears to be a question as to whether or not the sales of bonds subsequently and pursuant thereto were not illegal and void, and whether, therefore, the Director of Finance did not place himself in a position where he could not represent the interests of the State impartially.

The committee calls this matter to the attention of the Attorney General of the State to the end that the legality of these transactions may be determined and the necessary legal steps taken to recover for the State such sum or sums as may be due the State thereunder.

In closing we should say that in addition to the bonds bought and sold by Donnellan & Company, which amounted to over $6,000,000, the Director of Finance bought and sold about $6,000,000 more with other firms. Whether they were handled in the same manner we are unable to state excepting in the case of Moulton & Company. The Director of Finance suggested to Moulton & Company that they handle bonds in the same manner in which it was agreed that Donnellan & Company would handle them, but this offer was rejected by Moulton & Company upon the ground it was unethical and not according to the ordinary or legitimate practice of buying and selling bonds to public officials.

There were certain specified bonds purchased and sold by the Director of Finance on which he took a loss which has not been explained. For instance, on August 16, 1932, the Director of Finance purchased 225 Los Angeles Housing bonds. The cost of these bonds was $2,020.10, but they were sold at a profit of five weeks later, they were sold at par and a new issue of $2,000. In the buying and selling of these bonds the State purchased a lot of Eastern City bonds. The purchase was made about August 14, 1932, and there were also some Western school district bonds purchased and some B. O. E. bonds being purchased. All of these bonds were not as high a class of bonds as the Western district bonds.

WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL

The attention of the committee was directed particularly to the Whittier State School because of the large number of complaints received regarding that institution, but the time at the disposal of the committee did not permit of investigation of other institutions, but the general picture regarding that school, and others, may safely be assumed to apply to other State institutions.

Mr. Elmer Murphey, of Pasadena, was the chairman of the "California Citizens Committee of One Thousand," an organization composed of citizens of Southern California. Mr. Murphey testified that under the former regime of Nathan and Wendell the school was ranked number one in the United States by a Federal agent. "Seudler was fired" by Dr. J. M. Toner, Director of the Department of Institutions, over the protest of a large number of civic organizations and groups, including the California Citizens Committee of One Thousand, and Citizens for a former sheriff from Texas was employed. According to Murphey's testimony, "Men who for years had been running the boys were told to get out of the gates, and were qualified for that particular work were discharged. They were called into the office and they said, 'We are here to see you.' The supervisor said, 'Why do you have to let me go?' They said, 'There is nothing to let me go. Here is a letter I have from Smith, the Governor's Secretary, and he told me Hughes, or Marice, or anybody else,' to take care of me, but I have got to carry out orders. If I don't it will cost me my job."

Also Toner told Murphey that he had fired the doctor at Mendocino State Hospital and in that connection the following is the statement of Murphey: "Why did you discharge the doctor at Mendocino? I forget the name for the patient. Wasn't he a good doctor?" He answered Judge Gould and said, "Yes, he was a good doctor. I have had no complaints against him at all, but he was fired during the campaign with a Young because he was a political man. He said, 'We couldn't stand for that.' Judge Gould said, 'We think a professional man who represents the people correctly is entitled to his own political opinions and he should only be discharged for cause.'"

When apparently Smith's incompetency could no longer be ignored, Dr. Sabach, Ralph's campaign manager in Kern County, was appointed to the position. He is still in charge. As to the success of Dr. Sabach's regime Mr. Murphey said: "We think it a constant and tragic failure."

Mr. Murphey also testified that Joe Toner said: "One reason we have to fire Seudler was because he was disloyal." I said, "How do you figure that?" He said, "We have to accommodate the Governor Ralph about two names that were to be placed on the pay roll," and he said, "Seudler said he would only take money for the jobs down there when they were qualified for the jobs." He said, "That man was disloyal to the greatest Governor we have ever had in California and we had to fire him." I said, "If that is your definition of disloyalty, we must say he is disloyal."

Mr. Murphey also testified to the following conversation with Governor Ralph: "This school ranks first in all the United States in boys were, and Seudler is the man who has put it over, and I don't think there is another man in the whole United States for that school as good as Seudler." He, the Governor, then turned and went towards his office, and he said, "Well, if there isn't in the writing of Andrew Jackson, if there isn't a Jackson man for that job, we will thank you for it. So we saw what we were up against there. There was no consideration for the worthy, it was a political matter."

Smith's incompetency became so apparent and it was admitted that he was replaced by Dr. George C. Sabach of Bakersfield, Kern County, whose appointment as superintendent at Whittier seem to have been that he was the campaign manager for Governor Ralph in Kern County.

The obsolete and long abandoned "monitor system" was revealed and the larger and stronger boys made "monitors" with resultant brutality to the smaller, less robust boys. It was testified that this system has now been abandoned.

As showing some of the conditions prevailing at the school the following may be cited:

Mr. Murphey, in company with his wife and a Mr. Holmes and wife, with chauffeur were driving through the town of Rowley one morning. An odd man, apparently blinded by the headlights, fell, fractured his skull and died. Mr. Murphey and his party was exonerated of all blame but one. I then testified that one Owen R. Owen, a former prize fighter, Chief Placement Officer at Whittier

School, said: "Before I entered the school, Owen said he had a lot of publicity that he didn't desire, and he knew I had connections with the advertising business, and had a lot of friends among the newspaper men, and asked me if I could demolish that condition. I said I believed I could. He said there was a man by the name of Murphey from Pasadena that was after the different members of the institutions, and he heard there was an accident down at El Centro, and asked me if I would go down and get the evidence, and he advised me to leave at once. I was supposed to be at Fresno, up through the San Joaquin Valley at that time. He said, 'Never mind that, Al,' he said, 'You go right down to El Centro, and get that evidence. Here is a clipping from a newspaper. Demolish Mr. Murphey. Murphey has it in for me.' He asked me if I knew of him and heard of him, and I said that I never heard of him, and he said, 'I want you to get that evidence immediately. So I had to leave.' When Urbach returned from the mission Owen said: 'Well, when I returned, he said, "What evidence did you receive?" or, "What did you get?" I said, "It was raining quite hard, Bob, and it was impossible to go to the different roads, different ranches and so forth to get the evidence, and I worked the entire valley." He said, "Yes, you were quite a long time getting the evidence." I said, "Yes, I was very, very unsuccessful in securing any evidence." He said, "Well, the next time I send you down there, you go down there and get the evidence for me," he said, "I was informed he was intoxicated while he was driving this car," and he said, "I am quite angry at you, Al," he said, "I have it in for Murphey, and we have to 'bump him off.'" I said, "What do you mean 'we' got to bump him off?" I said, "I'm not bumping anybody off," and, "I don't do any bumping off," and he said, "We have got to get a truck, he drives a big Rolls Royce," he said, "I've got a detective on his trail now, and we will run him alongside the road and we will mow him down." I said, "Leave me out of it. I'm not interested," I said, "I am not mowing anybody down." He made the statement in the presence of witnesses. It was not hearsay. It is a matter of fact."

"Q. And he seriously discussed with you 'bumping' Mr. Murphey off? A. Absolutely, and he has asked me on several occasions in the presence of witnesses about 'bumping' him off, and he wanted to do away with him, because it was either Murphey getting his job, or he was going to lose his job."

"Q. Now, do you know of your own knowledge about whether Mr. Owen had discussed the plan of 'bumping' off Mr. Murphey with any of his superior officials, if you have that knowledge? A. Well he told me there was a fellow who had a placement officer who was appointed by Governor Rolph who hired a detective and promised Mr. Owen he would 'bump' him off, but he didn't go through with the plan."

This plot to "bump Mr. Murphey off" was called to Dr. Toner's attention: "Q. Did you state to Dr. Toner that you heard there was sort of conspiracy to 'bump' Mr. Murphey off? A. Yes."

"Q. What did Dr. Toner tell you in response to that? A. I brought this up to Dr. Toner, and we had—we were discussing the different committees that Mr. Murphey had been talking about, and Mr. Murphey at that time told me that this Urbach, about him telling him about their running Murphey in the ditch, or something with a truck. I brought that to Dr. Toner, and Dr. Toner immediately told me that he had—that he had discovered this, and that he had prohibited any such action on their part, and that he was very sorry that it had come up at that time."

It was also testified that one Crowley, an attendant, "came and asked for a gun to carry. He thought the boys would murder him because of his ignorance of the problem of the handling of boys."

And the testimony also shows that "the boys told me (Souther, an official at the institution) they had actually planned to bump off Mr. Barden" (Mr. Barden herein referred to).

At a meeting called by Dr. Toner of certain officials of the school Mr. J. W. Souther, assistant superintendent and business manager of the school (whose qualifications seem to have been that he had run a warehouse in San Francisco and was a Rolph supporter) told Dr. Toner: "Mr. Barden assumed the attitude towards me of apparently endeavoring to block the proper functioning of the business department of Whittier State School, even to the extent of during the time I was in the north, which was from October 1st to October 12th, of endeavoring in every way to disparage my efficiency with Dr. Sabichi."

Also: "There is a feeling of unrest amongst the boys; a threatening to run away, and revolt, and a feeling of unrest amongst the personnel. Without any personal prejudice so far as Mr. Barden is concerned, I consider from my nineteen months in the institution, and a close study of conditions, that Mr. Barden does not possess the humanitarian temperament to deal with our boys. In addition to that, it is my frank feeling that Mr. Barden is not capable to cope with the situation which I feel has been expedited here this morning, by the showing of lack of the proper help of the boys to assist in the functioning of the various departments."

Also: "Dr. Toner: Mr. Souther, do you consider that Mr. Barden is inefficient and can not perform the duties delegated to him through the reorganization and parative duties as approved by the Superintendent and Director of Institutions?"

are; and I met Dr. Sabichi at Colonel Huntington's office, and we tried to adjust that by meeting the secretary of the Rotary Club and going over the matter to see if we could not bring about an adjustment so that things out there would be to their satisfaction, which I would like to see."

Also: "Do you believe there is any possible chance that the Rotary Club of Los Angeles and vicinity ever can or will cooperate with you as long as Dr. Sabichi is superintendent of the Whittier School? A. Not unless Dr. Sabichi can sit down with them and prove to them that he can run that institution and will run it in a manner satisfactory to them."

Dr. Toner testified, substantially, that certain prominent members of the Rotary Club had told him that there was no possible hope that Whittier would ever again resume its place where it was in years gone by, that it was utterly hopeless to attempt to do anything with it, so long as Dr. Sabichi was superintendent.

He also testified: "Well, I feel and I say this very regretfully that with conditions in Whittier as they are, which are not bad, but if Dr. Sabichi would not have the active support of the community, and especially the active support of the Rotarians, who helped to build that institution, that I don't think he can properly function there."

Also Dr. Toner testified: "Q. You think there has been a falling off in the standard of the training or the standard of the school, do you not, in Whittier? A. I feel there has been a dislocation there. Q. I don't know what you mean by a dislocation. If you can explain 'dislocation' so far as it applies to a school, I wish you would do so. A. Well, what I mean by dislocation, Mr. Senator, is this, that there has not been a cooperative spirit between the heads of the departments which makes for efficiency in the institution."

VENTURA HOSPITAL SITE.

The Legislature of 1929 (Statutes 1929: 1175) provided for the appropriation of $1,000,000 for the purchase of a site in southern California for a hospital for the insane and for the construction of buildings thereon. The statute provided further that the site should be selected and purchased by a committee of five consisting of the Director of Institutions, the Director of Finance, the Director of Public Works, and two members to be appointed by the Governor.

Mr. Earl Jensen, Director of Public Works during the administration of Governor C. C. Young, testified that the committee during the Young administration rejected the Ventura site and decided on a site in Arlington, Riverside County. On account of some question as to the water rights on this property, the purchase had not been consummated at the time Governor Rolph took office (Tr. p. 1277).

With the Rolph administration came a new personnel of the committee charged with the selection of a site. The new committee consisted of Dr. J. M. Toner, Director of Institutions; Col. Walter E. Garrison, Director of Public Works; Roland A. Vandegrift, Director of Finance; Herman Michel of Santa Monica, appointed by Governor Rolph, and Mrs. Carrie Parsons Bryant, who held over from the Young administration.

This new committee reopened negotiations. They proceeded to a selection by voting on a first choice and second choice. No one favored the Lewis property as a first choice. When it was found, however, that legal complications interfered with the site receiving the first of choice (Kraemer property), the committee by a vote of three to two finally decided on the purchase of a tract in Ventura County known as the Lewis property. This property was owned by Properties Incorporated, a subsidiary of the Citizens National Bank in Los Angeles, who had acquired it under foreclosure. The property had been considered by the Young committee, with whom negotiations had been carried on by Mr. Geo. A. Cathbert, a Los Angeles real estate dealer representing the bank. Mr. Frank T. Skinner, the official of the bank having charge of the property, testified that Mr. Cathbert was to receive a 5 per cent commission on the sale of the property, and that he was to have a further amount, not to exceed in the aggregate 7½ per cent, should investigation show that he was entitled to an extra commission (Tr. p. 747).

The desirability of the Ventura site is a subject of controversy, and of the most conflicting opinions. The site consists of about 1202 acres of tillable land, together with 300 or 400 acres of rocky, cactus covered hills of no value. The property is situated about two miles west of the station of Camarillo and about five miles from the coast. It lies at the southern edge of the valley, abutting against the hills.

The Young committee rejected the site.

Mr. C. L. Tibbitts, a civil engineer of wide experience employed by this Senate Investigating Committee, made a personal inspection of the site, read and checked reports of the experts and conferred with the State Architect and engineers in relation to their reports and investigation of the property. Based upon its own inspection and the reports of the State experts he testified that the reports did not justify the purchase of the property for institutional purposes (Tr. p. 1084); that portions of the land were so impregnated with alkali that they would not produce crops; and that the water could not be used by inmates of the institution without treating; that the land was subjected to wash from torrents coming down the dry for the Lewis property. Mr. Vandegrift saw Mr. Skinner during the noon hour and reported back when the committee reassembled in the afternoon that Mr. Skinner could not go below $455,000 for the ranch and $10,000 for the crops. Mr. Vandegrift then moved that $450,000 be offered for the Lewis property.

No one seconded Mr. Vandegrift's motion.

Colonel Garrison testified that when no one seconded his motion Mr. Vandegrift stated he considered it an insult that the motion had not been seconded and moved that the subcommittee be discharged.

Colonel Garrison's motion to purchase the property for $400,000 was rescinded and Mr. Vandegrift's motion to purchase it for $450,000 was withdrawn. Mr. Vandegrift then moved that the property be purchased for $415,500 and that $10,000 be paid for the growing crops. Colonel Garrison seconded it and the five members of the committee voted for it. Mr. Skinner accepted this offer.

Mr. Charles Rankin, a real estate man associated with Mr. Chas. A. Johnson in trying to sell the American Beet Sugar ranch at China for the proposed hospital, testified that on one occasion "Mr. Vandegrift said: 'No deal will ever be put over on this or any property with a commission of more than 5 per cent being paid and I am going to see to it that that is a fact.'"

However, when the $415,000 sale of the Lewis Ranch was consummated, two persons got commissions of approximately 5 per cent each.

Mr. George A. Cuthbert received $20,250.

Mr. Jack Kuhrts received $20,250.

Five per cent of the sale price would have been $21,250 but Mr. Skinner testified that $1,000 had been withheld from each pending settlement of litigation and title on a small portion of the property sold. Mr. Kuhrts, according to the testimony of Mr. Skinner, accepted the reduction. Mr. Cuthbert stated that he expected to eventually receive the $1,000. Mr. Cuthbert converted his $20,250 into certificates of deposit and accounted for them in detail.

The disposition of $20,250 received by Mr. Kuhrts involves an attempted explanation by Mr. Kuhrts that wholly fails to convince this Investigating Committee.

Kuhrts, when this Investigating Committee attempted to trace the disposition of his $20,250 commission, testified that on August 13, 1932, he had drawn a $10,000 check on the California Bank of Los Angeles and had received from the bank ten $1,000 bills and had kept these bills on his person "for a week or ten or twelve days."

At this stage of his testimony Mr. Kuhrts was suddenly withdrawn from the stand and confronted with Mr. Roy P. Lehmer, vice president of the California Bank, who stated that Mr. Kuhrts on August 13, 1932, had received a draft for $10,000 drawn on the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company of San Francisco. Mr. Lehmer presented the original draft endorsed by Mr. Kuhrts, showing payment to Kuhrts direct on August 15th by the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company in San Francisco. This was the only $10,000 drawn by Mr. Kuhrts, and Mr. Lehmer showed that it came out of the $20,250.

When recalled to the stand Mr. Kuhrts stated that he had not understood the question; that he had not received the $1,000 bills at Los Angeles, but at the Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco. To all further questioning as to his trip to San Francisco he interposed the invariable answer that he "could not remember." He could not remember how he traveled north, whether by auto, plane or train; whether he left on Saturday or Sunday; how long he remained in San Francisco, whether a day, a week, or two weeks; whether he talked with anyone, either business or social acquaintances. Although unknown at the bank he stated that his identification was not required. He stated that he had brought the money back to Los Angeles, carried it about for several days, at times leaving it in the files in his office, at other times leaving it in his wallet in his clothes at home at night.

His explanation was that he had made the trip to San Francisco to conceal from his wife, from whom he had anticipated difficulties over property affairs, the existence or whereabouts of this $10,000. He stated that he finally placed the money in a safe deposit box in the Security First National Bank at Seventh and Spring streets in Los Angeles. He could offer no explanation, if his purpose was to conceal the whereabouts of his money, why he had left a balance of nearly $4,000 in the bank, why he had taken the money home where his wife could have searched his clothes, why he had not gotten a deposit box under an assumed name or gotten a deposit box in his own name in any of the cities nearby to Los Angeles.

Mr. Kuhrts came to Sacramento to appear before this Investigating Committee on Friday, February 10th. The committee began its hearings in Los Angeles on Tuesday, February 14th. The two days previous were holidays, February 12th being Sunday and February 13th being observed as Lincoln's Birthday. The committee had issued a subpoena for Kuhrts which was placed in the hands of the sheriff's office, but although search was made all day Tuesday, February 14th, he could not be found. On Wednesday, February 15th, he appeared before the committee. When he was asked to explain the whereabouts of the $10,000 he stated that such portion of it as he had not spent since August, to wit: $6,500, he had deposited the afternoon before, namely, Tuesday, February 14th, in the Farmers and Merchants National Bank on Fourth Street in Los Angeles. When asked the time of the deposit he stated, "about seven o'clock." When asked where he had gotten the money he said he had gotten it from his safe deposit box in the Farmers First National Bank on Seventh Street. Two days from the Farmers and Merchants Bank who entered the deposit ticket that the deposit had made about 20 or 30 minutes after three o'clock, and on the day of the deposit there being about 100 minutes after three o'clock from the Security Bank by change of the safe deposit money (testimony as to the time that Mr. Kuhrtis went to his safe deposit box on Fourth Street) witness produced the tag issued by Mr. Kuhrtis' representative agency in Los Angeles. This tag was stamped by the time clock showing the time was 2:40. Mr. Kuhrtis had 2:40 to his safe deposit box. This time clock showed that Mr. Kuhrtis had not entered the safe deposit vaults until sometime sometime past three.

The time of the making of the deposit at the bank on Fourth Street is further verified by the taxicab driver who took Mr. Kuhrtis from Seventh Street to Fourth Street and back again. The taxi driver had an appointment to pick up a passenger one block east of the Security Bank at two o'clock. When the taxi driver arrived he found no passenger there. He stated that he could only wait two or three minutes on account of the congestion of traffic and that he then drove north to one block when Mr. Kuhrtis called on, leaving the taxi driver and passenger to drive to the Farmers and Merchants Bank as quickly as possible. The taxi driver stated that he got around to the Farmers and Merchants National Bank within three or four minutes, about six minutes past three. He stated that he waited for Mr. Kuhrtis while Mr. Kuhrtis went into the Farmers and Merchants Bank and that when Mr. Kuhrtis came out to the taxi driver, he was in the street at the corner of Seventh and Spring streets, having had three or four minutes waiting time there.

It is obvious to any person who heard the testimony at the hearing, or who reads the transcript that if the time is fixed by the most correct and accurate testimony that Mr. Kuhrtis entered the safe deposit box after he had made the deposit, and that the money with which the deposit was made came from some place other than the safe deposit box!

Dr. Toner recommended Jack Kuhrtis to Kuhrtis that Mr. Sullivan, according to the testimony produced before the committee, Mr. Frank R. Hart, a Los Angeles real estate dealer negotiating with the State for the sale of the Newhall property, testified that Dr. Toner had telephoned to ask him at the office. Hart stated that if he would be interested in knowing of one who was a friend of the committee and who would be a good man to handle the property. Dr. Toner then named Jack Kuhrtis.

Likewise Mr. Hart testified to a conversation with Dr. David C. Hutchens as to a group consisting of Mr. Hart, Mr. Hart's brother and Mr. Gorman, that Dr. Toner when accompanying Mr. Hutchens to view the Dunn ranch (part of the Newhall property) had suggested to him (Mr. Hutchens) that he (Dr. Toner) could be of use in throwing his influence in the purchase of the Dunn property and asked how much there would be in it for him (Dr. Toner).

Dr. Toner denied that he had suggested to Mr. Hart that Mr. Kuhrtis be brought into the transaction on the Newhall property, but admitted that he had written on a piece of paper Jack Kuhrtis' name and recommended Kuhrtis to Mr. Hart. Mr. Hutchens testified that Dr. Toner was not in being a Mr. Gorman of San Francisco into the Dunn ranch deal, but Mr. Hutchens did not say that Dr. Toner had suggested that any portion of the commission should go to him (Dr. Toner).

Within a few weeks after the sale to the State had been consummated there was executed an agreement for the sale to Mr. Rolland A. Vandegrift, Director of Finance, for the sum of $15,500 of certain parcels of property in close proximity to the State property. One of these parcels purchased by Mr. Vandegrift is a strip of about 20 feet in width immediately adjoining the State property on the east. This 20-foot strip runs from the road back or south toward the house. On the east end of this strip adjoining the road is one of the largest and best flowing irrigation wells on the entire Lewis ranch. The other piece of property purchased by Mr. Vandegrift consists of approximately 170 acres, of which 130 acres are old land of the palace and 40 acres are bottom land embracing some of the very best soil on the Lewis ranch and furthermore removed from the alkali sootings. This 40-acre tract is but a short distance from the State property, separated from it by only two other 40-acre parcels. Of the 40 acres of alluvial land included in the Vandegrift purchase, 20 acres are set out to citrus and walnut orchards. The orchard on the Vandegrift property is reported to be of better size and more vigorous growth than the walnut orchard which constitutes a portion of the land purchased by the State. There is a pipe line leading from the well on the 20-foot strip to the Vandegrift orchard. On the 40-acre tract is a residence of seven or eight rooms.

The exact value of the well and the improvements on the Vandegrift property is not in evidence, but if the well on the 20-foot strip and the buildings on the 40-acre tract are worth $5,000 for the well and $10,500 for the buildings, Mr. Vandegrift obtained a 40-acre farm with 30 acres in orchard for nothing. It was testified that the well might be worth possibly $4,000. Mr. Vandegrift did not give an appraisal or estimate of the value of the buildings. If the land and orchard independent of the well and buildings were appraised at anything approaching the value set by Senator Dayal on poster land acquired by the State. Mr. Vandegrift obtained by his purchase land greatly in excess of the price of $15,500. The parties who had formerly owned the Vandegrift property and lost it on foreclosure testified that the bank agreed to sell it to them for $40,000. Mr. Skaggs testified that the bank had not, previous to the Vandegrift purchase, received any offer in excess of $12,000. If $12,000 was a fair price for the property sold to Mr. Vandegrift it either discounts the appraisal of Senator Dayal, who fixed the present worth of the walnut orchard on poster land at $800 to $1,000 an acre, or it shows that the bank did exceptionally well in its deal with the State.

However, even if the Vandegrift property has no present value for agricultural purposes in excess of the purchase price of $15,500, it has a potential value, by reason of the State's purchase, that should enable its owner to make a very attractive profit. The Vandegrift property may be called the gateway to the State hospital. It is on a direct road to Camarillo two miles distant, the nearest railway point. It is situated at a fork of the roads in such a way that auto-traffic flows down in passing the corner. It is the strategic place for a filling station, stores, post office and community development. With the hospital housing its ultimate capacity of 6000 patients, together with the physicians, staff, attendants and employees, there would be a demand for a hotel, stores and a small business community adjoining the hospital grounds. The ground likely to be the location for this business development is the Vandegrift property.

Just when Mr. Vandegrift conceived the idea of buying this property is a matter of conflicting testimony. Mr. Vandegrift states that he had no thought of purchasing the property until after the deal to the State had been entirely completed. On the other hand Dr. Toner testified that Mr. Vandegrift at one of the committee meetings stated that he would like to have a piece of the Lewis ranch for himself.

On a former occasion Mr. Vandegrift availed himself of the opportunity to purchase property but a few miles from this hospital site, when by reason of the expenditure of State funds it seemed that the property would enhance in value. Some years before, Mr. Vandegrift was employed by a group of citizens in the region about Oxnard to investigate a possible development of a port at Hanenue. Mr. Vandegrift after his survey reported in favor of the project and recommended an appropriation by the Legislature for the harbor. After the appropriation had been passed both houses and was signed by the Governor, Mr. Vandegrift purchased a piece of property between Oxnard and Hanenue. The prospective profit, however, did not materialize as the Supreme Court decided the appropriation bill unconstitutional.

Whatever may have been Mr. Vandegrift's motives and when the thought first came to his mind of buying property adjoining the State hospital site, these are matters known only to Mr. Vandegrift.

However, his purchase of this property adjoining the State hospital site reveals a degree of indiscretion, and an ignorance or defiance of the rules of conduct which should actuate a public official, unbelievable in one who holds the high position of the State Director of Finance of the State of California. He was one of the State's chosen representatives, entrusted with the expenditure of a vast amount of money and charged with the selection of a site where for small fees the State's unfortunate and helpless were to be housed. The site was subject to criticism. It had been rejected by Governor Young's commission. There were all the drawbacks of spotted soil, alkali water, severe winds, torrential wastes, questionable sewerage disposal, and uncertainty of permanent water supply. The State of California was entitled to expect in its representative complete freedom from any personal gain and private advantage. The situation in which Mr. Vandegrift has placed himself is that the suspicion can never be laid down, nor brushed up, that in the back of his mind was the prospective profit from the converting of his farm into business property by reason of its proximity to the hospital. The State was entitled to have a free and untrammelled and uninfluenced judgment, especially on a proposition of this magnitude and need. It was entitled to have the judgment of one who by no possibility could have his verdict determined by any future gain for himself. It is not possible for any person, no matter how conscientious he thinks he may be, to be impartial and entirely uninfluenced when there is a prospective personal profit and advantage in sight.

Whatever may have been the motive of his own intentions, the Director of Finance has violated the rules of conduct and the considerations of public policy which long experience and human frailty have made necessary in the actions and guidance of public officials.

As for the mysterious $10,000 withdrawn from his bank account by Mr. Kuhrts, we believe that no one who observed this witness on the stand, or heard his continual evasions, can help believing that he was deliberately and intentionally trying to cover up the disbursement of this money and to conceal from the committee and the public the identity of the account or recipients. The attorneys and parties to the negotiation between him and his employers testified that the reason he assigned for not being able to pay Mr. A. E. Vanden 50 per cent of the commission as originally agreed, instead of the 14 per cent actually paid, was that he had "to cut the commission with someone." The other explanation of the statement that he was trying to conceal the $10,000 from his wife is simply the fact that he employed his wife's attorney to advise him in connection with his disbursements before the Investigating Committee.

The exact relations between Dr. Tamm and Mr. Knapp were never satisfactorily explained.

Upon the part of chief executives it may have been a matter of management. Since on the Federal government itself, there is the opportunity to dignify public service, to rebuild confidence in public officials is harder except for those in positions of public trust. The executive fails not only of his responsibility, but his responsibility, if he does not leave public respect for government a little higher and a little stronger when he retires from office than when he takes office. It is not sufficient that his own conduct or that of his appointees should be such as to avoid criticism at the day. In this day of "crackdown" on public business it is doubly essential that government be free from such reputation. In the midst of such criticism when men in the business world find it harder than ever before to work, that business officials if they find they are barred from or avoid responsibility because their connections are able to avail themselves of the prestige or influence of friends in public office.

It is refreshing to see such limitations on the use of the savings Fund, by order that he should not be suspected of getting there by virtue of his father's influence, giving up his business and coming to the far West to attract out from him "his own."

This ideal can not be fulfilled if those who are charged with a public trust are indifferent to the righteousness of their action. This ideal can not be fulfilled if the relations of a public official are unscrupulous, or even the mere pretenses of an official whose conduct was the subject of this investigation. These men can not be trusted if the Chief Executive places the credit of his government upon those policies of interference, or upon those whose activities and responsibilities are unscrupulous.

The subject of State funds, the placing of themselves, and miscellaneous matters are not covered in this report due to a lack of time not to cover these matters, but on which a supplemental report will be filed as early as possible.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMUNICATION

On request of Senate Inman, the following communication was ordered printed in the Journal:

Hon. U. S. Welch, Attorney General, Sacramento, California.

March 23, 1933.

DEAR SIR: The Senate Committee known as the Senate Investigating Committee, the chairman of which was Senator Inman, in investigating the office of the Director of Finance found the following facts:

On or about August 1, 1932, the State of California owned $2,700,000 par value of veterans welfare bonds. The director sold the bonds through the local firm of Donnellan & Company. It was found the market rate was given by the Director of Finance agreed with Donnellan & Company that if they would purchase the veterans welfare bonds they take a loss of about $100,000, then, in consideration of that, the Director of Finance would buy other bonds from Donnellan & Company in such quantities that Donnellan & Company could recoup their loss of $100,000 and make a profit business. The bonds to be purchased from Donnellan & Company by the Director of Finance were to be purchased not at their market price but at a price given the market. In other words, the bonds purchased could have been bought upon the market at a lower price than the Director of Finance paid for the same he purchased. This agreement has been admitted by the Director of Finance and by Donnellan & Company.

Did the Director of Finance in carrying out such an agreement violate the provisions of any statute and if so, to what extent is he liable?

I would thank you for an opinion upon this question at a very early date.

Very truly yours,

SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.
By J. M. INMAN, Chairman.

CONSIDERATION OF SPECIAL ORDER

The hour having arrived for the consideration of Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30, heretofore set as a special order for eleven o'clock a.m., the same was taken up for consideration.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 30.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to the Constitution of the State by adding a new section to be numbered 34a to Article IV, by amending section 12 of Article XI by adding a new section to be numbered 20 to Article XI, by amending sections 14, 15 and 16, and by repealing sections 12 $\frac{1}{2}$  and 18 of Article XIII, relating to taxation.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California, at its fiftieth regular session, commencing on the second day of January, 1933, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses thereof voting in favor hereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that the Constitution of said State be amended as follows:

First—That a new section to be numbered 34a, be added to Article IV, to read as follows:

Sec. 34a. Appropriations from the general fund of the State for any biennium, exclusive of appropriations for the support of the public school system, shall not exceed by more than five per centum the appropriations from such fund, exclusive of such public school appropriations, for the preceding biennium unless two-thirds of all the members elected to each house of the Legislature vote in favor thereof, provided, that no amount appropriated in excess of such five per centum shall become a part of the base for determining the maximum appropriation for a succeeding biennium. Should the appropriations in the budget not for any biennium exceed the limitations herein prescribed, and such budget not be not passed by such two-thirds vote, the several items of appropriation therein shall be deemed reduced by that percentage which the excess amount of appropriation bears to the total appropriation. Should the prescribed limit for any biennium be exceeded by reason of any other appropriation or appropriations from the general fund, then the appropriation first passed by the Legislature without such two-thirds vote, and later approved by the Governor, which exceeds such prescribed limitation shall be deemed reduced by the amount of such excess, and all other subsequent appropriations from the general fund not passed by such two-thirds vote shall be void. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Governor from vetoing any bills or reducing any appropriation therein or any appropriation reduced as herein provided.

Not more than fifty per cent of the total appropriations from the general fund of the State shall be raised by means of taxes on real and personal property.

Second—That section 12 of Article XI be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution the Legislature shall have no power to impose taxes upon counties, cities, towns or other public or municipal corporations, or upon the inhabitants or property thereof, for county, city, town, or other municipal purposes, but may, by general laws, vest in the corporate authorities thereof the power to assess and collect taxes for such purposes.

All property subject to taxation shall be assessed for taxation at its full cash value.

Third—That a new section, to be numbered 20, be added to Article XI, to read as follows:

Sec. 20. The expenditures of any county, city and county, municipality, district or other political subdivision of this State, whether or not operating under franchise charters, shall not in any year exceed by more than five per centum the expenditures of such county, city and county, municipality, district or other political subdivision for the preceding year unless previously authorized by two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose or unless previously authorized by the State Board of Equalization in such manner as may be provided by law, provided that no amount expended in excess of such five per centum shall become a part of the base for determining the maximum expenditure for a succeeding year. The Legislature may further restrict such expenditures, provided, however, that the limitation upon expenditures imposed or authorized by this section shall not apply to expenditures by or on behalf of publicly owned public utilities, irrigation districts, reclamation districts, municipal utility districts or metropolitan water districts organized or existing under the laws of this State.

From the total amount required to meet all expenditures provided for in any county or city and county budget there shall first be deducted (a) such amount as is therein estimated to be derived from all county or city and county sources other than taxes upon real and personal property, and (b) such amount as is estimated to be derived from all other sources except apportionments pursuant to section 15 of Article XIII of this Constitution, and of the balance remaining after such deductions not over fifty per centum thereof shall be derived from taxes upon real and personal property.

The Legislature shall provide that all taxes on property for the support of counties, cities and counties, municipalities, districts or other political subdivisions or agencies, other than irrigation districts, reclamation districts and metropolitan water districts, shall be assessed and collected only by the officers charged with the assessment and collection of taxes for county or city and county purposes.

The Legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

The Legislature, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, may by law change the rate or rates of taxes herein imposed upon insurance companies.

The word "companies" as used in this section shall include persons, partnerships, joint stock associations, companies and corporations.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to subject to assessment and taxation property which is exempt from taxation under other provisions of this Constitution.

Fifth—That section 15 of Article XIII be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. Taxes on gross receipts, except receipts as may be exempted by vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house of the Legislature, and except receipts of any county, city and county, municipality, irrigation district, or other district, public corporation or political subdivision, of this State, shall be assessed by the State Board of Equalization and collected as provided by law from persons, corporations, joint stock associations, or companies, in such cases and amounts, and in such manner, as shall be prescribed by law; provided, that such gross receipts tax shall be at a uniform rate on all gross receipts and transactions taxed hereunder.

All revenues derived from taxes on gross receipts levied in pursuance of this section shall be first applied to meet the expenditures of this State not otherwise provided for, and the balance shall be apportioned to the counties and cities and counties, to be applied, in such manner as may be provided by law, toward meeting expenditures for which provision is made in their budgets; provided, however, that each county or city and county shall receive an amount equal to the amount of taxes levied by such county or city and county upon real and personal property.

The Legislature shall define "gross receipts" and may define the same so as to include any value received, tangible or intangible, upon any transaction; and the Legislature may define the term "transaction."

The Legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

Sixth—That section 16 of Article XIII be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 16. 1. (a) Banks, including national banking associations, located within the limits of this State, shall annually pay to the State a tax according to or measured by their net income, which shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses. State, county and municipal, upon such banks, or the shares thereof, except taxes upon their real property, at the rate to be provided by law.

(b) The Legislature may provide by law for any other form of taxation now or hereafter permitted by the Congress of the United States respecting national banking associations; provided, that such form of taxation shall apply to all banks located within the limits of this State.

2. (a) The Legislature may provide by law for the taxation of corporations, their franchises, or any other franchises, by any method not prohibited by this Constitution or the Constitution or laws of the United States.

3. All taxes imposed pursuant to this section shall be assessed by the State Board of Equalization.

4. Any tax imposed pursuant to this section must be under an act passed by not less than two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature.

Seventh—That sections 12 and 18 of Article XIII be repealed.

Eighth—That all laws now in effect under which taxes are levied or imposed shall be continued in effect until altered or repealed by the Legislature; provided, however, that immediately upon adoption of the foregoing constitutional amendments it shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of said amendments and to repeal or amend all laws inconsistent therewith.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following copies of communications and appointments made by the Governor, offered by Senator Sharkey, were received, read and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 20, 1933.

On the invitation of the Secretary of the Interior Ickes, I invited and held a conference in the Governor's office with Senators Sharkey, Waggy, Duval, King and Stow.

Mr. W. H. Cooley is chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact, Bakersfield.

The committee of which he is chairman, consists of five members, one each appointed by the Governors of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, and California.

William H. Cooley has been the representative of California on oil matters before Federal oil conservation boards in Washington, and has worked for two years on this Interstate Compact. The committee of which he is chairman has drafted a bill on oil conservation which is now before Congress.

I have invited Mr. Ralph B. Lloyd, president of the Independent Oil Producers Agencies of Los Angeles, to be an associate member of the committee appointed by the Governor to attend the conference, and he accepts and goes at his own expense. He has asked that Mr. George Farrand accompany him as his counsellor at no expense to the State and to which I have willingly assented.

I understand that other Californians will be present at the conference, but the Governor appoints as his representatives: Mr. W. H. Cooley of Bakersfield, Mr. Ralph B. Lloyd of Los Angeles, with his counsellor, George Farrand, and Mr. William M. Keek of Los Angeles. I refer to telegrams to me from the Independent Petroleum Association by Will J. Reid, president.

The Governor regrets his inability to go, but Mr. Cooley and Mr. Lloyd and Mr. Keek understand the oil situation so thoroughly that they can discuss the oil problem to greater advantage for the interests of the State.

The conference takes place in the office of the Secretary of the Interior, Monday afternoon, two o'clock, March 27, 1933. The Legislature of California being in session, the problems of relief and rehabilitation in the area afflicted in southern California, plus the problems of unemployment throughout the State, requires the presence of the Governor being here in California at this time.

ICKES, Secretary Interior.

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 17, 1933.

Would appreciate having names of representatives your State who will attend oil conference to be held here March 27th.

COMMUNICATION—OUT OF ORDER.

Senator Ingels asked for, and was granted, permission to have the Secretary read a message to him from the Governor, out of order.

Letter ordered printed in the Journal.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, Sunday, March 26, 1933.

Hon. R. E. Ingels, State Senator.

State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR SENATOR INGELS: I received your esteemed letter March 23, 1933. Your honored body adjourned March 24, 1933, over the week end. I make reply to your inquiry to reach you on your return tomorrow.

As you have indicated, I am cognizant of the provisions of section 928 of the Penal Code, which provides that the grand jury first impaneled in even numbered years has the duty to investigate and report upon the need of all county offices in the county, including increases and decreases of salaries together with the number of deputies to be allowed the several offices.

Last session I followed the policy of approving county government bills only when the changes were approved by the board of supervisors of the county affected. This session I shall follow, whenever possible, the same policy.

My reason for requiring the approval of the board of supervisors on county government bills arises from the fact that the board of supervisors is composed of elected officers responsible directly to the taxpayers of the county, and is the group in the county best acquainted with the county's local problems. This, however, does not mean that the report of the grand jury first impaneled in even numbered years has the duty to investigate and report upon the need of all county offices in the county, including increases and decreases of salaries together with the number of deputies to be allowed the several offices.

It is my belief that the members of the board of supervisors of a county, before approval of a county government bill, would take into consideration all the recommendations made by the grand jury and apply to such recommendations their own knowledge arising from their more intimate experience with county affairs.

I, therefore, feel that I can best serve the taxpayers of the State by following the recommendations made by the board of supervisors.

With kindest regards and every good wish,

Very sincerely yours,

JAMES ROLPH, Jr., Governor of California.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 18.

Relative to memorializing the Congress of the United States to adopt legislation protecting and fostering the rubber industry of the United States.

WHEREAS, One of the greatest needs of this Nation is immediate relief of unemployment, both agricultural and industrial, and normally functioning private industry offers the most desirable employment opportunities; and

WHEREAS, It has been fully demonstrated and proven that a large portion of the rubber consumed in the United States could and would be produced in the United States if the industry was properly assisted and protected; and

WHEREAS, The production of rubber used in the United States would necessitate the use of thousands of acres of land now producing competitive crops that are actually not bringing the producers the cost of production but are serving to produce an overproduction of various crops thereby lessening the profits to all concerned; and

WHEREAS, The milling of the rubber would require the construction of many mills, thereby giving the different industries involved in producing materials for such factory construction, employment and the actual operation of said mills would give employment to large numbers of industrial workers; and

WHEREAS, The Government of the United States is being deprived of vast customs revenue which are so vitally needed at this time; and

WHEREAS, There are several thousands of acres of Guayule rubber in the Salinas and Santa Maria valleys, which is ready to be harvested and made into rubber but which is not being harvested due to the present price of rubber; and

WHEREAS, The immediate need is a clause in government supply bills requiring the purchase of rubber grown in the United States, in the same manner that other American products are included; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California, jointly. That the Legislature of the State of California respectfully urges and memorializes the Congress of the United States, and is specially named, to enact legislation imposing a tariff on rubber and to include in the government supply bill a recommendation that rubber purchased be grown in the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of California request the honorable Senators and Representatives of the Congress of the United States to use every honorable means to secure the payment of such loan money; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor is respectfully requested to transmit off true and true copies to the President of the United States and to the Senators and Representatives of the State of California in Congress, and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor is respectfully requested to send copies of this resolution to the Governors of all the States of the United States, requesting that the Legislature of all the States pass and present similar resolutions to Congress.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS.

Assembly Bill No. 1518—An act to amend section 5 of an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof" which became a law under constitutional provision without the Governor's approval (February 25, 1901), relating to the issuance of municipal improvement bonds.

URGENCY CLAUSE.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such urgency are as follows: Certain municipalities in this State have heretofore authorized the issuance of bonds for the purpose of providing pure water for the use of such cities and their inhabitants. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds will be devoted to necessary construction which will afford immediate relief to many persons in this State now unemployed and who are without funds to support themselves and are likely to become a charge upon this State and the public authorities thereof. The issuance and sale of all of such bonds at this time would render an increased burden upon the taxpayers but said bonds may be issued in series or divisions from time to time as funds are needed, and if this act is made effective immediately, such bonds can and will be so issued in such series as to make possible such construction, provide employment and furnish pure water to municipalities.

The following petitions, offered by Senator Crittenden, were received and read:

Senator B. S. Crittenden, Bank of America Building, Stockton, California.

HONORABLE SIR: At the present session of the California Legislature, the following bills have been introduced dealing with the question of regulation and taxation of motor trucks using public highways within this State:

Senate Bills Nos. 119 and 120. These bills provide the length of time live stock can be kept loaded in trucks without the necessity of unloading for feed, water, and rest. Forging men are interested in having measures of this nature to make further conquest in their field.

Senate Bill No. 125. This is a two bill having to do with what is branded and prepared by the State Board of Equalization. This bill places more on weight on a ton mileage basis, which is the weight placed on the motor vehicle in taxation.

Senate Bill No. 126 provides for the regulation in the Railroad Commission of motor trucks operated for profit, and in the matter of measures transportation that has been conducted relative to the collection of revenue transportation is doing business within the State. In the matter then but in the tax and revenue and protection of the people.

Senate Bill No. 126 provides for the Public Utility Act, in which measures affecting the regulation of "freight haulage" and for the further regulation of vessels engaged in the transportation of persons or property between points within the State. The purpose of the law is to secure the complete regulation of our transportation system and not to regulate the "and company" but as a measure are responsible for the present motor vehicles.

Senate Bill No. 126. A bill relating to the Public Utility Commission, relative to entry liberty institution, regarding efforts to stop at such measures, regarding transportation of passengers, and providing a 50-hour run for each person. Statistics reveal the necessity of legislation of this nature to protect the traveling public.

Senate Bill No. 127. This bill relates to the maximum length, weight and gross weight of motor vehicles, along with public regulation and law for the purpose of elimination of the excessive weight for the construction and maintenance of more expensive highways for the benefit of a low operating of highway vehicles.

These bills are in the interest of the people of the State of California and of enacted into laws will eliminate many of the motor vehicle weight bearing on the highway transportation system. I sincerely hope that you will have your earnest consideration and support.

Very truly yours

DANIEL W. HENOW

I wish to certify that the above letter is copy of letter before which I have received, signed by approximately 1200 citizens of San Joaquin County, State of California.

BRADFORD S. CRITTENDEN

Also:

We, your constituents, residents of Stockton and San Joaquin County, California, vigorously protest the enactment of the new legislation that you said to further industrial class by additional taxation or regulation and in the final position where injure our business and make it harder than it is today, we vote a protest. We urge you to give your support to the legislation which has for its purpose the elimination or curtailment of the motor truck industry already collecting $27,000,000 in taxes annually to the State and giving severe punishment to 100,000 Californians.

We believe that the public is entitled to the benefit of the most economical and efficient means of transportation by the transportation of transportation which may be suited to each purpose, and that no legislation should be enacted which has for its purpose the stifling of any legitimate form of transportation.

We believe that the public's right in the selection of the agency of transportation, which it wants and which it feels most need must be protected and that no legislation should be enacted which has for its purpose the stifling of public owned and built highways.

We believe that no legislation should be enacted which will immobilize the employment of over 300,000 men now directly employed in the motor truck industry.

We believe that no legislation should be enacted which will increase governmental expenses to police this industry for the benefit of other forms of transportation.

We believe that there should be no changes in the present laws and regulations as set forth in the Motor Vehicle Code.

We further believe that any taxation or regulation of motor vehicles which has for its purpose any increase in costs to "consumer companies" will result in an increase in the costs of production and distribution of our food and farm products.

We therefore petition you to vote "No" on any new legislation which has for its purpose the elimination or curtailment of motor truck transportation.

I wish to certify that the above petition is a copy of various petitions which I have received, signed by approximately 1200 citizens of San Joaquin County, State of California.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate:

Assembly Bill No. 310 establishes a Fish and Game Code and consolidates and revises the law relating to the subject of fish and game.

In my opinion Assembly Bill No. 310 constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution, consideration of which should not await final enactment of the budget bill, in view of the confusion and expense which may be created by early consideration of this measure in the light of other legislative proposals pending assigned as other emergency charges in the Fish and Game Code, if adopted.

I, therefore, recommend the passage of this bill as an emergency measure within the meaning of that term as used in section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES ROLPH, Jr., Governor of California.

RECOMMENDATION

The following resolution was offered:

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO INTRODUCE A BILL.

The following request for permission to introduce a bill was presented:

By Senator Stow:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, March 30, 1933

MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the provisions of section 2, Article IV of the Constitution, I request permission to introduce a bill, the title of which is set forth below:

An act to limit the liability of airmen and persons liable for their conduct in flying any aircraft to any guest riding therein or thereon.

Request referred to Committee on Rules.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, March 29, 1933.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the State of California.

It gives me special pleasure to officially advise you that the Governors of the States of the United States will hold their twenty-fifth annual conference in California during July of this year.

The Governor of California: His Honor C. H. S. Bidwell, mayor of the city of Sacramento; His Honor Angelo J. Rossi, mayor of the city of San Francisco, and His Honor John C. Porter, mayor of the city of Los Angeles, extended a formal invitation to the members of the twenty-fourth conference of Governors in Richmond, Virginia, April 25, 1932, in the following words:

"It is the honor and pleasure of the people of the State of California to invite you to hold your twenty-fifth annual conference in our Golden State.

"Since the beginning of your organization, it has never held a meeting on the Pacific Coast. We feel a visit to California will greatly strengthen the bonds of friendship between the East and the West, besides affording you an opportunity of enjoying a very happy and unusual vacation.

"It is the earnest wish of the People of California that you honor us by accepting this invitation, and permit us to show you the genuine warmth of welcome that typifies the Spirit of the West.

"With our compliments and best wishes, the undersigned subscribe themselves.

JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
Governor of the State of California.
C. H. S. BIDWELL,
Mayor of the city of Sacramento.
ANGELO J. ROSSI,
Mayor of the city of San Francisco.
JOHN C. PORTER,
Mayor of the city of Los Angeles."

This invitation was unanimously accepted. Accompanying this invitation was a neatly designed brochure, and the charms of California, and particularly the three cities of Sacramento, San Francisco, and Los Angeles were beautifully portrayed in true but tempting phrases:

"SACRAMENTO . . . Cradled as a drowsy trading post . . . reared as a child of the mines, and fed on all the exhilarants of the gold-spangled days of the Argonauts . . . this entrancing capital city of California is like a dashing western beauty with the eyes of exotic ancestry.

Sutter's Fort, goal of a hundred thousand courageous men in the dramatic gold rush days of '49 . . . Gorgeous capital park, with trees and shrubbery from every continent and every clime . . . The State Capitol Building with its magnificent white dome, illuminated like a jewel at night.

Near by you will find Coloma, where James Marshall found the nugget of gold that started the westward trek of civilization . . . oranges, lemons and snow plants . . . Lake Tahoe, a gem of robin's egg blue nestled a mile above the sea, and many other Alpine lakes . . . Placerville, the "Hangtown" of '49 . . . Grass Valley, with the deepest gold mines in America . . . Bret Harte's country, with its captivating 'ghost towns' of Rough and Ready, Red Dog and Yon Bet.

Sacramento, greatest inland city of California . . . Here the Pony Express trail ended, and envisioned pioneers met the challenge of transportation by starting the first transcontinental railroad.

In Sacramento's residents you will find an infiltration of high ideals, of courage, faith and hospitality . . . That is the legacy of their pioneer ancestry."

July might probably be accepted as the President of the United States was the former Governor of New York and takes a deep interest in the annual conference of Governors and attended last year and has invited the Governors again this year to visit with him.

I present my compliments to each member of the Senate and respectfully suggest that we are honored in the privilege of doing honor to the Governors of the States of the United States. It will be a great event in California, and the Army and Navy will join with the Legislature, public officials, and citizens of our State with the chosen representatives of the peoples of all the States of the Union, and at this conference public questions of paramount interest to the welfare of the people of the United States will be discussed by the leaders of the States of the Union. It will be a great occasion if the President of the United States comes to California and the Governor feels confident he will do everything possible to attend.

I present my compliments to you and it is hardly necessary for me to add that I ask that you will join with me unanimously in making this event of outstanding importance in the history of California.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication, offered by Senator Williams, was ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24, 1933.

Senator Dan F. Williams, Chairman, Senate Subcommittee on Unemployment,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR SENATOR WILLIAMS: We understand that your subcommittee has included in its recommendations for the State Emergency Relief program the appropriation of certain sums from the available balances of the self-supporting agencies under the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

We further understand that the program which the committee has recommended contemplates appropriation of a portion of the available balance in the fiscal fund of the Bureau of Contractors' Registration.

In view of present emergency conditions, I believe we can state that the contractors of California desire to be helped in this situation and therefore, on behalf of the Associated General Contractors of America, may I state that the appropriation from the contractors' license fund of the sum of $1,000,000 recommended for this purpose, and in accordance with the recommended program of your subcommittee, has our complete approval and endorsement.

We understand that the estimated surplus in this fund will in late 1933 approximate the sum of $175,000. With this available surplus pending legislation proposed a reduction in the registration fee effective with the beginning of the next fiscal year. However, by reason of appropriating a portion of this surplus to unemployment relief, it may be advisable to provide for the continuation of the same registration fee through the next fiscal year, at least, in order that the functions of the department may not be seriously handicapped.

Yours very truly,

FLOYD O. BOOE, Secretary Manager

REPORT OF THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

The following second partial report of the Investigating Committee was received and read:

SECOND PARTIAL REPORT OF SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE TO THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

The Investigating Committee has, upon mature consideration and with the advice and cooperation of certain State agencies, including the Attorney General, the State Controller and the State Compensation Insurance Fund, concluded to present to the Legislature a plan for the purchase of the State Annex Building in San Francisco.

The proposal herein recommended is that the State buy the building for the sum of $318,600 instead of the sum of $350,000 contained in the present option held by the State, and the sum of $2,800 a month rent for the period that the State shall have occupied the building up to the time of consummation of this proposal, instead of the sum of $5,068.04 a month rent as contained in the present lease. This constitutes a saving of $231,400 in capital outlay and $2,200 a month rental for the period of the State's occupancy of the building prior to the consummation of this proposal.

The committee feels that this building could be erected for a lesser sum than herein recommended. Nevertheless taking into consideration legal complications, rental commitments heretofore made by the State, and the possibility of an ultimate legal liability vastly greater than that recommended herein, the committee has decided to recommend the acceptance of the offer contained in the attached communication from Realty Income, Inc., the owners of the building.

In the event that the action pending in the Supreme Court should be decided adversely to the State, the State would have a lease on its hands calling for a payment of rentals, over a period of 25 years, practically double that herein recommended. Although by refusal of legislative action, this suggestion could be postponed indefinitely, yet it would be inevitable and add to the tax drain on property and refuse to pay anything for such use. This Legislature can only recommend to and can not control succeeding Legislatures. Such future Legislatures being uninformed as to the facts, as this Legislature is informed, might be inclined to make the necessary appropriations to pay the rentals possible in such cases.

The above recommendation is in line with the committee's previous recommendation that the amount herein recommended is slightly in excess of the sum already mentioned. We feel that, in view of all the circumstances, the State, in passing this proposition is escaping in satisfactory manner and at a great saving to itself a legal entanglement which might prove crippling in amount in years to come.

Attached hereto, in addition to the letter first herein mentioned are recommendations from the following:

Attorney General

State Controller

State Compensation Insurance Fund

Reimbursement of comparative costs under present lease and rentals.

The committee has agreed to be prepared the necessary legislative action and effect the foregoing recommendations.

Respectfully submitted,

SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
By J. M. INMAN, Chairman

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, March 31, 1933.

Senate Investigating Committee, State Capitol Building, Sacramento, California.
Attention: Hon. J. M. Inman, Chairman.

GENTLEMEN: Confirming our conversation with regard to the State Agent Building, this city, we have determined to follow your suggestion and we hereby offer to compromise and settle the controversy between the State and this corporation, concerning said building and the lease thereon, on the following terms:

(1) That there be paid to us (corporation or agent) for rent building for the period of 13 months, commencing April 1, 1932 (when the State entered into occupancy thereof), and ending April 30, 1933, the sum of $30,000, being (until April 30, 1933, at the rate of $2,800 per month).

(2) That we sell said building and the real property on which the same is located to the State for the sum of $318,000 in cash, making the total amount to be received April 1, 1933, rent, the sum of $350,000.

(3) We understand that if the above offer is acceptable to the Senate investigating legislation will be immediately passed by the Legislature, authorizing the purchase of the building on the above terms, and that we have agreed to pay the balance of the month of April, 1933. Consequently, this offer is made with the understanding that, if accepted, but if payment of the purchase price must be deferred beyond April, 1933, that the State will continue to pay us rent as per attached lease for the month or months which may elapse until the purchase is completed.

(4) It must be understood, of course, that this offer is made solely for the purpose of accomplishing a settlement of all controversies between the parties in pending mandamus proceeding before the Supreme Court, and that such claim will be taken thereon as may be approved by the Attorney General, or their legal advisors connected therewith of any charge of fraud.

Yours very truly,

REALTY INCOME INC.

By HARDY H. ALANIS, Secretary.

P. S. We are enclosing herewith certified copy of resolution of the Board of directors of the above company, voting in the writer's (att) authority to make the above proposal.

April 1, 1933

Senate Investigating Committee, care of Senator Inman,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Re: H. S. Burke Building.

GENTLEMEN: During the past eight months I have been defending an action by the Supreme Court of the State arising from a refusal to pay rent for the occupancy of the H. S. Burke Building in San Francisco for various State departments under a lease by the State calling for a payment of $5,038.04 monthly during a period of 25 years.

The Supreme Court overruled our defense which was based upon legal objections, and validated the lease. Amended pleadings secured a returning and testimony presented to a referee of the court pursuant to the amended answer was developed certain facts that convince me that, taking into consideration all matters in connection with this transaction, the State should take title to the property.

Your committee has been furnished a statement by the Attorney General who is defending me in this action detailing the actual investment of money by Walter T. Varney in this transaction totaling the sum of $355,000, allowing no return upon the said investment during the State's occupancy of the building and eliminating all other interests that may have stock in the Realty Income, Inc., the present owners of the building.

I therefore respectfully submit for your favorable consideration that the Industrial Accident Commission which occupies a large part of the space in the building be authorized to purchase the same for the sum of $318,600, title to be delivered to the State not later than May 1, 1933.

Further, that a monthly rental of $2,800 be tendered the Realty Income, Inc., for the period of the State's occupancy until May 1, 1933.

I am submitting a detailed statement to your committee indicating the effect of the compromise proposal if adopted.

You will note that the cost per square foot under the present lease is $0.1177 monthly. After allowing a straight line depreciation and 5 per cent return upon invested funds, the monthly cost per square foot will be reduced to $0.03228.

Again I recommend that the above proposition be accepted by your committee and the necessary steps be taken to accomplish that purpose.

Hon. Ray L. Riley, State Controller, State Capitol,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. RILEY: I have been informed that the Realty Income Corporation, Inc., has accepted the offer of compromise which was under discussion in your office last week with the members of the Senate Investigating Committee.

If I recall correctly, the purchase price of the building agreeable to the members of that committee was $355,000. The manner of payment of this sum to be an appropriation in an amount representing the difference between the sum of $355,000 and the rentals stipulated to be due and owing for the use and occupation which the State has had of the building in question, such rentals to be paid immediately by you under the terms of the stipulation; the amount of the appropriation to be paid on the effective date of the act making the appropriation.

We have not as yet, of course, finished the taking of testimony in the case of Vandegrift against Reed, and are not therefore in a position to take any further testimony will eventually establish. Should this case be continued to judgment, it is of course not now possible to indicate upon what evidence it will be. Assuming that the contract involved in that case should be upheld, the advantage to the State of the settlement of the offer by the purchase of the property at the State's instance is apparent. On the other hand, if the contract be found void the State's obligation to pay the reasonable price for the use and occupation of the property remains.

It will be necessary, of course, if the purchase should be recognized, that covenants will be taken as will relieve the State from such and all obligations under contract now involved in the suit.

Very truly yours,

U. S. WEBB, Attorney General

By RALPH MARSH, Deputy Attorney General
